Nationalist Politics and Everyday Ethnicity in a Transylvanian Town Rogers Brubaker, Margit Feischmidt, Jon Fox, Liana Grancea, 2018-06-05 Situated on the geographic margins of two nations yet imagined as central to each Transylvania has long been a site of nationalist struggles Since the fall of communism these struggles have been particularly intense in Cluj Transylvania's cultural and political center Yet heated nationalist rhetoric has evoked only muted popular response The citizens of Cluj the Romanian speaking majority and the Hungarian speaking minority have been largely indifferent to the nationalist claims made in their names Based on seven years of field research this book examines not only the sharply polarized fields of nationalist politics in Cluj Transylvania and the wider region but also the more fluid terrain on which ethnicity and nationhood are experienced enacted and understood in everyday life In doing so the book addresses fundamental questions about ethnicity where it is when it matters and how it works Bridging conventional divisions of academic labor Rogers Brubaker and his collaborators employ perspectives seldom found together historical and ethnographic institutional and interactional political and experiential Further developing the argument of Brubaker's groundbreaking Ethnicity without Groups the book demonstrates that it is ultimately in and through everyday experience as much as in political contestation or cultural articulation that ethnicity and nationhood are produced and reproduced as basic categories of social and political life

Stalin's Legacy in Romania Stefano Bottoni, 2018-05-29 This study explores the little known history of the Hungarian Autonomous Region HAR a Soviet style territorial autonomy that was granted in Romania on Stalin's personal advice to the Hungarian Székely community in the summer of 1952 Since 1945 a complex mechanism of ethnic balance and power sharing helped the Romanian Communist Party RCP to strengthen with Soviet assistance its political legitimacy among different national and social groups The communist national policy followed an integrative approach toward most minority communities with the relevant exception of Germans who were declared collectively responsible for the German occupation and were denied political and even civil rights until 1948 The Hungarians of Transylvania were provided with full civil political cultural and linguistic rights to encourage political integration The ideological premises of the Hungarian Autonomous Region followed the Bolshevik pattern of territorial autonomy elaborated by Lenin and Stalin in the early 1920s The Hungarians of Székely Land would become a titular nationality provided with extensive cultural rights Yet on the other hand the Romanian central power used the region as an instrument of political and social integration for the Hungarian minority into the communist state The management of ethnic conflicts increased the ability of the PCR to control the territory and at the same time provided the ruling party with a useful precedent for the far larger nationalization of the Romanian communist regime which starting from the late 1950s resulted in ethnicized communism an aim achieved without making use of pre war nationalist discourse After the Hungarian revolution of 1956 repression affected a great number of Hungarian individuals accused of nationalism and irredentism In 1960 the HAR also suffered territorial reshaping its Hungarian born political leadership being replaced by ethnic Romanian cadres The decisive shift from a class dictatorship toward an ethnicized totalitarian regime was the product of the Gheorghiu Dej era and as such it represented the logical outcome of a long standing ideological fouling of Romanian communism and more traditional state building ideologies      The Challenge of Ethnic Conflict, Democracy and Self-determination in Central Europe Anton Pelinka,Dov Ronen,2013-10-23 This volume provides an overall assessment of ethnic diversity in Central Europe in historical context and presents a critical assessment of the conflict in former Yugoslavia It advances a hypothesis on the origins of ethnic conflict proposes an approach to the prevention and reduction of ethnic conflict in general and in Central Europe in particular and forwards concrete policy recommendations for the region of East and Central Europe and beyond
