book is the product of over forty five years of research and writing it is the third volume of a new series entitled The Gum Shaan Chronicles The Early History of Cantonese Chinese America 1850 1900 About the Author Douglas W Lee PhD is a second generation Cantonese Chinese American trained as a historian of Modern China with a special research interest in early Chinese American History He earned a BA at Lewis and Clark College Portland Oregon 1967 an MA at the University of Michigan Ann Arbor 1969 a PhD from the University of California Santa Barbara 1979 and JD from Lewis and Clark Law School Portland Oregon 1988 In 1979 1980 Lee was the cofounder and first national President of the National Association for Asian American Studies In 1981 he was cofounder of the Chinese Historical Society of the Pacific Northwest and the first editor of its journal The Annals of the Chinese Historical Society of the Pacific Northwest Seattle Washington Explaining Chinese Democratization Shaohua Hu,2000-01-30 Hu seeks to explain China s failure to establish a democratic system He demonstrates both continuity and change in China s democratization process Modern China regards power and wealth as primary goals and treats a strong state as a major means to these ends Such a preference puts democracy on a back burner Employing a theoretical framework which consists of five factors historical legacies local forces the world system socialist values and economic development Hu shows that while all of these factors were at work in all eras each assumes a special significance in a particular period Traditional China before the 1911 Revolution attempted to adjust itself to a new Western dominated world In the Republican era the control of local forces topped the political agenda Nationalist China sought to survive and develop in the world system while Maoist China set for itself the task of building a socialist state And of course economic development has been the priority of the Deng era As Hu shows these five factors have had determining impacts on the long struggle for democracy in China Inventing China through History Q. Edward Wang,2001-01-01 A critical examination of the rise of national history in early twentieth century China Inheritance within Rupture Zhitian Luo,2015-01-08 In Inheritance within Rupture Luo Zhitian brings together ten essays to explore the themes of change and continuity rupture and inheritance from the late Qing through the early Republic 1890s 1940s Rejecting binaries such as tradition modernity conservative liberal Luo blurs the divisions between intellectual opponents and clarifies the divergences between scholarly friends Centering these discussions around some of the most famous intellectual debates in the modern period Luo challenges our understanding of ideological positions political affiliation and scholarly identity in early twentieth century China By focusing on the influence of cultural inheritance within the rupture of modernity we come to understand those concerns shared by all Chinese in their own times and in the present A Path Twice Traveled Paul A. Cohen,2021-02-01 In this memoir Paul A Cohen one of the West s preeminent historians of China traces the development of his work from its inception in the early 1960s to the present offering fresh perspectives that consistently challenge us to think more deeply about China and the historical craft in general A memoir of course is itself a form of history But for a historian writing a memoir on one s career is quite different from the creation of that career in the first place This is what

Cohen alludes to in the title A Path Twice Traveled. The title highlights the important disparity between the past as originally experienced and the past as later reconstructed by which point both the historian and the world have undergone extensive change. This distinction which conveys nicely the double meaning of the word history is very much on Cohen's mind throughout the book. He returns to it explicitly in the memoir's final chapter appropriately titled Then and Now: The Two Histories.

Perspectives on Garden Histories Michel Conan, 1999. Garden history is a discipline of contested purposes. Perspectives on Garden Histories contributes to a self-critical examination of this emergent field of study at the same time offering an overview of its main achievements in several domains such as Italian and Mughal gardens and of the new kinds of investigation to which they have led. In its early years garden history centered on architectural studies of garden design but in the 1960s the emphasis shifted from garden design to garden meaning. The new paradigm considered gardens as complex works of art and demanded an extensive documentation of the historical context as well as of the figurative and discursive sources. This approach in its turn was challenged by neo-Marxist scholars who proceeded to view landscape appreciation as an ideological superstructure, an outgrowth of agricultural production processes. Garden designs and their histories can also be viewed as expressions of ideological conflicts in society. Neither gardens nor their history can thus be studied independently of the social, cultural and political movements that give prominence to the contested ideologies. Gardens can be used to foster some ideologies or reflect a reaction against a social change. Comparative research offers another fascinating approach exploring the relations between European landscape concepts and other cultural contexts and discussing issues of cultural dominance and interpretation. The emergence of various perspectives has led to the incorporation of further questions into the domain of garden studies which has been moving in new directions and using new methods in search of an adapted theoretical framework. This volume offers a striking view of changes taking place in the discipline.

Rising China and Its Postmodern Fate Charles Horner, 2009. As China debates its past how will it define its future. In this work Horner offers a different interpretation of how China's changed view of its modern historical experience has also changed China's understanding of its long intellectual and cultural tradition.

"Michael Baxandall, Vision and the Work of Words" Robert Williams, 2017-07-05. The most important art historian of his generation is how some scholars have described the late Michael Baxandall. 1933-2007. Professor of the Classical Tradition at the Warburg Institute, University of London and of the History of Art at the University of California, Berkeley. Baxandall's work had a transformative effect on the study of European Renaissance and eighteenth-century art and contributed to a complex transition in the aims and methods of art history in general during the 1970s, 80s and 90s. While influential he was also an especially subtle and independent thinker, occasionally a controversial one and many of the implications of his work have yet to be fully understood and assimilated. This collection of 10 essays endeavors to assess the nature of Baxandall's achievement and in particular to address the issue of the challenges it offers to the practice of art history today. This volume provides the most comprehensive assessment of Baxandall's work to

Restructuring Political Power in China An Chen, 1999 Chen argues that to prevent party cadre opposition to market restructuring the nemesis of change in other communist states national leaders manipulated legislative channels and party regulations to allow citizen participation in the implementation of reform programs Opportunistic realignments at the political level involving the central leadership local party cadres and ordinary citizens brought people power into the policymaking process That power suggests Chen may also presage China s constitutional evolution toward a democratic form of government
