Sose For Queensland 3:

Teaching for Active Citizenship Joanne Lunn Brownlee, Eva Johansson, Susan Walker, Laura Scholes, 2016-06-17 There is strong social and political interest in active citizenship and values in education internationally Active citizenship requires children to experience and internalize moral values for human rights developing their own opinions and moral responsibility While investment in young children is recognised as an important factor in the development of citizenship for a cohesive society less is known about how early years teachers can encourage this in the classroom This book will present new directions on how teachers can promote children s learning of moral values for citizenship in classrooms The research provided offers important insights into teaching for active citizenship by providing an analysis of educational contexts for moral values for active citizenship highlighting teachers beliefs about knowing and knowledge personal epistemologies and how these relate to children s learning and understanding about social and moral values discussing the impact of teachers beliefs on teaching practices Evidence suggests that investment in the early years is vital for all learning and specifically for developing an understanding of active citizenship for tolerant and cohesive societies This book will be essential reading for the professional education of early years teachers interested in teaching for active citizenship Reinventing the Curriculum Mark Priestley, Gert Biesta, 2013-08-22 An analysis of modern curricular policy trends drawing upon Scotland s Curriculum for Excellence and featuring inputs from acknowledged experts in the field Pandora's Cat Belinda Walker, 2007-04-24 James a young lad and Patch a scrawny cat find themselves on board HMS Pandora for the seagoing adventure of their lives International Review of History Education Alaric Dickinson, Peter Gordon, Peter Lee, 2013-05-13 The third volume in this international review takes raising standards as its central theme Raising standards is no simple matter either conceptually or empirically whatever politicians might think If it is to happen it must draw on research and practical experience from other countries Society and the Environment Joseph Zajda, 2002 Using both local and global perspectives examines some of the major issues in the study of society and environment Focuses on the study of people as social beings and the way they interact with each other within society and culture and the environment Aims to empower future teachers to act as informed and committed educators Reflections on Classroom Thinking Strategies Eric Frangenheim, 2005-11-05 Designed to encourage a passion for teaching this excellent resource helps teachers create a classroom climate that empowers all students to be better thinkers Creating Curricula: Aims, Knowledge and Control Dominic Wyse, 2018-03-08 Knowledge has been a defining focus for the curriculum studies field In the early part of the 21st century convincing arguments were mounted that knowledge needed to be brought back in both to the curriculum of schools and to the attention of curriculum researchers This book is a result of these arguments and what some regarded as a crisis in curriculum study related to the growing emphasis on international comparisons between education systems The book s most important contribution is to build on seminal work in the sociology and philosophy of education in order to develop new foundations for curriculum study using the importance of transactions as the context for understanding knowledge in the curriculum The contributors build on this importance to suggest a rapprochement in the field around the idea of curriculum knowledge as both constructed and real This book was originally published as a special issue of The Curriculum Journal Proceedings of the ...
