Book 4 Donald F. Lach,Edwin J. Van Kley,2022-07-29 This monumental series acclaimed as a masterpiece of comprehensive scholarship in the New York Times Book Review reveals the impact of Asia s high civilizations on the development of modern Western society The authors examine the ways in which European encounters with Asia have altered the development of Western society art literature science and religion since the Renaissance In Volume III A Century of Advance the authors have researched seventeenth century European writings on Asia in an effort to understand how contemporaries saw Asian societies and peoples

History After the Three Worlds Arif Dirlik, Vinay Bahl, Peter Gran, 2000 History as a discipline faces a crisis of identity as Eurocentrism fades in a world where globalized visions compete to explain historical processes Facing the challenge squarely this volume_ comprising specialists on Asia Africa and Latin America_ explores the state of historical analysis in various world regions and appraises current views on what defines and challenges historical knowledge It is widely accepted that Eurocentrism no longer seem acceptable in a world where others are reasserting their own notions of past and future The postDWorld War II spatialities that guided both historical analysis and the division of labor in historical work are in the process of disappearing into more globalized visions Constituencies left out of history in the past are making demands for the recognition of their historical presence History as epistemology is under attack as a marker of Eurocentric modernity from non historical ways of thinking as well as from ideologies of postmodernism that deny to history its claims to truth Indeed the current situation in the field has been described by one distinguished historian as a Ocacophonous confusion O The challenge historians face is how to imagine new ways of writing history that overcome this confusion without falling back upon ideological and methodological prejudices that reproduce the problems of the past in new guises The contributors discuss how these challenges are voiced and met in their different areas of specialization Unsurprising in a volume that addresses a variety of regions and issues that are not only technically historiographical but also deeply cultural and political the authors differ in their appraisal of the challenges presented by globalization postmodernism or postcolonialism Yet they are united in their recognition of the validity of historical ways of knowing and their reaffirmation of the importance of history in grasping contemporary cultural and political problems It is because history is entangled in a Eurocentric modernity that in a postmodern world it provides the medium for articulating alternatives to Eurocentrism_ and to history itself

The Cambridge World History of Slavery: Volume 3, AD 1420-AD 1804 David Eltis, Stanley L. Engerman, Keith R. Bradley, Paul Cartledge, Seymour Drescher, 2011-07-25 The various manifestations of coerced labour between the opening up of the Atlantic world and the formal creation of Haiti

The Cambridge World History: Volume 3, Early Cities in Comparative Perspective, 4000 BCE-1200 CE Norman Yoffee, 2015-03-19 From the fourth millennium BCE to the early second millennium CE the world became a world of cities This volume explores this critical transformation from the appearance of the earliest cities in Mesopotamia and Egypt to the rise of cities in Asia and the Mediterranean world Africa and the Americas Through case studies and comparative accounts of key cities across the world leading scholars chart the ways in which these cities grew as nodal points of pilgrimages and ceremonies exchange storage and redistribution and centres for defence and warfare They show how in these cities along with their associated and restructured countrysides new rituals and ceremonies connected leaders with citizens and the gods new identities as citizens were created and new forms of power and sovereignty emerged They also examine how this unprecedented concentration of people led to disease violence slavery and subjugations of unprecedented kinds and scales Chosen peoples Gareth Atkins,Shinjini Das,Brian Murray,2020-02-11 Chosen peoples demonstrates how biblical themes ideas and metaphors shaped racial national and imperial identities in the long nineteenth century Even as radical new ideas challenged the historicity of the Bible biblical notions of lineage descent and inheritance continued to inform understandings of race nation and empire European settler movements portrayed new territories across the seas as lands of Canaan but if many colonised and conquered peoples resisted the imposition of biblical narratives they also appropriated biblical tropes to their own ends These innovative case studies throw new light on familiar areas such as slavery colonialism and the missionary project while forging exciting cross comparisons between race identity and the politics of biblical translation and interpretation in South Africa Egypt Australia America and Ireland The Sphere ,1908 Slave Trade Profiteers in the Western Indian Ocean Hideaki

Suzuki,2017-10-12 This book examines how slave traders interacted with and resisted the British suppression campaign in the nineteenth century western Indian Ocean By focusing on the transporters buyers sellers and users of slaves in the region the book traces the many links between slave trafficking and other types of trade Drawing upon first person slave accounts travelogues and archival sources it documents the impact of abolition on Zanzibar politics Indian merchants East African coastal urban societies and the entirety of maritime trade in the region Ultimately this ground breaking work uncovers how western Indian Ocean societies experienced the slave trade suppression campaign as a political intervention with important implications for Indian Ocean history and the history of the slave trade Berenike and the Ancient Maritime Spice Route Steven E. Sidebotham,2011-02-02 For almost a millennium from its foundation in the third century BCE to late antiquity the Red Sea port of Berenike was a key part of the sea route that linked the Mediterranean to South Asia The excavations conducted by Professor Sidebotham and his international team have provided unprecedented detail about the urban history of Berenike the lives of its inhabitants its role in the spice trade and the products that passed through its port Berenike and the Ancient Maritime Spice Route is a major contribution to world historical scholarship that will fundamentally change our understanding of ancient trade in the Red Sea and Indian Ocean Stanley M Burstein California State University Los Angeles With singular focus and an indefatigable spirit Sidebotham has pursued the remote and difficult site of Berenike After ten excavation seasons only a portion of the site has been excavated but the dividends have been magnificent yielding exciting new archeological evidence that illuminates the flourishing maritime sea trade in antiquity beyond any reasonable expectation Sidebotham places Bernike in the larger contextual framework and considers it from every possible angle including the transportation lattice that connected Berenike with the Nile its relations with other emporia the merchant ships used the exotic trade items it received and a fascinating explanation of the demise of Berenike and global trade in the sixth century This engrossing analysis is destined to become the standard source for all who are interested in the international trade of antiquity David F Graf author of Rome and the Arabian Frontier from the Nabataeans to the Saracens The Contamination of the Earth Francois Jarrige, Thomas Le Roux, 2020-07-21 The trajectories of pollution in global capitalism from the toxic waste of early tanneries to the poisonous effects of pesticides in the twentieth century Through the centuries the march of economic progress has been accompanied by the spread of industrial pollution As our capacities for production and our aptitude for consumption have increased so have their byproducts chemical contamination from fertilizers and pesticides diesel emissions oil spills a vast plastic continent found floating in the ocean The Contamination of the Earth offers a social and political history of industrial pollution mapping its trajectories over three centuries from the toxic wastes of early tanneries to the fossil fuel energy regime of the twentieth century The authors describe how from 1750 onward in contrast to the early modern period polluted water and air came to be seen as inevitable side effects of industrialization which was universally regarded as beneficial By the nineteenth century pollutants became constituent elements of modernity The authors trace the evolution of these various pollutions and describe the ways in which they were simultaneously denounced and permitted The twentieth century saw new and massive scales of pollution chemicals that resisted biodegradation including napalm and other defoliants used as weapons of war the ascendancy of oil and a lifestyle defined by consumption In the 1970s pollution became a political issue but efforts local national and global to regulate it often fell short Viewing the history of pollution through a political lens the authors also offer lessons for the future of the industrial world The Routledge Companion to Historical Theory Chiel van den Akker, 2021-11-15 This Companion provides a wide ranging and up to date overview of the conceptual issues that history as a discipline and mode of thought gives rise to The book offers both historical and systematic treatments of these issues as well as addressing their contemporary relevance Structured in three parts Modes and Schools of Historical Thought Epistemology and Metaphysics of History and Issues and Challenges in Historical Theory it offers the reader a wide scope and expert treatment of each topic in this vibrant field that can be read in any order An international team of experts both discuss the basis of their topic and present their own view offering the reader a cutting edge contribution while ensuring their chapters are of interest to both students and specialists in the field of historical theory and engaging with the very nature of historical thought the metaphysics of historical existence the politics of history writing and the intelligibility of the historical process The volume is an indispensable companion to the study of history and essential reading for anyone interested in the reflection on the nature of history and our historical existence Religions in the Modern World Christopher Partridge, Linda Woodhead, Hiroko Kawanami, 2003-09-02 This comprehensive guide offers an unrivalled introduction to recent work in the study of religion from the religious traditions of Asia and the West to new forms of religion and spirituality such as New Age With an historical introduction to each religion and detailed analysis of its place in the modern world Religions in the Modern World is ideal for newcomers to the study of religion It incorporates case studies and anecdotes text extracts chapter menus and end of chapter summaries glossaries and annotated
