The First Sacrifice:

The Story of Sacrifice Liane M. Feldman, 2020-09-21 The sacrificial instructions and purity laws in Leviticus have often been seen as later or secondary additions to an originally sparse Priestly narrative In this volume Liane M Feldman argues that the ritual and narrative elements of the Pentateuchal Priestly source are mutually dependent and that the internal logic and structure of the Priestly narrative makes sense only when they are read together Bringing together insights from the fields of ritual theory and narratology the author argues that the ritual materials in Leviticus should be understood and analyzed as literature At the core of her study is the assertion that these sacrificial instructions and purity laws form the backbone of the Priestly story world and that when these materials are read within their broader narrative context the Priestly narrative is first and foremost a story about the origins and purpose of sacrifice

How We Became Human Pierpaolo Antonello, Paul Gifford, 2015-10-01 From his groundbreaking Violence and the Sacred and Things Hidden since the Foundation of the World Ren Girard s mimetic theory is presented as elucidating the origins of culture He posits that archaic religion or the sacred particularly in its dynamics of sacrifice and ritual is a neglected and major key to unlocking the enigma of how we became human French philosopher of science Michel Serres states that Girard s theory provides a Darwinian theory of culture because it proposes a dynamic shows an evolution and gives a universal explanation This major claim has however remained underscrutinized by scholars working on Girard s theory and it is mostly overlooked within the natural and social sciences Joining disciplinary worlds this book aims to explore this ambitious claim invoking viewpoints as diverse as evolutionary culture theory cultural anthropology archaeology cognitive psychology ethology and philosophy The contributors provide major evidence in favor of

Girard's hypothesis Equally Girard's theory is presented as having the potential to become for the human and social sciences something akin to the integrating framework that present day biological science owes to Darwin something compatible with it and complementary to it in accounting for the still remarkably little understood phenomenon of human emergence The
