Balochi and Sorani Kurdish in addition to European languages

Slavery in the Islamic Middle East Shaun Elizabeth Marmon, 1999 Slavery recognized and regulated by Islamic law was an integral part of Muslim societies in the Middle East well into modern times Recruited from the Abode of War by means of trade or warfare slaves began their lives in the Islamic world as deracinated outsiders described by Muslim jurists as being in a state like death awaiting resurrection and rebirth through manumission Many of these slaves were manumitted and some rose to prominence as soldiers and political leaders Others were not so fortunate Slaves of African origin in particular were often condemned to lives of menial labor Despite the importance of slavery in Islamic history this institution has received scant attention from scholars This volume examines the institution of slavery in Islam in a range of cultural settings

Slavery and Abolition in the Ottoman Middle East Ehud R. Toledano, 2012-02-01 In the Ottoman Empire many members of the ruling elite were legally slaves of the sultan and therefore could technically be ordered to surrender their labor their property or their lives at any moment Nevertheless slavery provided a means of social mobility conferring status and political power within the military the bureaucracy or the domestic household and formed an essential part of patronage networks Ehud R Toledano s exploration of slavery from the Ottoman viewpoint is based on extensive research in British French and Turkish archives and offers rich original and important insights into Ottoman life and thought In an attempt to humanize the narrative and take it beyond the plane of numbers tables and charts Toledano examines the situations of individuals representing the principal realms of Ottoman slavery female harem slaves the sultan s military and civilian kuls court and elite eunuchs domestic slaves Circassian agricultural slaves slave dealers and slave owners Slavery and Abolition in the Ottoman Middle East makes available new and significantly revised studies on nineteenth century Middle Eastern slavery and suggests general approaches to the study of slavery in different cultures

Slaves of One Master Matthew S. Hopper,2015-01-01 Matthew S Hopper s wide ranging history of the African diaspora and slavery in Arabia in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries examines the interconnected themes of enslavement globalization and empire and challenges previously held conventions regarding Middle Eastern slavery and British imperialism Linking the personal stories of enslaved Africans to the impersonal global commodity chains their labor enabled this provocative and deeply researched study contradicts the conventional historiography that regards the Indian Ocean slave trade as fundamentally different from its Atlantic counterpart and disputes the triumphalist antislavery narrative that attributes the end of the East African Persian Gulf slave trade to the efforts of the British Royal Navy

The Legacy of Arab-Islam in Africa John Allembillah Azumah,2014-10-01 Thoughtful and challenging this book argues for a reassessment of the role historically played by Islam in Africa and offers new hope for increased mutual understanding between African people of different faiths Drawing on a wealth of sources from the colonial period to the most up to date scholarship the author challenges the widely held perception that while Christianity oppressed and subjugated the African people Islam fitted comfortably into the indigenous landscape Instead this penetrating account reveals Muslim settlers to be as guilty of enforcing slavery and conversion as those of their more maligned sister tradition Only with an acknowledgement of the true roles of both faiths in African history suggests Azumah can the people of both traditions move themselves and their continent towards a new future of tolerance and self awareness
