Eiseley, 2003-01 In an unusual blend of scientific knowledge and imaginative vision Loren Eiseley tells the story of man Anthropologist and naturalist Dr Eiseley reveals life's endless mysteries in his own experiences departing from their immediacy into meditations on the long past wandering intimate with nature along the paths and byways of time and then returning to the present Book jacket

The Immense Journey Loren C. Eiseley, 1981 Immense Journey, The: From The Birth Of The Universe To The Rise Of Intelligence Gerald E Marsh, 2018-02-26 This book is an attempt to trace the majestic immense journey from the coming into being of the universe to the emergence and evolution of life It is intended to complement the many excellent books that cover different aspects of this journey The contents have been classified into five parts Part I covers the coming into existence of the universe while Part II presents the beginning of life on the early Earth following which Part III discusses the emergence of consciousness and intelligence and Part IV the immense journey of the universe beyond Earth Finally Part V addresses the problems raised by the rise of higher order consciousness in human beings as captured by the phrase the human condition Toward a Dialogue of Understandings Mary Ellen Pitts, 1995 In Toward a Dialogue of Understandings Mary Ellen Pitts examines scientist Loren Eiseley's unique impact as a thinker and writer The Immense Journey [large Print]. Loren C. Christianson, 2000-10-01 Presents a biography of the naturalist and writer describing how his work stems from his loveless childhood with a mentally ill mother and traveling salesman father and his determination to succeed All the Strange Hours Loren C. Eiseley, 2000-01-01 A native of Lincoln Nebraska Loren Eiseley began his lifelong exploration of nature in the salt flats and ponds around his hometown and in the mammoth bone collection hoarded in the old red brick museum at the University of Nebraska where he conducted his studies in anthropology. It was in pursuit of this interest and in the expression of his natural curiosity and wonder that Eiseley sprang to national fame with the publication of such works as The Immense Journey and The Firmament of Time. In All the Strange Hours Eiseley turns his considerable powers of reflection and discovery on his own life to weave a compelling story related with the modesty, grace, and keen eye for a telling anecdote that distinguish his work. His story begins with his childhood experiences as a sickly afterthought weighed down by the loveless union of his parents. From there he traces the odyssey that led to his search for early postglacial man and into inspiring philosophical territory culminating in his uneasy achievement of world renown. Eiseley crafts an absorbing self-portrait of a man who has thought deeply about his place in society as well as humanity's place in the natural world.

Encyclopedia of the Environment in American Literature Geoff Hamilton, Brian Jones, 2014-01-10. This encyclopedia introduces readers to American poetry, fiction, and nonfiction with a focus on the environment broadly defined as humanity's natural surroundings from the discovery of America through the present. The work includes biographical and literary entries on material from early explorers and colonists such as Columbus, Bartolome de Las Casas, and Thomas Harriot; Native American creation myths; canonical 18th and 19th century works of Jefferson, Emerson, Thoreau, Whitman, Hawthorne, Twain, Dickinson, and others; to more recent figures such as Jack London, Ernest Hemingway, Norman Mailer, Stanley Cavell, Rachel Carson, Jon Krakauer, and Al Gore. It is meant to provide a synoptic appreciation of how the very concept of the environment has changed over the past five centuries, offering both a general introduction to the topic and a valuable resource for high school and university courses focused on environmental issues.

Literature and the Environment George Hart, Scott Slovic, 2004-07-30. The phrase "literature and environment" only achieved popularity in recent decades, yet writers dating back to the explorers of the 1500s and later, such as 19th century Romanticists as Thoreau, have long been addressing environmental issues through literary expression. This volume introduces students and educators to the field by tracing the evolution of environmental writing in the United States. Chapters written by distinguished scholars offer new perspectives on important environmental issues, guiding readers through 11 carefully selected literary works. Each chapter provides brief biographical information on the author, discussions of the work's structural, thematic, and stylistic components, and insights into the historical context that relates the work to relevant environmental issues. Each chapter concludes with information on works cited. The analyzed works cover a wide spectrum of literature and span nearly 100 years. Included are early writings such as Mary Austin's 1903 The Land of Little Rain and famous groundbreaking works such as Rachel Carson's Silent Spring 1962 and Gary Snyder's Turtle Island 1974. Also included are frequently assigned works of special interest to students such as The Monkey Wrench Gang 1975, The Earthsea Trilogy 1977, and Ceremony 1977. A list of selected further suggested readings completes the volume. Students of literature as well as educators looking for new ways to present social issues will find many ideas and much inspiration in this

Sideris,2017-08-15 In Consecrating Science Lisa Sideris offers a searing critique of The New Cosmology a complex network of overlapping movements that claim to bring together science and spirituality all in the name of saving our planet from impending ecological collapse Highly regarded in many academic circles these movements have been endorsed by numerous prominent scholars scientists historians and educators Their express goal popularized in numerous books films TED talks YouTube videos podcasts and even introductory courses at places like Harvard or Washington University is to instill in readers and audiences a profound sense of being at home in the universe thereby fostering environmentally responsible behavior Whether promoted as The New Story The Universe Story or The Epic of Evolution they all offer humanity a new sacred story a common creation myth for modern times and for all people the evolutionary unfolding of the universe from the Big Bang to the present Evolutionary science and religious cosmology together at last But as Sideris shows however the New Cosmology actually underwrites a staggeringly anthropocentric vision of the world Instead of cultivating an ethic of respect for nature the project of consecrating science only increases human arrogance and indifference to nonhuman life Going back to the work of Rachel Carson and other naturalists the author shows how a sense of wonder rooted in the natural world and our own ethical impulses helps foster environmental attitudes and policies that protect our planet Provided by publishe
