Chitando,2020-08-30 This book reflects on major themes present at the interface between religion and human security in Africa It probes the extent to which religion is both a threat to and a resource for human security in Africa by examining specific issues occurring across the continent A team of contributors from across Africa provide valuable reflections on the conceptualisation and applicability of the concept of human security in the context of religion in Africa Chapters highlight how themes such as knowledge systems youth education race development sacred texts the media sexual diversity health and others have implications for individual and group security In order to bring these themes into perspective chapters in the first section reflect on the conceptual historical and contextual factors at play The chapters that follow demonstrate the theories put forward by means of case studies from countries such as Zimbabwe Kenya Botswana and Ghana that look at African religion Islam and Christianity This is a detailed and informative volume that provides new insights into the discourse on religion and human security As such it will be of significant use to any scholar of Religion and Violence Religion in Africa

 Reading Saki Brian Gibson,2014-06-23 Here is a thorough critical re examination of the Edwardian master of the darkly humorous short story Saki the pen name of Hector Hugh Munro 1870 1916 Saki the satirist constantly rebelled against but depended upon the world of H H Munro the gentleman bachelor In reassessing the importance of post Wilde sexuality anti suffragist feelings and attitudes towards Jews and Slavs in Saki s oeuvre it becomes clear that the fiction of Saki reflects a fervid imperial masculinity in Britain as World War I approached The tension between rebellious sexual politics and pro patriarchy nationalist views in Saki s fiction reflects a time when the old manly bourgeois traditions of coming home from work to the angel of the hearth and defending King and Country abroad increasingly clashed with new sexual identities women s agitation for the vote and the growing presence of non British Others in the public imagination Anglophone African Detective Fiction 1940-2020 Matthew J. Christensen,2024 Providing a survey of Anglophone African detective fiction from the late 1940s to the present day this study traces its history both as a literary form and a mode of critical exploration of the fraught sovereignties of the African state and its citizens Since the late 1940s African writers including

Cyprian Ekwensi Arthur Maimane Adaora Lily Ulasi Hilary Ng weno Unity Dow Parker Bilal and Angela Makholwa have published over 200 murder mysteries police procedurals spy thrillers and other fictional narratives of investigation and discovery in English language newspapers magazines and novels Distributed widely across the continent s diverse cultural and political geographies these texts share aesthetic characteristics and thematic preoccupations that reflect transnational networks of production circulation and influence Anglophone African Detective Fiction 1940 2020 surveys this literary history and examines how African writers have repeatedly harnessed the detective story to interrogate postcolonial realities of selfhood and the state It argues that African writers have turned the detective story into a highly productive while at the same time suspense filled and entertaining mode of social and political critique first of colonialism and the independence era and latterly of neoliberal governance Offering an overview of paradigmatic texts from Ghana to Kenya and Sudan to South Africa the book traces the contours of the history of Anglophone African detective fiction that is at once a cultural history of a uniquely African assessment of the ongoing problematics of sovereignty and decolonization Associated Advertising ,1925
