Spottswood, 2018-02-20 During the 1940s country music was rapidly evolving from traditional songs and string band styles to honky tonk western swing and bluegrass via radio records and film The Blue Sky Boys brothers Bill 1917 2008 and Earl 1919 1998 Bolick resisted the trend preferring to perform folk and parlor songs southern hymns and new compositions that enhanced their trademark intimacy and warmth They were still in their teens when they became professional musicians to avoid laboring in Depression era North Carolina cotton mills Their instantly recognizable style was fully formed by 1936 when even their first records captured soulful harmonies accented with spare guitar and mandolin accompaniments They inspired imitators but none could duplicate the Blue Sky Boys emotional appeal or their distinctive Catawba County accents Even their last records in the 1970s retained their unique magical sound decades after other country brother duets had come and gone In this absorbing account Dick Spottswood combines excerpts from Bill Bolick's numerous spoken interviews and written accounts of his music life and career into a single narrative that presents much of the story in Bill's own voice Spottswood reveals fascinating nuggets about broadcasting recording and surviving in the 1930s world of country music He describes how the growing industry both aided and thwarted the Bolick brothers career and how World War II nearly finished it The book features a complete extensively annotated list of Blue Sky Boys songs an updated discography that includes surviving unpublished records and dozens of vintage photos and sheet music covers A Guitarist's Treasury of
