John Donne: The Critical Heritage A.J. Smith, 2002-09-11 Contains writings about John Donne from 1873 to 1923 including Henry Morley Edmund Gosse W F Collier Rudyard Kipling Charles Eliot Norton Henry Augustin Beers Thomas Hardy W B Yeats Ezra Pound T S Eliot and many others Together these works present a record of how from the nineteenth century onwards critics viewed Donne and how he became part of today's literary canon Promoting Your Music Tom May, Dick Weissman, 2013-10-31 While many dream of a career as a singer songwriter few know how to go about getting bookings copywriting and protecting their songs making promotional recordings getting radio and print coverage and negotiating contracts for appearances This book covers all of these topics and more aimed at everyone from the absolute beginner to the more seasoned performer to help them avoid the common pitfalls and problems encountered along the road to success The authors draw on years of experience as songwriters and performers They have conducted interviews with many singer songwriters who share their experiences both good and bad as they've worked their way up from local gigs to full time careers Throughout practical tips are highlighted and real life stories help illuminate common issues faced by all performers songwriters History, Literature, and Music in Scotland, 700-1560 Russell Andrew McDonald, 2002-01-01 McDonald brings together contributions from scholars working in different disciplines but with a common interest in this history and society of Scotland between AD 700 and AD 1560 The Burden of Female Talent Ronald Egan, 2020-10-26 Widely considered the preeminent Chinese woman poet Li Qingzhao 1084-1150s occupies a crucial place in China's literary and cultural history She stands out as the great exception to the rule that the first rank poets in premodern China were male But at what price to our understanding of her as a writer does this distinction come The Burden of Female Talent challenges conventional modes of thinking about Li Qingzhao as a devoted but often lonely wife and later a forlorn widow By examining manipulations of her image by the critical tradition in later imperial times and into the twentieth century Ronald C Egan brings to light the ways in which critics sought to accommodate her to cultural norms molding her talent to make it compatible with ideals of womanly conduct and identity Contested images of Li including a heated controversy concerning her remarriage and its implications for her devotion to her first husband reveal the difficulty literary culture has had in coping with this woman of extraordinary conduct and ability The study ends with a reappraisal of Li s poetry freed from the autobiographical and reductive readings that were traditionally imposed on it and which remain standard even today
