The Idea Of Phenomenology:

The Idea of Phenomenology Edmund Husserl, 2013-11-11 In the same lecture he characterizes the phenomenology of knowledge more specifically as the theory of the essence of the pure phenomenon of knowing see below p 36 Such a phenomenology would advance the critique of knowledge in which the problem of knowledge is clearly formulated and the possibility of knowledge rigorously secured It is important to realize however that in these lectures Husserl will not enact pursue or develop a phenomenological critique of knowledge even though he opens with a trenchant statement of the problem of knowledge that such a critique would solve Rather he seeks here only to secure the possibility of a phenomenological critique of knowledge that is he attempts to secure the possibility of the knowledge of the possibility of knowledge not the possibility of knowledge in general see below pp 37 39 Thus the work before us is not phenomenological in the straightforward sense but pre phenomenological it sets out to identify and satisfy the epistemic requirements of the phenomenological critique of knowledge not to carry out that critique itself To keep these two levels of theoretical inquiry distinct I will call the level that deals with the problem of the possibility of knowledge the critical level the level that deals with the problem of the knowledge of the possibility of knowledge the meta critical level

The Idea of Phenomenology Edmund Husserl, 2012-12-06 This translation is concluded in our Readings in Twentieth Century Philosophy N Y The Free Press of Glencoe Inc 1963 We owe thanks to Professors W D Falk and William Hughes for helping us with the translation We also owe thanks to Professor Herbert Spiegelberg Dr Walter Biemel and the Husser Archives at Louvain for checking it and we are especially indebted to Professor Dorion Cairns many of whose suggestions we incorporated in the final draft WILLIAM P ALSTON GEORGE NAKHNIKIAN January 1964 CONTENTS V Preface Introduction IX The train of thoughts in the lectures I Lecture I 13 Lecture II 22 Lecture III 33 Lecture IV 43 Lecture V 52 INTRODUCTION From April 26 to May 2 1907 Husserl delivered five lectures in Gottingen They introduce the main ideas of his later phenomenology the one that goes beyond the phenomenology of the Logische Untersuchungen These lectures and Husserl's summary of them entitled The Train of Thoughts in the Lectures were edited by Dr Walter Biemel and first published in 1950 under the title Die Idee der Phänomenologie Husserl wrote the summary on the night of the last lecture not for formal delivery but for his own use This accounts for the fact that the summary contains incomplete sentences There are some discrepancies between Lecture V and the corresponding passages in the summary We may suppose that the passages in the summary are a closer approximation to what Husserl wanted to say

The Later Husserl and the Idea of Phenomenology Anna-Teresa Tymieniecka, 2012-12-06

Phenomenology and the Foundations of the Sciences Edmund Husserl, 2001-11-30 There is no author's introduction to Phenomenology and the Foundations of the Sciences either as published here in the first English translation or in the standard German edition because its proper introduction is its companion volume General Introduction to Pure Phenomenology 2 The latter is the first book of Edmund Husserl's larger work Ideas Toward a Pure Phenomenology and Phenomenological Philosophy and is commonly referred to as Ideas I or Ideen 1 The former is commonly called Ideen III Between these two parts of the whole stands a third Phenomeno 3 logical Investigations of Constitution generally known as Ideen II In this introduction the Roman numeral designations will be used as well as the abbreviation PFS for the translation at hand In many translation projects there is an initial problem of establishing the text to be translated That problem confronts translators of the books of Husserl's Ideas in different ways The Ideas was written in 1912 during Husserl's years in Göttingen 1901-1916 Books I and II were extensively revised over nearly two decades and the changes were incorporated by the editors into the texts of the Husserliana editions of 1950 and 1952 respectively Manuscripts of the various reworkings of the texts are preserved in the Husserl Archives but for those unable to work there the only one directly available for Ideen II is the reconstructed one

The Idea of Phenomenology André de Muralt, 1974 De Muralt's ambition is to carry out such historical inquiries in the form of a structural analysis of philosophy which he regards as a rigorous philosophical discipline that is as a science

Ideas Pertaining to a Pure Phenomenology and to a Phenomenological Philosophy Edmund Husserl, 1983-09-30 the Logische Untersuchungen I phenomenology has been conceived as a substratum of empirical psychology as a sphere comprising immanent descriptions of psychical mental processes a sphere comprising descriptions that so the immanence in question is understood are strictly confined within the bounds of internal experience It 2 would seem that my protest against this conception has been of little avail and the added explanations which sharply pinpointed at least some chief points of difference either have not been understood or have been heedlessly pushed aside Thus the replies directed against my criticism of psychological method are also quite negative because they miss the straightforward sense of my presentation My criticism of psychological method did not at all deny the value of modern psychology did not at all disparage the experimental work done by eminent men Rather it laid bare certain in the literal sense radical defects of method upon the removal of which in my opinion must depend an elevation of psychology to a higher scientific level and an extraordinary amplification of its field of work Later an occasion will be found to say a few words about the unnecessary defences of psychology against my supposed attacks

The Basic Problems of Phenomenology Edmund Husserl, 2006-01-30 This book provides a short introduction to Husserlian Phenomenology by Husserl himself Husserl highly regarded his work The Basic Problems of Phenomenology as basic for his theory of the phenomenological reduction He considered this work as equally fundamental for the theory of empathy and intersubjectivity and for his theory of the life world Further with the appendices it reveals Husserl in a critical dialogue with himself

Ideas Pertaining to a Pure Phenomenology and to a Phenomenological Philosophy Edmund Husserl, 1989-09-30 As is made plain in the critical apparatus and editorial matter appended to the original German publication of Husserl's Ideas II I this is a text with a history It underwent revision after revision spanning almost 20 years in one of the most fertile periods of the philosopher's life The book owes its form to the work of many hands and its unity is one that has been imposed on it Yet there is nothing here that cannot be traced back to Husserl himself. Indeed the final clean copy for publication prepared by an assistant was completely reviewed by the master three times and emended by him in detail on each occasion. Nevertheless in the end the work was in fact not submitted for publication and after Husserl's pen last touched the manuscript in 1928 it was set aside until posthumously edited and published by the Husserl Archives in 1952. The story of the composition of Ideas II begins with the pencil manuscript of 1912. This is the ultimate textual source for both Ideas II and Ideas III.² It has been preserved as a folio of 84 sheets in very dense shorthand of the Gabelsberger system written mostly with a pencil. It was composed by Husserl in one stroke immediately after the completion of I Edmund Husserl Ideen zu einer reinen Phänomenologie und phänomenologischen Philosophie. Zweites Buch Phänomenologische Untersuchungen zur Konstitution. Edited by Marly Biemel. The Hague: Martinus Nijhoff, 1952. Husserliana IV. On the idea of phenomenology Philip Pettit, 1982. Heaven, Earth, and In-Between in the Harmony of Life Anna-Teresa Tymieniecka, 2012-12-06. This volume marks a phase of accomplishment in the work of the World Phenomenology Institute in unfolding a dialogue between Occidental phenomenology and the Oriental Chinese classic philosophy. Going beyond the stage of reception the Oriental scholars show in this collection of studies their perspicacity and philosophical skills in comparing the concepts ideas the vision of classic phenomenology and Chinese philosophy toward uncovering their common intuitions. This in depth probing aims at reviving Occidental thinking reaching to its intuitive sources as well as providing Chinese thinking with a precise apparatus of expression toward its rejuvenation in a new significance. Ideas Edmund Husserl, 2012. With a new foreword by Dermot Moran the work here presented seeks to found a new science though indeed the whole course of philosophical development since Descartes has been preparing the way for it a science covering a new field of experience exclusively its own that of Transcendental Subjectivity. Edmund Husserl from the author's preface to the English Edition. Widely regarded as the principal founder of phenomenology one of the most important movements in twentieth century philosophy Edmund Husserl's Ideas is one of his most important works and a classic of twentieth century thought. This Routledge Classics edition of the original translation by W R Boyce Gibson includes the introduction to the English edition written by Husserl himself in 1931. Husserl's early thought conceived of phenomenology the general study of what appears to conscious experience in a relatively narrow way mainly in relation to problems in logic and the theory of knowledge. The publication of Ideas in 1913 witnessed a significant and controversial widening of Husserl's thought changing the course of phenomenology decisively. Husserl argued that phenomenology was the study of the very nature of what it is to think the science of the essence of consciousness itself. Husserl's arguments ignited a heated debate regarding the nature of consciousness and experience that has endured throughout the twentieth and continues in the present day No understanding of twentieth century philosophy is complete without some understanding of Husserl and his work influenced some of the great philosophers of the twentieth century such as Martin Heidegger and Jean Paul Sartre The Tradition via Heidegger J. Deely,2012-12-06 This book is not addressed to beginning students in philosophy so much as it is addressed to those who though fairly well versed in the philosophical tradition find themselves frankly baffled and brought up short by the writings of Martin Heidegger and who while recognizing the novelty of the Heideggerean enterprise may sometimes find themselves wondering if this thinking of Being is after all rich enough to deserve still further effort on their part That at least was my own state of mind after a couple of years spent in studying Heidegger Then one day in preparing for a seminar I suddenly saw not indeed all of what Heidegger is about but at least where he stands in terms of previous philosophers and what is the ground of his thinking After that it became possible to assess certain strengths and weaknesses of his thought in terms of his own methodology vis a vis those earlier thinkers who without having dreamed of anything quite like a Daseinsanalyse had yet recognized in explicit terms the feature of experience on which the identification of Sein and consequently the Daseinsanalyse depends for its possibility The Blackwell Dictionary of Western Philosophy Nicholas Bunnin,Jiyuan Yu,2009-01-27 The Blackwell Dictionary of Western Philosophy The Blackwell Dictionary of Western Philosophy The style is fresh and engaging and it gives a broad and accurate picture of the western philosophical tradition It is a pleasure to browse in even if one is not looking for an answer to a particular question David Pears Its entries manage to avoid the obscurities of an exaggerated brevity without stretching themselves out as if seeking to embody whole miniature essays In short it presents itself as a model of clarity and clarification Alan Montefiore Husserl and the Idea of Europe Timo Miettinen,2020-03-15 Husserl and the Idea of Europe argues that Edmund Husserl's late reflections on Europe should not be read either as departures from his early transcendental phenomenology or as simple exercises of cultural criticism but rather as systematic phenomenological reflections on generativity and historicity Timo Miettinen shows that Husserl's deliberations on Europe contain his most compelling and radical interpretation of the intersubjective communal and historical dimensions of phenomenology Husserl and his generation worked in the aftermath of World War I as Europe struggled to redefine itself and he penned his late writings as the clouds of World War II gathered Decades later the fall of the Soviet Union again altered the continent's identity and its political and economic divisions Miettinen writes as a European involved in the question of Europe and many of the recent authors and critics he addresses in this work such as Michel Foucault Jacques Derrida and Giorgio Agamben likewise deeply engaged with this new problem of European identity The book illuminates the multifaceted problem of the idea of European rationality and it defends novel conceptions of universalism and teleology as necessary components of radical philosophical reflection Transcendental Idealism and Metaphysics Daniele De Santis,2023-10-19 The book offers a systematic reconstruction of the disagreement between Husserl and Heidegger from the former's perspective but without falling into any form of Husserlian apologetics The main thesis is that Husserl's critique of Heidegger's existential analytics as a form of philosophical anthropology entails a deeper fundamental thesis namely that Heidegger confuses the object of first philosophy the transcendental determination of the subject with metaphysics in the Husserlian sense of the expression Addressing the Husserl Heidegger confrontation this text provides the first systematic reconstruction of Husserl's conception of the system of philosophy from the perspective of his later works with a special focus on the Cartesian Meditations At stake in Husserl's critique of Heidegger's philosophy in Being and Time is the refusal to transcendentalize the irrational aspects and nature of our human existence This first volume addresses Husserl's doctrine of transcendental idealism with the aim of elucidating the distinction between first philosophy second philosophies and what Husserl calls last philosophy This volume appeals to students and researchers Women Phenomenologists Past and Present Jadwiga S. Smith, William S. Smith, Marie Antonios Sassine, 2025-07-24 This edited volume investigates a much needed exploration of women phenomenologists past and present in particular Hannah Arendt Hedwig Conrad Martius Edith Stein and Anna Teresa Tymieniecka The sections covered are devoted to the phenomenological exploration of autobiography subjectivism and posthumanism as dealing with modalities of the real and art poetry and music in particular This volume includes among others a study of the autobiography of Husserl a phenomenological analysis of an immigrant experience a poetic autobiography and a phenomenological recollection of emotions through artistic media Chapters also explore the notions of empathy certain aspects of mental illness and trauma and the experience of patients This book appeals to students and researchers working in applied phenomenology The Idea of Phenomenology Edwin Arthur Peel, 1964

Philosophy of Religion Ikechukwu Anthony Kanu, 2018-08-31 The present work focuses on the major inquiries in philosophy of religion This work is unique in its own way in the sense that it introduces something new to the corpus of literature that is often referred to as philosophy of religion It introduces themes in African philosophy of religion which is an area not often referred to in African philosophy let alone in textbooks in philosophy of religion As this work opens a new aperture in the study of the philosophy of religion it is hoped that it would generate further interest in the study of African philosophy of religion From Rationalism to Existentialism Robert C. Solomon, 2001 In this enduring text renowned philosopher Robert C Solomon provides students with a detailed introduction to modern existentialism He reveals how this philosophy not only connects with but derives from the thought of traditional philosophers through the works of Nietzsche Kierkegaard Husserl Heidegger Sartre and Merleau Ponty Thus existentialism emerges from the school of rational thought as a logical evolution of respected philosophy
