The Movie World Of Roger Corman:

The Movie World of Roger Corman Roger Corman, J. Philip Di Franco, Karyn G. Browne, 1979 Movie World of Roger Corman Roger Corman, Karyn G. Browne, 1980-05-01 The New Historical Dictionary of the American Film Industry Anthony Slide, 2014-02-25 The New Historical Dictionary of the American Film Industry is a completely revised and updated edition of Anthony Slide's The American Film Industry originally published in 1986 and recipient of the American Library Association's Outstanding Reference Book award for that year More than 200 new entries have been added and all original entries have been updated each entry is followed by a short bibliography As its predecessor the new dictionary is unique in that it is not a who's who of the industry but rather a what's what a dictionary of producing and releasing companies technical innovations industry terms studios genres color systems institutions and organizations etc More than 800 entries include everything from Academy of Motion Pictures Arts and Sciences to Zoom Lens from Astoria Studios to Zoetrope Outstanding Reference Source American Library Association The Wow Climax Henry Jenkins, 2007 Whether highlighting the sentimentality at the heart of the Lassie franchise examining the emotional experiences created by horror filmmakers such as Wes Craven or discussing the emerging aesthetics of video games these essays get to the heart of what gives popular culture its emotional impact Keep Watching the Skies! Bill Warren, 2017-01-12 Bill Warren's Keep Watching the Skies was originally published in two volumes in 1982 and 1986 It was then greatly expanded in what we called the 21st Century Edition with new entries on several films and revisions and expansions of the commentary on every film In addition to a detailed plot synopsis full cast and credit listings and an overview of the critical reception of each film Warren delivers richly informative assessments of the films and a wealth of insights and anecdotes about their making The book contains 273 photographs many rare 35 in color has seven useful appendices and concludes with an enormous index This book is also available in hardcover format ISBN 978 0 7864 4230 0 It Came from 1957 Rob Craig, 2013-10-09 America in the 1950s was a cauldron of contradictions Advances in technology chafed against a grimly conservative political landscape the military industrial complex ceaselessly promoted the Communist menace young marrieds fled crumbling cities for artificial communities known as suburbs and the corporate cipher known as The Organization Man was created along with stifling images of women The decade huddled under the fear of nuclear holocaust was also dedicated to all things futuristic Science fiction was in its salad days in magazines and novels and in motion pictures trying every trick in the book to lure customers back from television including reliance on monster movies All of these forces collided in 1957 when an astounding 57 movies of the science fiction horror and fantasy variety were shown in the United States a record unmatched to this day Reflecting some of the socio political topics of the day several are exceptional examples of their genres This book critically discusses each of the films Peter Lorre: Face Maker Sarah Thomas, 2012-02-01 Peter Lorre described himself as merely a face maker His own negative attitude also characterizes traditional perspectives which position Lorre as a tragic figure within film history the promising European artist reduced to a Hollywood gimmick unable to escape the murderous image of his role in Fritz Lang's M. This book shows that the life of Peter Lorre cannot be reduced to a series of simplistic oppositions. It reveals that despite the limitations of his macabre star image Lorre's screen performances were highly ambitious and the terms of his employment were rarely restrictive. Lorre's career was a complex negotiation between transnational identity, Hollywood filmmaking practices, the ownership of star images and the mechanics of screen performance. From Television to the Internet Wiley Lee Umphlett, 2006. This book complements and expands on the commentary and conclusions of the author's initial inquiry into the modern era of media-made culture in The Visual Focus of American Media Culture in the Twentieth Century (FDUP, 2004). From the 1890s on to the 1920s and the Depression and World War II years, society's pervasively communal focus demanded idealized images and romanticized interpretations of life. But the communal imperative as it was impacted on by evolving social change harbored the seeds of its own disintegration. Film Study Frank Manichl, 1990. The four volumes of Film Study include a fresh approach to each of the basic categories in the original edition. Volume one examines the film as film; volume two focuses on the thematic approach to film; volume three draws on the history of film; and volume four contains extensive appendices listing film distributors, sources and historical information as well as an index of authors, titles and film personalities. Dark Romance David J. Hogan, 2010-06-21. The darkly handsome man gazes deeply into her eyes. She finds him irresistible, wants to experience the passion of the moment. He grins, the movie audience can see his lengthened lateral incisors and bends to her neck. The eroticism is horrible and compelling. Audiences are drawn to horror cinema much as the surrendering victim. Afraid to watch but more afraid something will be missed. Since the horror film is the most primal of all movie genres, seldom censored, these films tell us what we are about. From the silent era to the present day, Dark Romance explores horror cinema's preoccupation with sexuality, vampires, beauty and the beast, victimization of women, slasher films and more. Separate chapters focus upon individuals like Alfred Hitchcock and Barbara Steele. Entertaining and thought provoking on the sexual fears and phobias of our society. Sixties British Cinema Robert Murphy, 2019-07-25. British films of the 1960s are undervalued. Their search for realism has often been dismissed as drabness and their more frivolous efforts can now appear just empty-headed. Robert Murphy's Sixties British Cinema is the first study to challenge this view. He shows that the realist tradition of the late 50s and early 60s was anything but dreary and depressing and gave birth to a clutch of films remarkable for their confidence and vitality. Saturday Night and Sunday Morning, A Kind of Loving and A Taste of Honey are only the better known titles. Sixties British Cinema revalues key genres of the period: horror, crime and comedy, and takes a fresh look at the swinging London films, finding disturbing undertones that reflect the cultural changes of the decade. Now that our cinematic past is constantly recycled on television, Murphy's informative, engaging and perceptive review of these films and their cultural and industrial context offers an invaluable guide to this neglected era of British cinema. A Dictionary of Cinema Quotations from Filmmakers and Critics Stephen M.

Ringler,2008-05-03 The cinema isn't a slice of life it's a slice of cake Alfred Hitchcock If you make a popular movie you start to think where have I failed Woody Allen A film is the world in an hour and a half Jean Luc Godard I think you have to be slightly psychopathic to make movies David Cronenberg This compendium contains more than 3 400 quotations from filmmakers and critics discussing their craft About 1 850 film people are included Bunuel Capra Chaplin Disney Fellini Fitzgerald Griffith Kael Kurasawa Pathe Sarris Schwarzenegger Spielberg Waters and Welles among them The quotations are arranged under 31 topics such as acting animation audience budget casting critics costume design directing locations reviews screenwriting special effects and stardom Indexing by filmmakers or critics by film titles and by narrow subjects provides a rich array of points of access The Price of Fear: The Film Career of Vincent Price, In His Own Words

Joel Eisner,2013-02-02 Prior to his death in 1993 Vincent Price was collaborating with Mr Joel Eisner author of the over 100 000 copy bestselling Official Batman Batbook concerning the 60's Adam West Batman television series to construct a definitive official biography of his life and career in films This is that book Sanctioned by the Vincent Price Estate and daughter Victoria THE PRICE OF FEAR is not only told through journalist Eisner's personal interviews with Price himself but with the cooperation direct interviews and quotes from many of those with whom Price worked with throughout his illustrious career Before he passed away all Vincent saw of this book was his fellow actor Peter Cushing's heartfelt foreword Introducing the true story of a man born within a moderately wealthy family of candy manufacturers in 1911 St Louis Missouri whose interest in theatre during the Great Depression led him into eventually becoming arguably the most universally iconic personification of the horror genre in the entire encompassment of the 20th Century That man was Vincent Leonard Price Jr What you now hold in your hands is the only authorized official biography about Vincent Price's entire life in films ever published in history with his direct participation and approval in his own words Never before has the story of Vincent's life been told how he rose from dramatic theatre and stage to joining the ranks of the early cultured Hollywood elite fresh from where motion pictures were first spawned to eventually spend his life behind horrifying makeup and horror genre movie roles at the sacrifice of a greater passion for fine art and comedy For nearly a century we've known the name We've heard the voice We've seen the many faces At last with The Price of Fear The Film Career of Vincent Price in His Own Words we can know the man directly from the legend himself in this never before published highly entertaining and inspirational masterpiece International Dictionary of Films and Filmmakers: Directors Nicholas Thomas,James portrayed the ravages of capitalism on those at the bottom of the social ladder Patricia Highsmith in The Talented Mr Ripley placed an amoral con man in an international setting implicitly questioning America's fitness as leader of the free world Charles Willeford's pulp novels such as Wild Wives and Woman Chaser depicted the family as a hotbed of violence and chaos These artists pioneered a detached ironic sensibility that radically juxtaposed cultural references and blurred the distinctions between high and low art Their refusal to surrender to the pressures for political conformity and their unflinching portrayal of the underside of American life paved the way for the emergence of a 1960s counterculture that forever changed the way America views itself

Hoodlum Movies Peter Stanfield, 2018-07-13 From The Wild Angels in 1966 until its conclusion in 1972 the cycle of outlaw motorcycle films contained forty odd formulaic examples All but one were made by independent companies that specialized in producing exploitation movies for drive ins neighborhood theaters and rundown inner city theaters Despised by critics but welcomed by exhibitors denied first run films these cheaply and quickly produced movies were made to appeal to audiences of mobile youths The films are repetitive formulaic and eminently forgettable but there is a story to tell about all of the above and it is one worth hearing Hoodlum Movies is not only about the films its focus is on why and how these films were made who they were made for and how the cycle developed through the second half of the 1960s and came to a shuddering halt in 1972
