Slim's Table Mitchell Duneier,2015-12-21 A richly detailed and highly compassionate ethnographic study of a core group of black men who daily frequent Valois a cafeteria in Chicago s Hyde Park A Javier Trevi o Humanity Society At the Valois See Your Food cafeteria on Chicago s South Side black and white men gather over cups of coffee and steam table food Mitchell Duneier a sociologist spent four years at the Valois writing this moving profile of the black men who congregate at Slim s Table Praised as a marvelous study of those who should not be forgotten by

The Wall Street Journal Slim's Table helps demolish the narrow sociological picture of black men and simple media reinforced stereotypes. In between is a respectable citizenry too often ignored and little understood. Slim's Table is an astonishment. Duneier manages to fling open windows of perception into what it means to be working class black, how a caring community can proceed from the most ordinary transactions all the while smashing media induced stereotypes of the races and race relations. Citation for Chicago Sun Times Chicago Book of the Year Award. An instant classic of ethnography that will provoke debate and provide insight for years to come. Michael Eric Dyson Chicago Tribune. Mr. Duneier sees the subjects of his study as people and he sees the scale of their lives as fully human rather than as diminished versions of grander lives lived elsewhere by people of another color. A Computational Model of Natural Language Communication Roland R. Hausser, 2006-09-28. Everyday life would be easier if we could simply talk with machines instead of having to program them. Before such talking robots can be built, however, there must be a theory of how communicating with natural language works. This requires not only a grammatical analysis of the language signs but also a model of the cognitive agent with interfaces for recognition and action, an internal database, and an algorithm for reading content in and out. In Database Semantics, these ingredients are used for reconstructing natural language communication as a mechanism for transferring content from the database of the speaker to the database of the hearer. Part I of this book presents a high level description of an artificial agent which humans can freely communicate with in their accustomed language. Part II analyzes the major constructions of natural language, i.e. intra and extrapropositional functor argument structure, coordination and coreference in the speaker and the hearer mode. Part III defines declarative specifications for fragments of English which are used for an implementation in Java. The book provides researchers, graduate students, and software engineers with a functional framework for the theoretical analysis of natural language communication and for all practical applications of natural language processing.
