Book Jacket      The Dissertation Iain Borden, 2006-08-14

The Dissertation is one of the most demanding yet potentially most stimulating components of an architectural course. Properly done, it can be a valuable contribution not only to the student's own learning development but also to the field of architecture as a whole. This book provides a complete guide to what to do, how to do it, when to do it, and the major pitfalls involved. This is a comprehensive guide to all that an architecture student might need to know about undertaking the dissertation, including new material on CD-ROM and online sources, web-based research techniques, digital images, alternative imaging strategies, key architecture links, referencing, and new dissertation extracts. It clearly navigates the student through the whole process of writing, preparing, and submitting a dissertation, as well as suggesting what to do after the dissertation has been completed. Subjects covered include how to write a proposal, which research methodologies and techniques to adopt, which libraries and archives to utilize, including special architectural resources on the net, as well as how to structure, reference, and illustrate the final submission. The authors also take architecture students into new terrain, suggesting alternative methods of undertaking dissertations, whether as video, prose, writing, multimedia, or other forms of expression. Furthermore, this guide includes new examples of exemplary dissertations of all kinds, as completed by students in Europe and North America, so that the reader can clearly see the kinds of work which they themselves might choose to pursue. Also in the Seriously Useful Guides Series: The Crit, The Portfolio, Practical Experience.

The Second World War in the Twenty-First-Century Museum Stephan Jaeger, 2020-02-24

The Second World War is omnipresent in contemporary memory debates. As the war fades from living memory, this study is the first to systematically analyze how Second World War museums allow prototypical visitors to comprehend and experience the past. It analyzes twelve permanent exhibitions in Europe and North America, including the Bundeswehr Military History Museum in Dresden, the Museum of the Second World War in Gdańsk, the House of European History in Brussels, the Imperial War Museums in London and Manchester, and the National WWII Museum in New Orleans, in order to show how museums reflect and shape cultural memory, as well as their cognitive, ethical, emotional, and aesthetic potential and effects. This includes a discussion of representations of events such as the Holocaust and air warfare. In relation to narrative memory and experience, the study develops the concept of experientiality on a sliding scale between mimetic and structural forms, which provides a new textual spatial method for reading exhibitions and understanding the experiences of historical individuals and collectives It is supplemented by concepts like transnational memory empathy and encouraging critical thinking through difficult knowledge

A Life in Museums Greg Stevens, Wendy Luke, 2012-04-20 Whether you're an experienced leader a mid-career professional hoping for a promotion or a recent grad applying for your first internship A Life in Museums Managing Your Museum Career is the guide you need full of sound advice practical tips and illuminating personal stories that span the array of museum disciplines Topics range from personal branding and resume writing to managing from the middle and leadership at all levels from professional writing to keeping a career journal from navigating within your institution to knowing when it's time to move on This is a book you are sure to reference and share for years to come

The Museum Time Machine Robert Lumley, 2003-09-02 A provocative contribution to the current debate on museums this collection of essays contains contributions from France Britain Australia the USA and Canada

The Museum in Transition Hilde S. Hein, 2014-07-15 During the past thirty years museums of all kinds have tried to become more responsive to the interests of a diverse public With exhibitions becoming people centered idea oriented and contextualized the boundaries between museums and the real world are eroding Setting the transition from object centered to story centered exhibitions in a philosophical framework Hilde S Hein contends that glorifying the museum experience at the expense of objects deflects the museum's educative ethical and aesthetic roles Referring to institutions ranging from art museums to theme parks she shows how deployment has replaced amassing as a goal and discusses how museums now actively shape and create values

Museums, Children and Social Action Sharon E. Shaffer, 2023-12-15 Museums Children and Social Action examines the role that museums play in reaching teaching and inspiring children as global citizens of the world and looking to the future argues that the sustainability of museums will come from strengthening relationships with young visitors Presenting a diverse range of programs exhibitions and outreach from museums across five continents Shaffer highlights how museums are already serving children and making a difference in their lives Arguing that museums have a unique responsibility to connect this audience with relevant social issues and challenges such as social injustice racism climate change and poverty Shaffer simultaneously acknowledges that a large number of children are still on the margins of the institution and its mission Recognizing the ways in which museums are currently serving children the book also considers what museums could and should be doing as they plan for the future raising critical questions about core values community partners and social agendas Museums Children and Social Action is essential reading for academics and students engaged in the study of museums social justice and childhood It encourages museums to make it their mission to educate and serve this audience and their families for the good of children as well as museums while also considering what their institutions can do to make a lasting impact on children and their families      Learning from Museums John H. Falk, Lynn D. Dierking, 2018-10-16 This is the second edition of John H Falk and Lynn D Dierking's ground breaking book Learning from Museums While the book still focuses on why how what when and with whom people learn from their museum experiences the authors further investigate the extension of museums beyond their walls and the changing perceptions of the roles that museums increasingly play in the 21st century with respect to the publics they serve and those they would like to serve This new edition offers an updated and synthesized version of the Contextual Model of Learning as well as the latest advances in free choice learning research theory and practice in order to provide readers a highly readable and informative understanding of the personal sociocultural and physical dimensions of the museum experience Falk and Dierking also fill in gaps in the 1st edition Falk's research focuses increasingly on the self related needs that museums meet and these findings enhance the personal context chapter Dierking's work delves deeply into the macro sociocultural dimensions of learning a topic not discussed in the sociocultural chapter in the first edition Emphasizing the importance of time and space the second edition adds an entirely new chapter to describe the important dimension of time They also insert findings from the burgeoning field of neuroscience Latter chapters of the book discuss the evolving role of museums in the rapidly changing Information Learning Society of the 21st century New examples and suggestions highlight the ways that the new understandings of learning can help museum practitioners reinvent how museums can and should support the public's lifelong life wide and life deep learning      Museum Transformations Annie E. Coombes, Ruth B. Phillips, 2020-11-17 MUSEUM TRANSFORMATIONS DECOLONIZATION AND DEMOCRATIZATION Edited By ANNIE E COOMBES AND RUTH B PHILLIPS Museum Transformations Decolonization and Democratization addresses contemporary approaches to decolonization greater democratization and revisionist narratives in museum exhibition and program development around the world The text explores how museums of art history and ethnography responded to deconstructive critiques from activists and poststructuralist and postcolonial theorists and provided models for change to other types of museums and heritage sites The volume's first set of essays discuss the role of the museum in the narration of difficult histories and how altering the social attitudes and political structures that enable oppression requires the recognition of past histories of political and racial oppression and colonization in museums Subsequent essays consider the museum's new roles in social action and discuss experimental projects that work to change power dynamics within institutions and leverage digital technology and new media      The International Handbooks of Museum Studies, 4 Volume Set Sharon Macdonald, Helen Rees Leahy, 2015-07-20 The International Handbooks of Museum Studies is a multi volume reference work that represents a state of the art survey of the burgeoning field of museum studies Featuring original essays by leading international museum experts and emerging scholars readings cover all aspects of museum theory practice debates and the impact of technologies The four volumes in the series divided thematically offer in depth treatment of all major issues relating to museum theory historical and contemporary museum practice mediations in art design and architecture and the transformations and challenges confronting the museum In addition to invaluable surveys of current scholarship the entries include a rich and diverse panoply of examples and original case studies to illuminate the various perspectives Unprecedented for its in depth topic coverage and breadth of scholarship the multi volume International Handbooks of Museum Studies is an indispensable resource for the study of the development roles and significance of museums in contemporary society

Recoding the Museum Ross Parry, 2007-11-19 Through an historical approach Ross Parry excavates cultural assumptions and values that provide the basis of museum information management and display and that are still used to this day

Museums and Colonization Isabella Hughes, 2025-02-24 Museums and Colonization explores the complex relationship between colonial expansion and the collections housed in museums today It argues that these institutions are not neutral spaces but are deeply intertwined with colonial history reflecting imperial ambitions and unequal power dynamics The book uncovers how artifacts often acquired through coercive means became cornerstones of renowned museums shaping a worldview that perpetuated colonial narratives The book progresses by first establishing the historical context of colonial era collecting tracing the evolution from private collections to public museums as instruments of national pride It then analyzes the intellectual frameworks like scientific racism that justified appropriating cultural heritage Finally the book confronts contemporary debates on repatriation and decolonization examining legal ethical and political dimensions as well as alternative museum models By delving into these issues Museums and Colonization provides a unique perspective on the interconnectedness of colonial power knowledge production and museum practices offering insights into the ongoing controversies surrounding cultural heritage

Channeling the Past Erik Christiansen, 2013-03-15 After the turmoil of the Great Depression and World War II Americans looked to the nation's more distant past for lessons to inform its uncertain future By applying recent and emerging techniques in mass communication including radio and television programs and commercial book clubs American elites working in media commerce and government used history to confer authority on their respective messages With insight and wit Erik Christiansen uncovers in Channeling the Past the ways that powerful corporations rewrote history to strengthen the postwar corporate state while progressives communists and other leftists vied to make their own versions of the past more popular Christiansen looks closely at several notable initiatives CBS's flashback You Are There program the Smithsonian Museum of American History constructed in the late 1950s the Cavalcade of America program sponsored by the Du Pont Company the History Book Club and the Freedom Train a museum on rails that traveled the country from 1947 to 1949 exhibiting historic documents and flags including original copies of the U S Constitution and the Magna Carta It is often said that history is written by the victors but Christiansen offers a more nuanced perspective history is constantly remade to suit the objectives of those with the resources to do it He provides dramatic evidence of sophisticated calculations that influenced both public opinion and historical memory and shows that Americans relationships with the past changed as a result      Reinventing the Museum Gail Anderson,2023-05-04 Reinventing the Museum Relevance Inclusion and Global Responsibilities is the third edition following the 2004 and 2012 versions of the Reinventing series More than a decade since the prior volume was published this edition features all new content written since 2017 relevant to this pivotal time for museums operating in a complex world This anthology features leading thinkers from across the globe who expertly discuss the realities facing museums the urgency to take action and museums as essential contributors to a more equitable and socially responsible world The introduction highlights the issues of our times and frames the structure of the book and intentional order of the contents A dramatically revised Reinventing the Museum Tool serves as a springboard for discussions within museum staff and trustees among students and faculty and with emerging to seasoned museum professionals The curated approach of the book unfolds with a sequence of thinking that frames the subsequent sections and chapters The range of topics in this volume cover global realities shifts in institutional mindset the urgency to achieve inclusion and equity in museums and fresh perspectives of practical approaches to actualize the reinvented museum      The Value of Museums John H. Falk,2021-10-11 Written by one of the world s leading authorities on the public use of museums The Value of Museums Enhancing Societal Well Being provides a timely and compelling way for museum professionals to better understand and explain the benefits created by museum experiences The key insight this book advances is that museum experiences successfully support a major driver of human behavior the desire for enhanced well being Knowingly or not the business of museums has always been to support and enhance the public s personal intellectual social and physical well being Over the years museums have excelled at this task as evidenced by the almost indelible memories museum experiences engender People report that museum experiences make them feel better about themselves more informed happier healthier and more enriched all outcomes directly related to enhanced well being Historically benefits such as enhanced well being were seen as vague and intangible but Falk shows that enhanced well being when properly conceptualized can not only be defined and measured but also can be monetized However as many in the museum world are painfully aware what worked yesterday for museums may not work in the future as recessions and pandemics rapidly alter the landscape Although insights about past experiences are interesting what is needed now is a roadmap for the future Fortunately for museums the public s need for enhanced well being will not be disappearing any time soon enhanced well being is now and will always be a fundamental and on going human need What has and will change though is how people choose to satisfy their well being related needs The Value of Museums provides tangible suggestions for how museum professionals can build on their legacy of success at supporting the public s well being adapting to changing times and remaining relevant and sustainable in the future      Centering the Museum Elaine Heumann Gurian,2021-09-14 Drawing on Elaine Heumann Gurian s fifty years of museum experience Centering the Museum calls on the profession to help visitors experience their shared humanity and find social uses for public buildings in order to make museums more central and useful to everyone in difficult times Following the same format as Civilizing the Museum this new volume includes material written especially for a re emergent time and relevant public lectures not included in the author s previous book Divided into six separate content clusters with over twenty different essays the book identifies many small subtle ways museums can become welcoming to more and to all Drawing on her extensive experience as a deputy director senior advisor to high profile government museums lecturer and teacher around the world the author provides recommendations for inclusive actions by intertwining sociological thinking with practical decision making strategies Writing reflectively Elaine also provides heritage students and professionals with insights that will help move their careers and organizations into more equitable yet successful terrain Centering the Museum will be an excellent companion volume to Civilizing the Museum and as such will be a useful support for emerging museum leaders It will be especially interesting to academics and students engaged in the study of cultural administration as well as museum and heritage practitioners working around the world
