The Christian Home Samuel Philips, 2019-12-16 In The Christian Home, Samuel Philips explores the intricate dynamics of family life through a lens of Christian values and ethics. This text is a tapestry of practical guidance and theological insights, marked by Philips' accessible prose and moral clarity. Set against the backdrop of the 19th-century societal upheaval, the book emerges as a pivotal work that seeks to redefine the Christian domestic sphere amid the challenges of an evolving world, emphasizing the role of love, faith, and communal support within the home. Philips, a noted theologian and social commentator, draws from his extensive experiences within pastoral and academic realms to address both the joys and struggles encountered in familial relationships. His theological background, rooted in Puritan traditions, informs his perspective on the home as a sanctuary of faith and a breeding ground for moral virtue. The Gurs Haggadah Belah Guterman, 2003 How do you live a normal life in a Concentration Camp? The Gurs Camp, technically called a detention camp in south-western France, was the testing ground for thousands of Jews attempting to pit their belief in God and themselves against the inhumanity of war. Here, in 1941, the inmates decided to hold a Seder on Passover, the Holiday of Freedom, in order to declare their own freedom from the terror of oppression. Replete with photographs and featuring a facsimile of the actual Haggadah recreated from memory and used in the camp, this book sheds light on a little-known camp where, despite the stresses and sub-human conditions, the people enriched their own lives by organizing both religious and cultural activities while suffering under the yoke of Nazi brutality.
