Literature Bernice E. Cullinan, Diane Goetz Person, 2005-01-01 Provides articles covering children's literature from around the world as well as biographical and critical reviews of authors including Avi, C. S. Lewis, J. K. Rowling, and Anno Mitsumasa.

The Economics of Everglades Restoration Richard Weisskoff, 2005-01-01 The book provides valuable contributions on three related fronts. It places past and current debates on ecosystem restoration of the Everglades in a clear systems context that acknowledges feedback between ecosystem quality and economic growth. Shows for the case of the Everglades that good intentions of providing generous financial support for restoration may lead to undesired effects that actually run counter to the original goal and demonstrates the use of regional modeling tools to develop consistent baseline forecasts and alternative scenarios. Matthias Ruth, University of Maryland, College Park, US. The restoration of the Florida Everglades, the largest ecosystem restoration project in the world, is now underway. Missing from the original plan, however, is a study of the region's cities and farms and the economic impact their growth will make on this already endangered ecosystem. This book provides that analysis.

Reading Raps Rita Soltan, 2005-12-30 Book clubs are sprouting up all over and so are book club guides, but not all book club guides are equal. Many focus on a specific type of book club or they take a generic approach of one size fits all and most do not take into account the special needs of librarians and educators working with young readers. This guide has it all and it will help you ensure that your book club meetings are both fun and educational. Focusing on children in grades 3-8 and their families, the book offers 100 ready-made book club instructions for popular children's and YA titles from newer releases such as Theresa Nelson's Ruby Electric and Blue Balliett's Chasing Vermeer to perennial favorites and award-winning classics such as Johanna Hurwitz's Much Ado about Aldo and Gary Soto's Baseball in April and Other Stories. Along with thought-provoking discussion questions, you'll find all the background information you need to conduct lively book discussions with a variety of readers: plot summary, themes, and characters; description; genre; reading level; author and award information; related reads; and more. The guide describes four types of family-oriented book clubs: family, mother-daughter, father-son, and readers' rap, as well as a book club for kids only. The author provides practical instructions for making each type of book club successful. For each title, she provides a plot summary, characterization sketches, questions to use for provocative discussion, and follow-up bibliographies on similar reads. Notes on genres, themes, and reading levels are also provided. The selected titles reflect some of the best, most current and most popular children's literature. In addition, a broad scope of genres and multicultural titles are included. Perfect for public library programs and after-school book clubs, this is a one-stop resource with practical, ready-made plans that can easily be adapted to multiple environments. Grades 3-8.

Reading Programs for Young Adults Martha Seif Simpson, 2015-11-16 School and public libraries often provide programs and activities for children in preschool through the sixth grade, but there is little available to young adults. For them, libraries become a place for work, the place to research an assignment or find a book for a report, but the thought of the library as a place for enjoyment is lost. So how do librarians recapture the interest of teenagers? This just might be the answer. Here you
