Body in Religious Experience Albert I. Baumgartner,2018-11-13 The papers in this volume were delivered at the first international colloquium by the Jacob Taubes Minerva Center for Religious Anthropology at Bar Ilan University held in February 1995 Concepts of Self Soul and Body are so close to the physiological layers of life that we may imagine them to be biological as well but in fact they are social constructs and a source of fundamental metaphors for the classification of experience They thus help organize the world at the same time as they express basic human identity They vary from culture to culture and can productively be compared and contrasted from one setting to another We intend these papers to be a test case of the benefit to be gained from attention to Religious Anthropology Fit Soul, Fit Body Mark Allen,Brant

The New Age of Soul Ray S. Anderson, 2001-11-27 In The New Age of Soul the broad appeal of new age spirituality is identified and defined with special attention to the claim that the soul may be understood as both the repository of divine energy and a source of spiritual healing and hope Through dialogue with sources and perspectives on the spiritual nature of the soul the book attempts to win the respect and appreciation of the reader already persuaded by the claims and benefits of new age spirituality while at the same time convincing the reader who has suspicions and concerns about new age spirituality that a better alternative may be found The book thus has a two fold purpose first to expose the inadequacy indeed the superficiality of new age spirituality through this dialogue and discussion attracting the attention and interest of the reader already influenced by this genre Second the author makes a case for a more traditional orthodox and biblical view of the soul and human spirituality so that the reader who is inclined toward new age spirituality will rediscover the more traditional biblical content of the soul and spirituality while providing the committed more traditional Christian reader a tool by which to communicate a biblical faith with the growing segment of our population attracted toward new age spirituality In its own way this book is an apologetic for a more traditional Christian theology of human spirituality and self identity presented in a positive dialogue with new age spirituality
