

Five More Minutes

Five more minutes, please.

Just five minutes
to remember the smell of the sea.
Five minutes to gather
a few smooth stones.
Five minutes
to recall the rustling glory of tall corn.
Five minutes
to mourn a dying pine on a wind-swept dune.

I need time to look under the lily-pads,
cut-open the belly of a snake,
see God reflected
in a horse's eye.

Give me five more minutes...
to call a friend.
to write a few apologies.
to give some parting advice.
Five minutes to
to have a last cigarette.
write a last poem.
have a last laugh.

Five minutes
for a cigar-box filled with old photos.
Five minutes to remember
a summer from long ago.
Five minutes to save
an old man's soul.

Five more minutes, please...
because I wasn't ready.

The Minute And Longer Poems:

Selected Longer Poems A. R. Ammons, 1980-03-17 Readers already familiar with Ammons's longer mode in other books will welcome this new collection while those familiar only with the shorter poems will find their appreciation of his work both deepened and heightened The Selected Poems 1951 1977 was described by one critic as an indispensable book Selected Longer Poems is an indispensable companion to it The distinguished poet A R Ammons once described himself as not so much looking for the shape as being available to any shape that may be summoning itself through me from the self not mine but ours This availability has enabled his poetic genius to be at home in forms raging from brief lyrics the best of which he brought together in The Selected Poems 1951 1977 all the way to poems of full book length Reading the Modernist Long Poem Brendan C. Gillott, 2020-12-10 How do readers approach the enigmatic and unnavigable modernist long poem Taking as the form's exemplars the highly influential but critically contentious poetries of John Cage and Charles Olson this book considers indeterminacy the fundamental feature of the long poem by way of its analogues in musicology mycology cybernetics and philosophy It addresses features of these works that figure broadly in the long poem tradition such as listing typography archives mediation and mereology while articulating how both poets broke with the longform poetic traditions of the early 1900s Brendan C Gillott argues for Cage's and Olson's centrality to these traditions in developing critiquing and innovating on the longform poetics of the past their work revolutionized the longform poetry of the 20th and 21st centuries

Notational Experiments in North American Long Poems, 1961-2011 A. J. Carruthers, 2017-01-28 This book is a critical experiment that tracks the literary and poetic uses of musical notation and notational methods in North American long poems from the middle of last century to the contemporary moment Poets have readily referred to their poems as scores Yet in this study Carruthers argues that the integration of musical scores in expansive works of this period does more work than previously thought offering both resolution and escape from the demands placed on long poem form The five case studies on Langston Hughes Armand Schwerner BpNichol Joan Retallack and Anne Waldman offer approaches to reading literary scores in what might be described as a critical stave or a critical fugue of instances In differing ways musical notation and notational methods impact the form time and sometimes the ethical and political stances of these respective long poems Rethinking the North American Long Poem Ridvan Askin, Julius Greve, 2024-12-15 For centuries critics poets poet scholars and philosophers have either openly proclaimed or tacitly assumed the long poem as the highest expression of literary ambition and excellence Rethinking the North American Long Poem focuses on the North American variant of this notorious form notorious because of its often forbidding and difficult character particularly with respect to the dialectics of content and form aesthetics and politics matter and genre In nine essays and a contextual introduction the editors and contributors scrutinize seminal long poems by North American writers including Walt Whitman's Song of Myself Ezra Pound's The Cantos Muriel Rukeyser's The Book of the Dead and Charles Olson's The Maximus Poems They also explore recent efforts that have redefined or reopened the case of the long poem including Rachel Blau DuPlessis's Drafts M NourbeSe Philip's Zong and Claudia Rankine's Citizen Taking the categories of form matter and experiment as frames of conceptual reference the book examines the ways in which material and immaterial aspects of literary practice and the philosophically and politically inscribed duality of experience and experiment are negotiated in and by North American long poems from the nineteenth century to the present

The Great War, The Waste Land and the Modernist Long Poem Oliver Tearle, 2019-03-07 The Great War The Waste Land and the Modernist Long Poem explores how cultural responses to the trauma of the First World War found expression in the form of the modernist long poem Beginning with T S Eliot's The Waste Land Oliver Tearle reads that most famous example of the genre in comparison with lesser known long poems such as Hope Mirrlees's Paris A Poem Richard Aldington's A Fool in the Forest and Nancy Cunard's Parallax As well as presenting a new history of this neglected genre the book examines the ways in which the modernist long poem represented the seminal literary form for grappling with the crises of European modernity in the wake of World War I

A Long Essay on the Long Poem Rachel Blau DuPlessis, 2023-03-21 For decades Rachel Blau DuPlessis has shown readers how genres forms and the literal acts of writing and reception can be understood as sites of struggle In her own words writing is a praxis in which the author disappears into a process into a community into discontinuities and into a desire for discovery It is cause for celebration then that we have another work of warm incisive exploratory writing from DuPlessis in A Long Essay on the Long Poem

Phenomenology and the Late Twentieth-Century American Long Poem Matthew Carbery, 2019-01-04 Phenomenology and the Late Twentieth Century American Long Poem reads major figures including Charles Olson Lyn Hejinian Nathaniel Mackey Susan Howe and Rachel Blau DuPlessis within a new approach to the long poem tradition Through a series of contextualised close readings it explores the ways in which American poets developed their poetic forms by engaging with a variety of European phenomenologists including Hannah Arendt Maurice Merleau Ponty Martin Heidegger Emmanuel Levinas and Jacques Derrida Consolidating recent materials on the role of Continental Philosophy in American poetics this book explores the theoretical and historical contexts in which avant garde poets have developed radically new methods of making poems long Matthew Carbery offers a timely commentary on a number of major works of American poetry whilst providing ground breaking research into the wider philosophical context of late twentieth century poetic experimentation

Mysticism in Postmodernist Long Poems Joe Moffett, 2014-10-28 Written from a literary critic's perspective Mysticism in Postmodernist Long Poems borrows insights from Religious Studies and critical theory to examine the role of spirituality in contemporary poetry specifically the genre of the long poem Descending from Whitman's Song of Myself the long poem is often considered the American twentieth century equivalent of the epic poem but unlike the epic it carries few generic expectations aside from the fact that it simply must be long This makes the form particularly pliable as a tool for spiritual inquiry The period following World War II is often described as a secular age but spirituality continued as a concern for poets as evidenced by this study These writers look beyond conventional faith systems and instead seek individual paths of understanding they engage in mysticism in other words With chapters on H D and Brenda Hillman Robert Duncan James Merrill Charles Wright and Galway Kinnell and Gary Snyder this study demonstrates how these poets engage the culture of consumption in the postwar years at the same time they search for opportunities for transcendence Not content to throw over the earthly in favor of the otherworldly these poets reject the familiar binary of the worldly and metaphysical to produce distinctive paths of spiritual understanding that fuel what Wright calls a contemplation of the divine
