

Song Of The Forest

Marco Cascella

Song Of The Forest:

The Song of the Forest Colin Mackay, 1986 The Forest People Colin Turnbull, 2012-12-04 The bestselling classic text on one anthropologist's incredible experience living among the African Mbuti Pygmies and what he learned from their culture, customs, and love of life. In this bestselling book, Colin Turnbull, a British cultural anthropologist, details the incredible Mbuti pygmy people and their love of the forest and each other. Turnbull lived among the Mbuti people for three years as an observer, not a researcher, so he offers a charming and intimate firsthand account of the people and their culture and especially the individuals and their personalities. The Forest People is a timeless work of academic and humanitarian significance, sure to delight readers as they take a trip into a foreign culture and learn to appreciate the joys of life through the eyes of the Mbuti people.

Songs of a Dead Forest Travis Wade Beaty, 2022-07-27 Old songs can bring new life. A beleaguered dryad in search of safe harbor in a land ravaged by an invasive fungus finds herself at odds with a young dryad who wields the blasphemous magic of men. The two of them must find a way to work together before a vicious sorcerer hunts them down and puts an end to them both.

Through a Forest of Chancellors Anne Burkus-Chasson, 2020-10-26 Liu Yuan's Lingyan ge, a woodblock printed book from 1669, re-creates a portrait gallery that memorialized 24 vassals of the early Tang court. Liu accompanied each figure presented under the guise of a bandit with a couplet; the poems written in various scripts are surrounded by marginal images that allude to a contemporary novel. Religious icons supplement the portrait gallery. Liu's re-creation is fraught with questions. This study examines the dialogues created among the texts and images in Lingyan ge from multiple perspectives. Analysis of the book's materialities demonstrates how Lingyan ge embodies rather than reflects the historical moment in which it was made. Liu unveiled and even dramatized the interface between manuscript and printed book in Lingyan ge. Authority over the book's production is negotiated, asserted, overturned, and reinstated. Use of pictures to construct a historical argument intensifies this struggle. Anne Burkus-Chasson argues that despite a general epistemological shift toward visual forms of knowledge in the seventeenth century, looking and reading were still seen as being in conflict. This conflict plays out among the leaves of Liu Yuan's book.

Srutek, Elgene E. O. Box, 2013-03-14 When two of us, Jirí Kolbek and Miroslav Srutek, were working in North Korea on the Czech-Slovak field expeditions of the early 1990s, we did not think initially of comparing our results with the vegetation of surrounding areas or of writing a book. Our efforts mainly involved observing and documenting the vegetation as completely as possible and initial recognition of vegetation units. At first we focused on the most obvious vegetation types but eventually also any important types that we could discern. Later we focused more on forests since almost all of northeastern Asia has forest potential and forests still do form the landscape matrix in most areas. First we studied suburban woods and forests most of which are strongly affected by human activities Later though we also had chances to visit and study lovely mountain regions including Myohyang san Kumgang san Su jang san and the high especially beautiful Changbai shan on the border between North Korea and China The Changbai shan is the highest mountain system in the Korean Peninsula including the highest peak Paektu san We gradually changed our goal from an evaluation of forest data from North Korea to comparison with available field data and literature sources from comparable surrounding areas These include South Korea the Russian Far East northeastern China Manchuria and northern Japan including the Kuril Islands Finally we decided to prepare a preliminary survey of the forest vegetation of the Russian Far East and eventually of all of northeastern Asia which would be published in English
