The Merleau-Ponty Aesthetics Reader Maurice Merleau-Ponty, Michael B. Smith, 1993 Merleau-Ponty's essays on aesthetics are some of the major accomplishments of his philosophical career and rank even today among the most sophisticated reflections on art in all of twentieth century philosophy His essays on painting Cézanne's Doubt 1945 Indirect Language and the Voices of Silence 1952 and Eye and Mind 1960 have inspired new approaches to epistemology ontology and the philosophy of history Galen A. Johnson has gathered these essays for the first time into a single volume and augmented them with essays by distinguished scholars and artists including M. C. Dillon Mikel Dufrenne and René Magritte Together the essays demonstrate the continuing significance of Merleau-Ponty's ideas about art for contemporary philosophy on both sides of the Atlantic

Morbidities and "The Concept of the New Literature" Nicolás Fernández-Medina, 2024-10-15 Ramón Gómez de la Serna 1888-1963 was one of Spain's most gifted avant-gardists Oftentimes remembered as the inventor of the greguería a type of witty and humorous epigram that recasts the commonplace and absurdities of everyday reality he was a prolific writer and published dozens of novels essays short stories articles editorials and biographies throughout his life Two of his major works the autobiography Morbidities 1908 and the manifesto The Concept of the New Literature 1909 belong to his earliest period of experimentation These two early works are of singular importance not only in understanding his development as an avant-gardist but also in analyzing Spanish literature within the broader framework of European avant-garde culture With prescient clarity they highlight many of the aesthetic notions that would revolutionize experimental literature throughout the modernist period This book offers the first complete English translation of Morbidities and The Concept of the New Literature and it introduces anglophone readers to some of Gmez de la Serna's most passionate ideas about modernity and new literature

The Uses of Style in Archaeology Margaret Wright Conkey, Christine Ann Hastorf, 1990 This book brings together essays that illustrate the different uses and interpretations of style in archaeology Style is a widely discussed and controversial issue which has always been central for archaeological interpretation The collection considers the history of style in archaeology its relationship to the concept of style in art history and how stylistic analyses will differ according to different initial assumptions The essays show how stylistic interpretation works at different levels and they debate stylistic terminologies and concepts Although these essays show that there is no unified theory of style they underline the importance of continuing creative discussion through different themes and individual case studies

A Theory of Art Stephen David Ross, 1982-01-01 The richness of art is manifested in contrast contrast with other works of art other features of human experience other times and places and other forms of judgment and understanding The possibilities of contrast are inexhaustible Every being shares this inexhaustibility of openness to novel possibilities although inexhaustibility is most fully realized in art The general theory of art and aesthetic value developed in this book is based on the notions of inexhaustibility and contrast and has important forebears in Kant Coleridge and Whitehead The theory allows art to be located relative to other spheres of judgment science action and philosophy The theory allows a new perspective on interpretation and criticism Ross presents and defines a new synthetic form of understanding works of art that offers an alternative to the skepticism that haunts so many theories of interpretation
