Archiving: Past, Present, Future Noortje Willems, Saskia Bultman, Sylvia Holla, 2017 This 37th volume of the Yearbook of Women's History focuses on the meaning and potential of archiving for enhancing gender equality and the position of women worldwide. More than just storehouses of knowledge, archives offer new ways for understanding the past, debating the present, and creating the future. Focusing on both traditional and non-traditional archival practices in various parts of the world, the Yearbook of Women's History explores the meaning of archiving for women and women's history. Besides investigating the feminist potential of the archive, it also examines questions of erasure and forgetting. While archives may have emancipatory or democratizing potential, practices of discarding equally shape the histories that can be written and the stories that can be told. The articles in this volume are alternated with descriptions of collections and institutes, and the topics addressed cover a full range of archival theory and practice. This volume has been produced by the editorial board of the Yearbook of Women's History in collaboration with Atria Institute on Gender Equality and Women's History in Amsterdam, the Netherlands.
