Gebhard, Timothy E. Gregory, 2015-12-31 Pindar's metaphor of the Isthmus as a bridge spanning two seas encapsulates the essence of the place and gives a fitting title for this volume of 17 essays on the history and archaeology of the area The Isthmus best known for the panhellenic Sanctuary of Poseidon attracted travelers both before and after Pausanias's visit in the 2nd century AD but only toward the end of the 19th century were the ruins investigated and a half century later finally systematically excavated More recently archaeologists have surveyed the territory beyond the sanctuary compiling evidence for a varied picture of activity on the wider Isthmus and the eastern Corinthia The essays in this book celebrate 55 years of research on the Isthmus and provide a comprehensive overview of the state of our knowledge Topics include an Early Mycenaean habitation site at Kyras Vrysi the settlement at Kalamianos the Archaic Temple of Poseidon domestic architecture of the Rachi settlement dining vessels from the Sanctuary of Poseidon the Temple Deposit at Isthmia and the dating of Archaic and Early Classical Greek coins terracotta figurines from the Sanctuary of Poseidon the Chigi Painter arms from the age of Philip and Alexander at Broneer's West Foundation on the road to Corinth new sculptures from the Isthmian Palaimonion an inscribed herm from the Gymnasium Area of Corinth Roman baths at Isthmia and sanctuary baths in Greece Roman buildings east of the Temple of Poseidon patterns of settlement and land use on the Roman Isthmus epigraphy liturgy and Imperial policy on the Justinianic Isthmus and circular lamps in the Late Antique Peloponnese Beyond Thalassocracies Evi Gorogianni, Peter Pavuk, Luca Girella, 2016-08-31 Beyond Thalassocracies aims to evaluate and rethink the manner in which archaeologists approach understand and analyze the various processes associated with culture change connected to interregional contact using as a test case the world of the Aegean during the Late Bronze Age c 1600-1100 BC The 14 chapters compare and contrast various aspects of the phenomena of Minoanisation and Mycenaeanisation both of which share the basic underlying defining feature of material culture change in communities around the Aegean This change was driven by trends manifesting themselves in the dominant palatial communities of each period of the Bronze Age Over the past decade our understanding of how these processes developed and functioned has changed considerably Whereas current discussions on Minoanisation have already been informed by more recent theoretical trends especially in material culture studies and post colonial theory the process of Mycenaeanisation is still very much conceptualized along traditional lines of explanation Since these phenomena occurred in chronological sequence it makes sense that any reappraisal of their nature and significance should target those regions of the Aegean basin that were affected by both processes highlighting their similarities and differences Thus in the present volume we focus on the southern and eastern Aegean in particular the Cyclades Dodecanese and the north eastern Aegean islands The Guide to the Top 100 History Books Navneet Singh, Table of Contents 1 Introduction Why History Books

The Mediterranean Context of Early Greek History p. Drawing extensively on the latest archaeological data from the entire Mediterranean basin, Nancy Demand offers a compelling argument for situating the origins of the Greek city state within a pan-Mediterranean network of maritime interactions that stretches back millennia. Jonathan Hall, University of Chicago. Nancy Demand's book is a remarkable achievement. Her Heraklian labors have produced stunning documentation of the consequences of the vast spectrum of interaction between the peoples surrounding the Mediterranean Sea from the Mesolithic into the Iron Age. Carol Thomas, University of Washington. Were the origins of the Greek city state the polis a unique creation of Greek genius? Or did their roots extend much deeper? Noted historian Nancy H. Demand joins the growing group of scholars and historians who have abandoned traditional isolationist models of the development of the Greek polis and cast their scholarly gaze seaward to the sparkling waters of the Mediterranean. The Mediterranean Context of Early Greek History reveals the role the complex interaction of Mediterranean cultures and maritime connections had in shaping and developing urbanization, including the ancient Greek city states. Utilizing and enhancing upon the model of the fantastic cauldron first put forth by Jean Paul Morel in 1983, Demand reveals how Greek city states did not simply emerge in isolation in remote country villages but rather sprang up along the shores of the Mediterranean in an intricate maritime network of Greeks and non-Greeks alike. We learn how early seafaring trade, such as the development of obsidian trade in the Aegean, stimulated innovations in the provision of food, the Neolithic Revolution, settlement organization, political form, materials for tool production, and concepts of divinity. With deep scholarly precision, The Mediterranean Context of Early Greek History offers fascinating insights into the wider context of the Greek city state in the ancient world. Daidalos at Work Clair Palyvou, 2018-12-31. This is primarily a book on architecture, and as such it seeks to bring forward the deeper forces that guide the work of all the sons and all the daughters of Daidalos. Architecture is the protagonist, whereas the prehistoric time of this architecture is as important as any other historical time. This book is firmly based on the realities of a long-silenced world available to us today through the agency of archaeology. In that sense, it addresses archaeologists, architectural historians, and architects alike in the hope that it will prove useful to those interested in understanding the Minoan world through its architecture as much as those interested in exploring architecture through the Minoan paradigm. This dual goal emanates from my deep belief in the timeless and universal values of architecture. As a teacher of history of architecture, the challenge has been to bring history into the studios where future architecture is formulated, to engage history in the discourse on current architectural ethos and practices, and to show that an analytical and critical approach to the past is a potent tool for advancing architectural awareness and educating future architects. I am equally confident that such an approach will return its benefits back to history for it will provide new tools of thought and methods of interpretation of the relics of the past Having set the scope of this book it is only fair to add what is not included in its goals the reader will not find a descriptive account of Minoan buildings and sites nor a list of the major architectural achievements in chronological order This is due not only to the enormous amount of relevant information that has been accumulated to date but also to an altogether different interest in the subject as described above Time however is crucial We have a mental need to grasp that we are rooted in the continuity of time and in the man made world it is the task of architecture to facilitate this experience Pallasmaa 2005b 32 Time related issues therefore such as permanence and change or tradition and innovation will concern us

An Archaeology of Prehistoric Bodies and Embodied Identities in the Eastern Mediterranean Maria Mina,Sevi Triantaphyllou,Yiannis Papadatos,2016-10-11 In the long tradition of the archaeology of the eastern Mediterranean bodies have held a prominent role in the form of figurines frescos or skeletal remains and have even been responsible for sparking captivating portrayals of the Mother Goddess cult the elegant women of Minoan Crete or the deeds of heroic men Growing literature on the archaeology and anthropology of the body has raised awareness about the dynamic and multifaceted role of the body in experiencing the world and in the construction performance and negotiation of social identity In these 28 thematically arranged papers specialists in the archaeology of the eastern Mediterranean confront the perceived invisibility of past bodies and ask new research questions Contributors discuss new and old evidence they examine how bodies intersect with the material world and explore the role of body situated experiences in creating distinct social and other identities Papers range chronologically from the Palaeolithic to the Early Iron Age and cover the geographical regions of the Aegean Cyprus and the Near East They highlight the new possibilities that emerge for the interpretation of the prehistoric eastern Mediterranean through a combined use of body focused methodological and theoretical perspectives that are nevertheless grounded in the archaeological record
