The Music Lebon:

Popular Culture and Nationalism in Lebanon Christopher Stone, 2007-09-12 Based on an award winning thesis this volume is a pioneering study of musical theatre and popular culture and its relation to the production of identity in Lebanon in the second half of the twentieth century In the aftermath of the departure of the French from Lebanon and the civil violence of 1958 the Rahbani brothers Asi and Mansour staged a series of folkloric musical theatrical extravaganzas at the annual Ba labakk festival which highlighted the talents of Asi s wife the Lebanese diva Fairouz arguably the most famous living Arab singer The inclusion of these folkloric vignettes into the festival s otherwise European dominated cultural agenda created a powerful nation building combination of what Partha Chatterjee calls the appropriation of the popular and the classicization of tradition The Rahbani project coincides with the confluence of increasing internal and external migration in Lebanon as well as with the rapid development of mass media technology of which the Ba labakk festival can be seen as an extension Employing theories of nationalism modernity globalism and locality this book shows that these factors combined to give the project a potent identity forming power Popular Culture and Nationalism in Lebanon is the first study of Fairouz and the Rahbani family in English and will appeal to students and researchers in the field of Middle East studies Popular culture and musical theatre

programs Civil and Uncivil Violence in Lebanon Samir Khalaf,2002-04-18 In this long awaited work Samir Khalaf analyzes the history of civil strife and political violence in Lebanon and reveals the inherent contradictions that have plagued that country and made it so vulnerable to both inter Arab and superpower rivalries How did a fairly peaceful and resourceful society with an impressive history of viable pluralism coexistence and republicanism become the site of so much barbarism and incivility Khalaf argues that historically internal grievances have been magnified or deflected to become the source of international conflict From the beginning he shows foreign interventions have consistently exacerbated internal problems Lebanon s fragmented political culture is a byproduct of two general features First it reflects the traditional forces and political conflicts caused by striking differences in religious beliefs and communal and sectarian loyalties that continue to split the society and reinforce its factional character Second and superimposed on these are new forms of socioeconomic and cultural stress caused by Lebanon s role in the continuing international conflicts in the region Khalaf concludes that Lebanon is now at a crossroads in its process of political and social transformation and proposes some strategies to re create a vibrant civil and political culture that can accommodate profound transformations in the internal domestic sphere as well as mediate developments taking place internationally Throughout Khalaf demonstrates how the internal and external currents must be considered simultaneously in order to understand the complex and tragic history of the country This deeply considered and subtle analysis of the interplay of complex historical forces helps us to imagine a viable future not only for Lebanon but also for the Middle East as a whole Top 50 Best Things to do in Beirut, Lebanon Nicholas Khatch,2023-08-01 This list
