Sketchbooks, 1946-1949 Max Frisch, 2022-05-20 A new translation of one of the earliest volumes of Max Frisch's innovative notebooks. Throughout his life the great Swiss playwright and novelist Max Frisch (1911-1991) kept a series of diaries or sketchbooks as they came to be known in English. First published in English translation in the 1970s, these sketchbooks played a major role in establishing Frisch as, according to the New York Times, the most innovative, varied, and hard to categorize of all major contemporary authors. His diaries said the Times read like novels, and his best novels are written like diaries. Now Seagull Books presents the first unabridged English translation of Sketchbooks 1946-1949 in a new translation by Simon Pare. This edition reinstates material omitted from the 1977 edition, including a screenplay for an unmade film. In this first volume, which covers the years 1946 to 1949, Frisch chronicles the intellectual and material situation in postwar Europe from the vantage point of a citizen of a neutral German-speaking country. His notes on travels to the scarred cities of Germany, to Austria, France, Italy, Prague, Wrocław, and Warsaw paint a complex and stimulating picture of a continent emerging from the rubble as new fault lines are drawn between East and West. As Frisch completes his final architectural projects and garners early success as a writer, he reflects on theater, language, and writing, and he sketches the outlines of plays, including The Fire Raisers and Count derland. Whatever experience he chronicles in the sketchbook, whether it's a Bastille Day party, an Italian fish market, or a tightrope display amid the ruins of Frankfurt, or an afternoon by Lake Zurich with Bertolt Brecht, to take just a few examples, his keen dramatist's eye immerses the reader in the setting while also probing the deeper significance and motivations underlying the scene. This new translation will serve to draw out the immediacy and contemporary quality of Frisch's observations from the shadow of his status as a classic author, bringing his work to life for a new audience. The Temptation of Despair Werner Sollors, 2014-04-28 In Germany the end of World War II calls forth images of obliterated cities, hungry refugees, and ghostly monuments to Nazi crimes. Drawing on diaries, photographs, essays, reports, fiction, and film, Werner Sollors makes visceral the sorrow and anger, guilt and pride, despondency and resilience of a defeated people and the paradoxes of occupation.

Reciprocities in the Nonfiction Novel John Russell, 2000 Nonfiction novels have usually been associated with the new journalism writers of the 1960s, such as Tom Wolfe, Norman Mailer, and Truman Capote. Yet this form has long commanded a key position in the literary canon, as John Russell now reveals. Russell identifies eleven major works, not usually thought of as nonfiction novels, such as Isak Dinesen's Out of Africa and E. E. Cummings's The Enormous Room, to create a new definition of the genre. He shows that journalistic writing is characterized by a reporter's proprietary stance, which undermines reciprocity with subjects, while true nonfiction novels feature greater reciprocity and also employ such techniques as circular narrative and bricolage. Reciprocities in the Nonfiction Novel contributes to ongoing explorations of literary forms and offers wise

The Annual of Psychoanalysis, V. 19 Jerome A. Winer, 2013-05-13 Volume 19 of The Annual of Psychoanalysis turns to the ever intriguing relationship between Psychoanalysis and Art This introductory section begins with Donald Kuspit's scholarly reflections on the role of analysis in visual art and art criticism and then proceeds to a series of topical studies on Freud and art introduced by Harry Trosman Egyptologist Lorelei Corcoran explores the Egypt of Freud's imagination thereby illuminating our understanding of the archaeological metaphor Marion Tolpin offers new insights into Freud's analysis of the American writer Hilda Doolittle by focusing on the meaning of the Goddess Athene whose statue rested on Freud's desk to both analyst and analysand Stephen Toulmin examines Freud's artistic sensibility and places the historical significance of Freud's art collection in bold relief by looking at the many contemporary art objects Freud chose not to collect Danielle Knafo identifies key events in the early life of Austrian Expressionist Egon Schiele that were primary determinants of the content and form of his self portraits And Barbara Almond examines the spontaneous healing process depicted in Margaret Drabble's novel The Needle's Eye as an analogue to the kind of growth and development mobilized by the psychoanalytic process

Section II Psychoanalysis and Development begins with Barbara Fajardo's appreciation of the contribution of biology to analyzability she reviews findings from both infant research and biogenetic research that tend toward an understanding of constitution as resilience in development and subsequently in treatment Benjamin Garber adds to the psychoanalytic understanding of childhood learning disabilities by presenting the three and a half year analysis of a learning disabled child In a fascinating two part contribution Bridging the Chasm Between Developmental Theory and Clinical Theory Joseph Palombo sheds light on some of the knottiest problems in contemporary analysis including the relationship between childhood events and the reconstruction of those events in treatment In Section III Psychoanalysis and Empathy Mary Newsome presents case material in support of her claim that the analyst's empathic understanding catalyzes the coalescence of the patient's affect and aim that is the patient's capacity to believe in and then realize his ambitions The acquisition of the capacity she contends not only betokens a specific kind of structure formation but is the bedrock of emerging self cohesion Her challenging paper is thoughtfully discussed by David Terman and Jerome Winer

Section IV of The Annual offers Jerome Kavka's appreciation of the work of N. Lionel Blitzstein 1893-1952 Blitzstein the first Chicago psychoanalyst and one of America's most gifted clinicians and teachers anticipated modern concepts of narcissism in identifying narcissistic neuroses with special treatment requirements Morris Sklansky furthers our understanding of Blitzstein in his discussion of Kavka's essay Ranging across the analytic canvas with presentations as edifying as they are provocative
