Miniature Painting in the Armenian Kingdom of Cilicia from the Twelfth to the Fourteenth Century Sirarpie Der Nersessian,1993 Sirarpie Der Nersessian s scholarship has influenced the understanding of Armenian art and its Byzantine context These two volumes are the culmination of six decades devoted to the exploration of Armenian art and reflect a deep knowledge of the manuscripts and their creators

Material Cultures in Canada Thomas Allen,Jennifer Blair,2015-06-08 Material Cultures in Canada presents the vibrant and diverse field of material culture studies in Canadian literary artistic and political contexts today The first of its kind this collection features sixteen essays by leading scholars in Canada each of whom examines a different object of study including the beaver geraniums comics water a musical playlist and the human body The book s three sections focus in turn on objects that are persistently material on things whose materiality blends into the immaterial and on the materials of spaces Contributors highlight some of the most exciting new developments in the field such as the emergence of new materialism affect theory globalization studies and environmental criticism Although the book has a Canadian centre the majority of its contributors consider objects that cross borders or otherwise resist national affiliation This collection will be valuable to readers within and outside of Canada who are interested in material culture studies and in addition will appeal to anyone interested in the central debates taking place in Canadian political and cultural life today such as climate change citizenship shifts in urban and small town life and the persistence of imperialism

Eighteenth-Century Thing Theory in a Global Context Ileana Baird,Christina Ionescu,2016-04-29 Exploring Enlightenment attitudes toward things and their relation to human subjects this collection offers a geographically wide ranging perspective on what the eighteenth century looked like beyond British or British colonial borders To highlight trends fashions and cultural imports of truly global significance the contributors draw their case studies from Western Europe Russia Africa Latin America and Oceania This survey underscores the multifarious ways in which new theoretical approaches such as thing theory or material and visual culture studies revise our understanding of the people and objects that inhabit the phenomenological spaces of the eighteenth century Rather than focusing on a particular geographical area or on the global as a juxtaposition of regions with a distinctive cultural footprint this collection draws attention to the unforeseen relational maps drawn by things in their global peregrinations celebrating the logic of serendipity that transforms the object into something else when it is placed in a new locale

Narrative Mourning Kathleen M. Oliver, 2020-07-17 Narrative Mourning explores death and its relics as they appear within the confines of the eighteenth century British novel. It argues that the cultural disappearance of the dead, dying body and the introduction of consciousness as humanity's newfound soul found expression in fictional representations of the relic object or relict person. In the six novels examined in this monograph: Samuel Richardson's Clarissa and Sir Charles Grandison; Sarah Fielding's David Simple; and Volume the Last of Henry Mackenzie's The Man of Feeling and Ann Radcliffe's The Mysteries of Udolpho, the appearance of the relic relict signals narrative mourning and expresses often obliquely changing cultural attitudes toward the dead. Published by Bucknell University Press. Distributed worldwide by Rutgers University Press.

Public Images Ryan Linkof, 2020-08-12 The stolen snapshot is a staple of the modern tabloid press as ubiquitous as it is notorious. The first in-depth history of British tabloid photojournalism, this book explores the origin of the unauthorised celebrity photograph in the early 20th century, tracing its rise in the 1900s through to the first legal trial concerning the right to privacy from photographers shortly after the Second World War. Packed with case studies from the glamorous to the infamous, the book argues that the candid snap was a tabloid innovation that drew its power from Britain's unique class tensions. Used by papers such as the Daily Mirror and Daily Sketch as a vehicle of mass communication, this new form of image played an important and often overlooked role in constructing the idea of the press photographer as a documentary eyewitness. From Edward VIII and Wallis Simpson to aristocratic debutantes Lady Diana Cooper and Margaret Whigham, the rage of the social elite at being pictured so intimately without permission was matched only by the fascination of working class readers. While the relationship of the British press to social, economic and political power was changed forever, initially pioneered in the metropole, tabloid style photojournalism soon penetrated the journalistic culture of most of the globe. This in-depth account of its social and cultural history is an invaluable source of new research for historians of photography, journalism, visual culture, media and celebrity studies.
