Exhibitors Daily Review, 1953 Breaking the Code Nat Segaloff, 2023-08-15 Breaking the Code reveals the efforts of director producer Otto Preminger to bring his aesthetic vision to the screen even if it meant challenging the Production Code a system of self censorship that shaped the movies during the four decades it was in force Along the way Preminger sent shock waves through Hollywood and a network of exhibitors publishers and religious leaders who had personal and even financial stakes in the repression of artistic freedom The process of telling this story began in 2003 when Arnie Reisman and Nat Segaloff thought it might be interesting to write a play about Preminger s efforts to get a Code seal for his 1954 romantic comedy The Moon is Blue based on F Hugh Herbert s 1951 play In those days no film could be shown that did not receive authorization from the Production Code Administration and his film was deemed too adult for even adults to see Preminger was met with opposition from administrator Joseph Breen who was prepared to go to war to save the rest of the country from its sensibilities Along with their play Code Blue which dramatizes the clash between these two evenly matched but wildly disparate titans Breaking the Code chronicles the battle between Otto Preminger and the Code Between 1953 and 1962 he fought the censorship of The Moon Is Blue The Man with the Golden Arm Anatomy of a Murder and Advise and Consent The details of each skirmish vary but they cover the same issues art versus commerce freedom of speech versus censorship and money versus principle Times may have changed but these battles continue Breaking the Code is an attempt to go back and see how the walls can be made to crumble The ^AOxford Companion to American Theatre Gerald Bordman, Thomas S. Zanuck defying and undermining the Production Code of the Motion Picture Association of America and the Catholic Legion of Decency first in 1953 by refusing to remove the words virgin and pregnant from the dialogue of The Moon Is Blue he released the film without a Production Code Seal of Approval and then two years later when he dared to make The Man with the Golden Arm about the then taboo subject of drug addiction When he made Anatomy of a Murder in 1959 the censors objected to the use of the words rape sperm sexual climax and penetration Preminger made one concession substituting violation for penetration the picture was released with the seal and marked the beginning of the end of the Code Hirsch writes about how Preminger was a master of the invisible studio bred approach to filmmaking the so called classical Hollywood style lengthy takes deep focus long shots of groups of characters rather than close ups and reaction shots He shows us Preminger in the 1950s becoming the industry's leading employer of black performers his all black Carmen Jones and Porgy and Bess remain landmarks in the history of racial representation on the American screen and breaking another barrier by shooting a scene in a gay bar for Advise and Consent a first in American film Hirsch tells how Preminger broke the Hollywood blacklist when in 1960 he credited the screenplay of Exodus to Dalton Trumbo the most renowned of the Hollywood Ten and hired more blacklisted talent than anyone else We see Preminger's balanced style and steadfast belief in his actors underacting set against his own hot tempered personality and finally we see this European born director making his magnificent films about the American criminal justice system Anatomy of a Murder and about the American political system Advise and Consent Foster Hirsch shows us the man enraging and endearing and his brilliant work Antiquarian Bookman ,1961
