Книга 1 Сітко А. В., I IV 6 020303 Seamus Heaney's Regions Richard Rankin Russell, 2014-06-30 Regional voices from England Ireland and Scotland inspired Seamus Heaney the 1995 Nobel prize winner to become a poet and his home region of Northern Ireland provided the subject matter for much of his poetry In his work Heaney explored recorded and preserved both the disappearing agrarian life of his origins and the dramatic rise of sectarianism and the subsequent outbreak of the Northern Irish Troubles beginning in the late 1960s At the same time Heaney consistently imagined a new region of Northern Ireland where the conflicts that have long beset it and by extension the relationship between Ireland and the United Kingdom might be synthesized and resolved Finally there is a third region Heaney committed himself to explore and map the spirit region that world beyond our ken In Seamus Heaney s Regions Richard Rankin Russell argues that Heaney s regions the first geographic historical political cultural linguistic the second a future where peace even reconciliation might one day flourish the third the life beyond this one offer the best entrance into and a unified understanding of Heaney's body of work in poetry, prose, translations and drama. As Russell shows, Heaney believed in the power of ideas and the texts representing them to begin resolving historical divisions. For Russell, Heaney's regionalist poetry contains a Hegelian synthesis view of history that imagines potential resolutions to the conflicts that have plagued Ireland and Northern Ireland for centuries. Drawing on extensive archival and primary material by the poet Seamus Heaney, Regions examines Heaney's work from before his first published poetry volume Death of a Naturalist in 1966 to his most recent volume, the elegiac Human Chain in 2010, to provide the most comprehensive treatment of the poet's work to date.

Pronto Jerry B. Jenkins, 2005-04-01 Paul Stepola desempeña un papel vital en la reacción del mundo contra los extremistas religiosos. Paul disfruta de su trabajo como agente de la Organización Nacional de la Paz y no le basta con que la ley haya empujado a la religión a la clandestinidad. Está decidido a descubrir a los fanáticos religiosos, a exponerlos y a destruirlos, y para ello dispone de recursos ilimitados. Su cacería lo lleva a revelaciones sorprendentes. Ocurren cosas sobrenaturales que él no puede explicarse. La clandestinidad religiosa los llama milagros. Paul los llama conspiraciones, pero no puede continuar negando la verdad cuando una le toca muy de cerca. Cuando descubrir el mundo, la culminación asombrosa de esos acontecimientos. Cuando aprender en las naciones que están viviendo un comienzo nuevo, el principio del fin. The Global Politics of Contemporary Travel Writing Debbie Lisle, 2006-11-02 To what extent do best-selling travel books such as those by Paul Theroux, Bill Bryson, Bruce Chatwin and Michael Palin tell us as much about world politics as newspaper articles, policy documents and press releases? Debbie Lisle argues that the formulations of genre, identity, geopolitics and history at work in contemporary travel writing are increasingly at odds with a cosmopolitan and multicultural world in which everybody travels. Despite the forces of globalization, common stereotypes about foreignness continue to shape the experience of modern travel. The Global Politics of Contemporary Travel Writing is concerned with the way contemporary travelogues engage with and try to resolve familiar struggles about global politics such as the protection of human rights, the promotion of democracy, the management of equality within multiculturalism and the reduction of inequality. This is a thoroughly interdisciplinary book that draws from international relations, literary theory, political theory, geography, anthropology and history. Scraps of Early Texas History Mary Sherwood Helm, Elias R. Stunkel, 1998-01-21 This book constitutes the strictly refereed proceedings of the Second International Workshop on Communication and Architectural Support for Network Based Parallel Computing CANPC 98 held in Las Vegas, Nevada, USA, in January-February 1998. The 18 revised full papers presented were selected from 38 submissions on the basis of four to five reviews per paper. The volume comprises a representative compilation of state-of-the-art solutions for network-based parallel computing. Several new interconnection technologies, new software schemes and standards are studied and developed to provide low latency and high bandwidth interconnections for network based parallel computing

Brazilian History Roberto Pinheiro Machado, 2018-06-11 This book offers the reader a critical and interdisciplinary introduction to Brazilian history Combining a didactic approach with insightful historical analysis it discusses the main political cultural and social developments taking place in the Latin American country from 1500 to 2010 The historical narrative leads the reader step by step and in chronological succession to a clear understanding of the country's three main historical periods the Colonial Period 1500 1822 the Empire 1822 1889 and the Republic 1889 present Each phase is treated separately and subdivided according to the political developments and successive regional forces that controlled the nation's territory throughout the centuries At the end of each section an individual chapter discusses the foremost cultural and artistic developments of the period engaging perspectives on literature music and the visual arts including cinema Through its multifaceted approach the book explores economic history foreign policy education and social history as well as literary and artistic history to reveal the multiethnic and culturally diversified nature of Brazil in all its fullness

Emotion and the Structure of Narrative Film Ed S. Tan, 2013-10-16 Introduced one hundred years ago film has since become part of our lives For the past century however the experience offered by fiction films has remained a mystery Questions such as why adult viewers cry and shiver and why they care at all about fictional characters while aware that they contemplate an entirely staged scene are still unresolved In addition it is unknown why spectators find some film experiences entertaining that have a clearly aversive nature outside the cinema These and other questions make the psychological status of emotions allegedly induced by the fiction film highly problematic Earlier attempts to answer these questions have been limited to a few genre studies In recent years film criticism and the theory of film structure have made use of psychoanalytic concepts which have proven insufficient in accounting for the diversity of film induced affect In contrast academic psychology during the century of its existence has made extensive study of emotional responses provoked by viewing fiction film but has taken the role of film as a natural stimulus completely for granted The present volume bridges the gap between critical theories of film on the one hand and recent psychological theory and research of human emotion on the other in an attempt to explain the emotions provoked by fiction film This book integrates insights on the narrative structure of fiction film including its themes plot structure and characters with recent knowledge on the cognitive processing of natural events and narrative and person information It develops a theoretical framework for systematically describing emotion in the film viewer The question whether or not film produces genuine emotion is answered by comparing affect in the viewer with emotion in the real world experienced by persons witnessing events that have personal significance to them Current understanding of the psychology of emotions provides the basis for identifying critical features of the fiction film that trigger the general emotion system Individual emotions are classified according to their position in the affect structure of a film a larger system of emotions produced by one particular film as a whole Along the way a series of problematic issues is dealt with notably the reality of the emotional stimulus in film the identification of the viewer with protagonists on screen and the necessity of the viewer's cooperation in arriving at a genuine emotion Finally it is argued that film produced emotions are genuine emotions in response to an artificial stimulus Film can be regarded as a fine tuned machine for a continuous stream of emotions that are entertaining after all The work paves the way for understanding and in principle predicting emotions in the film viewer using existing psychological instruments of investigation Dealing with the problems of film induced affect and rendering them accessible to formal modeling and experimental method serves a wider interest of understanding aesthetic emotion the feelings that man made products and especially works of art can evoke in the beholder Truth ,1927
