Price, 2015-08-06 Excerpt from The Modern Factory Safety Sanitation and Welfare There were in the United States according to the census of 1909 268 491 industrial establishments in which there worked 6 615 046 persons These figures do not include a great many smaller workshops in stores separate parts of industrial establishments and small domestic workshops The modern factory is therefore a paramount economic force in the social and industrial life of the country and the nation Factory and labor legislation industrial relations between capital and labor improvement of factory conditions and amelioration of the conditions of the large mass of American workers are the burning questions of the day and the most vital problems of the hour The Federal government the legislatures of individual states and many private social organizations throughout the country vie with each other in numerous inquiries conferences investigations commissions exhibits etc all bearing on the subject of industrial and factory conditions The time is ripe for a treatise on the modern factory for in spite of all the intense interest in the subject of industrial and factory conditions there is as yet no special book on this subject in the English language An attempt is made in this book to give a comprehensive although necessarily brief review of the safety and sanitary conditions of factories and workshops as they are and to indicate the methods of safety sanitation efficiency and welfare of factories and workshops as they should be As sanitary inspector of the New York Health Department for a number of years as student and teacher of sanitary science as practitioner for twenty years in the most crowded section of the East Side in New York City as author of a number of books on general sanitation and hygiene the writer has had special opportunities for studying industrial workers and industrial conditions at first hand About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works look down or let your eyes stray Even washing one's hands are tied to anxieties of disgust and humiliation And yet other things also happen in these spaces babies are changed conversations are had make up is applied and notes are scrawled for posterity Beyond these private issues there are also real public concerns problems of public access ecological waste and in many parts of the world sanitation crises At public events why are women constantly waiting in long lines but not men Where do the homeless go when cities decide to close public sites Should bathrooms become standardized to accommodate the disabled Is it possible to create a unisex bathroom for transgendered people In Toilet noted sociologist Harvey Molotch and Laura Noyon bring together twelve essays by urbanists historians and cultural analysts among others to shed light on the public restroom These noted scholars offer an assessment of our historical and contemporary practices showing us the intricate mechanisms through which even the physical design of restrooms the configurations of stalls the number of urinals the placement of sinks and the continuing segregation of women's and men's bathrooms reflect and sustain our cultural attitudes towards gender class and disability Based on a broad range of conceptual political and down to earth viewpoints the original essays in this volume show how the bathroom as a practical matter reveals competing visions of pollution danger and distinction Although what happens in the toilet usually stays in the toilet this brilliant revelatory and often funny book aims to bring it all out into the open proving that profound and meaningful history can be made even in the can Contributors Ruth Barcan Irus Braverman Mary Ann Case Olga Gershenson Clara Greed Zena Kamash Terry Kogan Harvey Molotch Laura Noyon Barbara Penner Brian Reynolds and David Serlin
