Under English Eyes Jopi Nyman, 2021-10-18 British fictions of the early twentieth century appear obsessed with Europe Various texts from E M Forster and D H Lawrence to Bram Stoker and the period s travel writing explore European spaces constructing the European as an Other threatening the position of the English What they constantly repeat is England s difference and the secondary role of European spaces whose representation resembles that of colonial lands By reading selected texts both canonized and popular published between 1894 and 1916 this study argues that this xenophobic construction is a sign of the pervading presence of concerns related to the maintenance of English national identity Englishness allegedly threatened by the European Other By drawing on current postcolonial theory the case studies in the volume show that the discourse on the Other produced in British writings on Europe contributes more than has been understood to the making and promoting of Englishness The authors studied include D H Lawrence Katherine Mansfield Anthony Hope Arnold Bennett Mrs Alec Tweedie Erskine Childers and Joseph Conrad The study will renew our understanding of the role of Europe in the period s cultural imagination showing that the identities of the English are formed in encounters with different internal and external Others

Border Modernism Christopher Schedler, 2013-12-16 Reorienting the field of American literary modernism Christopher Schedler defines an intercultural form of representation termed border modernism that challenges the aesthetic hegemony of metropolitan high modernism In this study Schedler compares the works of European and Anglo American modernists with the works of Mexican Native American and Chicano writers who engaged with modernist theories and practices In the process he uncovers a unique intercultural aesthetic produced in the borderlands of the United States and Mexico aimed at modernizing the native literary traditions of the Americas Addressing issues of migration cultural identity and ethnography Border Modernism is a major contribution to current debates over the origins and development of American literary modernism and a new model for transnational and intercultural reconstructions of American literary history

Here and Now Youngjoo Son, 2013-10-15 Working at the crossroads of contemporary geographical and cultural theory the book explores how social spaces function as sites which foreground D H Lawrence and Virginia Woolf's critiques of the social order and longings for change Looking at various social spaces from homes to nations to utopian space brought into the here and now the book shows the ways in which these writers criticize and deconstruct the contemporary symbolic physical and discursive spatial topoi of the dominant socio spatial order and envision a more liberating and inclusive human geography In addition the book calls for the need to redress the tendency of some spatial theories to underestimate the political potential of literary discourse about space instead of simply and mechanically appropriating some theoretical concepts to literary criticism One of the central findings in the book therefore is that literary texts can perform subversive interventions in the production of social space through their critical interaction with dominant spatial codes D. H.

Lawrence and Ambivalence in the Age of Modernity Gaku Iwai, 2024-05-01 D H Lawrence is renowned for his scathing criticism of the ruling class industrialisation of the country and wartime patriotism However his texts bear the imprint of contemporary dominant ideologies and discourses of the period Comparing Lawrence's texts to various major and minor contemporary novels journal articles political pamphlets and history books this book aims to demonstrate that Lawrence's texts are ambivalent his texts harbour the dynamism of conflicting power struggles between the subversive and the reactionary For example in some apparently apolitical texts such as The White Peacock and Movements in European History reactionary ideologies and wartime propaganda are embedded Some texts like Lady Chatterley's Lover are intended to be a radical critique of the period wherein it was composed but they also bear discernible traces of the contemporary frame of reference that they intend to subvert Focusing on Lawrence's stories and novels set in the mining countryside and the works composed under the impact of the First World War this book establishes that Lawrence's texts in fact consist of multiple layers that are often in conflict with each other serving as a testimony to the age of modernity
