IN CONGRESS. JULY 4th 1776.

Declaration of the thirteen united States of America

We the People of the United States, in Order to secure these Rights, do hereby adopt, Ordain and establish this Constitution...

IN CONGRESS

United States of America

We the Representatives of the United States of America, do hereby declare...

IN CONGRESS, 1776. A unanimous Declaration of the thirteen united States of America

When in the course of human events it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. — That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed, — That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such Principles and organizing its Powers in such Manner, as they shall judge most likely to promote their Safety and Happiness. Prudence, in such a Case, would dictate that Governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience hath shewn, that even the most arduous struggle for Liberty may be rendered almost fruitless, by the want of due Preparation for it.

But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same Object, evinces a design to reduce them to absolute Tyranny, it is their duty, to throw off such Government, and to provide new Guards for their future Security. — Such has been the patient Sufferance of these Colonies, that they have been obliged to declare their Independence.

That the United Colonies by these Declarations, have united themselves to the united Colonies, and have become the United States of America.

That the said Colonies have declared their Independence of the Kingdom of Great Britain, and have taken upon themselves the sole and exclusive Jurisdiction of the said Colonies, and have assumed the sole and exclusive Power of War, Peace, Alliance, Commerce, and all other Powers which by the Laws of Nature and of Nature's God are justly theirs, as free and independent States.

That the said Colonies have declared their Independence of the Kingdom of Great Britain, and have taken upon themselves the sole and exclusive Jurisdiction of the said Colonies, and have assumed the sole and exclusive Power of War, Peace, Alliance, Commerce, and all other Powers which by the Laws of Nature and of Nature's God are justly theirs, as free and independent States.
