The Song of Songs and the Eros of God Edmée Kingsmill, 2009-11-26 Modern biblical scholarship interprets the Song as a collection of love lyrics For Edmée Kingsmill on the contrary the essence of the Song is mystical A principal concern of this study however is to uncover the relationship between the 117 verses of the Song and those biblical books to which they point Beneath the metaphors a network of allusions is being woven conveying a picture opposite to that we find in the prophets who confronted with the continual adultery of Israel poured forth their condemnations with unwearying passion In dramatic contrast the Song presents a paradisaal picture For lo the winter is past the rain is over and gone The flowers appear in the land and the time of singing is come Song 2 11 12 Thus in presenting the ideal the intention of the Song's author is shown to be encouragement The inclusion of this poem in the biblical canon is understood therefore to be central to the purpose of the biblical literature to bring all people to love the God of love The book is in two parts The first and longer part is concerned with themes including the relationship of the Song to the early Jewish mystical literature The second part is a short commentary intended for the reader interested in the text as much as in the related questions to which the text gives rise

Known by God Brian S. Rosner, 2017-09-12 What does the Bible say about your sense of self In the past an individual's identity was more predictable than it is now Today personal identity is a do it yourself project Constructing a stable and satisfying sense of self is hard amidst relationship breakdowns the pace and rhetoric of modern life the rise of social media social mobility and so on Ours is a day of identity angst Who are you What defines you What makes you you In Known by God Rosner argues that rather than knowing ourselves being known by God is the key to personal identity He explores three biblical angles on the question of personal identity Being made in the image of God Being known by God Being in Christ At the center of a biblical understanding of personal identity is sonship God gives us our identity as a parent who knows his child Being known by him as his child gives our fleeting lives significance provokes in us needed humility supplies cheering comfort when things go wrong and offers clear moral direction for living
