Revolution in Music Évelyne Gayou,2025 Established in the 1950s by musician and engineer Pierre Schaeffer the Groupe de Recherches Musicales would become the nerve center for avant garde artists experimenting with sound and acoustics as well as the birthplace of a genre of music making enabled by new recording technologies and sound pioneers musique concr te Evelyne Gayou herself a researcher composer and producer at the GRM tells the history of the storied institution through the people works technologies and research developed there Placing musique concr te within a broad historical context extending from the early twentieth century avant garde's experiments with noise to the development of techniques in sound recording at the Studio d'Essai in the 1940s and later in sound synthesis. Gayou shows how recording technology made it possible for composers to not only create music from sounds in the world around them but also create acousmatic music: novel sounds without a visible connection to their source. Available in English translation for the first time, this updated edition will be an important resource for readers interested in the pioneering works and techniques of Schaeffer and his contemporaries as well as their influence on the makers of new music and the contemporary avant garde. A Bad Day for Romance Sophie Littlefield, 2013-09-02 That's no cupid it's a bridesmaid with a crossbow. Stella Hardesty is a seamstress with a sideline job in vigilante justice in this entertaining ebook in the Edgar-nominated and award-winning Bad Day series. Two days before her best friend gets married, Stella Hardesty has nothing more pressing on her mind than fitting into her fluffy pink bridesmaid gown, mixing her next cocktail, and enjoying a romantic weekend with her sometimes beau BJ Brodersen. Just as she's headed to the bridal shower, word comes that BJ and smokin' hot sheriff Goat Jones have gotten into a dustup over Stella's affections. Before Stella can recover from this startling development, more bad news comes along: The minister's niece, the hard-to-love pageant princess Divinity Flycock, has been arrested for the murder of her fiancé. The bride begs Stella to clear Divinity's name so that her minister will be able to perform the nuptials. When Stella starts digging into the case, however, she uncovers a world of jealous nightclub singers, firearms dealers, and the ugly underbelly of reality TV. Hot on the trail of the truth, she's distracted by the arrival of the sheriff, who finally seems ready to make a claim for her affections.
