The Fiction Of Reality:

The Fiction of Reality Zulfikar Ghose, 1983 Epistemics of the Virtual Johan F. Hoorn, 2012-05-09 Proposing a new theory of fiction this work reviews the confusion about perceived realism metaphor virtual worlds and the seemingly obvious distinction between what is true and what is false The rise of new media new technology and creative products and services requires a new examination of what real friends are to what extent scientific novelty is true and whether online content is merely figurative In this transdisciplinary theory the author evaluates cognitive theories philosophical discussion and topics in biology and physics and places these in the frameworks of computer science and literary theory The interest of the reader is continuously challenged on matters of truth fiction and the shakiness of our belief systems How Real Is Reality TV?

David S. Escoffery, 2014-12-03 American viewers are attracted to what they see as the non scripted unpredictable freshness of reality television But although the episodes may not be scripted the shows are constructed within a deliberately designed framework reflecting societal values The political economic and personal issues of reality TV are in many ways simply an exaggerated version of everyday life allowing us to identify perhaps more closely than we care to admit with the characters onscreen With 16 essays from scholars around the world this volume discusses the notion of representation in reality television It explores how both audiences and producers negotiate the gulf between representations and truth in reality shows such as Survivor The Apprentice Big Brother The Nanny American Idol Extreme Makeover Joe Millionaire and The Amazing Race Various identity categories and character types found in these shows are discussed and the accuracy of their television portrayal examined Dealing with the concept of reality audience reception gender roles minority portrayal and power issues the book provides an in depth look at what we see or think we see in reality TV Instructors considering this book for use in a course may request an examination copy here Fictional Realities / Real Fictions. Contemporary

Theatre in Search of a New Mimetic Paradigm Mateusz Borowski, Malgorzata Sugiera, 2009-03-26 The collection of essays Fictional Realities Real Fictions Contemporary Theatre in Search of a New Mimetic Paradigm tackles the problem of fictionality and reality in contemporary theatre practice and playwriting It approaches this hotly debated issue in a larger context of the theories of theatrical and dramatic mimesis The volume provides an answer to the most recent developments in performative arts such as the widespread use of new media technologies the popularity of site specific productions and the flourishing of various post dramatic forms of expression The phenomena scrutinized in this collection call into question the basic dichotomy between the fictional and the real on which the theory and practice of the Western theatre has been based right from its inception However due to their extremely heterogeneous character they pose a considerable problem for researchers and teachers who still do not find a widely applicable methodology for the analysis of contemporary performances and texts for the theatre Fictional Realities Real Fictions sets the discussion of the onset of new mimetic paradigm in three interrelated contexts the new perceptual patterns forged by contemporary theatre the use of media on stage and the strategies of today's political theatre The case studies presented here in spite of their thematic diversity are subordinated to a single theoretical framework Thus they turn out extremely useful both for the scholars investigating the problems of contemporary theatre and students of theatre and drama Fictional Realities Real Fictions offers them a rigid methodological scaffolding supported by a number of illustrative examples from a variety of cultural context and theatre traditions which gives them an opportunity to extrapolate from the main argument of the volume to their own research

Text & Reality Jeff Bernard, Jurij Fikfak, Peter Grzybek, 2005-01-01 Delo odpira nekatere temeljne dileme razmerja med resni nostjo in njenim ubesedovanjem Osvetlili so jih strokovnjaki razli nih disciplin ki jih povezuje temeljno semioti no stali e o tekstu kot kompleksnem znaku katerega funkciji sta reprezentiranje resni nosti in pragmati no ume anje govore ega spoznavajo ega subjekta v to resni nost Contemporary Italian Filmmaking Manuela Gieri, 1995-01-01 Contemporary Italian Filmmaking is an innovative critique of Italian filmmaking in the aftermath of World War II as it moves beyond traditional categories such as genre film and auteur cinema Manuela Gieri demonstrates that Luigi Pirandello's revolutionary concept of humour was integral to the development of a counter tradition in Italian filmmaking that she defines humoristic She delineates a Pirandellian genealogy in Italian cinema literature and culture through her examination of the works of Federico Fellini Ettore Scola and many directors of the new generation such as Nanni Moretti Gabriele Salvatores Maurizio Nichetti and Giuseppe Tornatore A celebrated figure of the theatrical world Luigi Pirandello 1867 1936 is little known beyond Italy for his critical and theoretical writings on cinema and for his screenplays Gieri brings to her reading of Pirandello's work the critical parameters offered by psychoanalysis poststructuralism and postmodernism to develop a syncretic and transcultural vision of the history of Italian cinema She identifies two fundamental trends of development in this tradition the melodramatic imagination and the humoristic or comic imagination With her focus on the humoristic imagination Gieri describes a Pirandellian mode derived from his revolutionary utterances on the cinema and narrative and specifically from his essay on humour L'umorismo On Humour 1908 She traces a history of the Pirandellian mode in cinema and investigates its characteristics demonstrating the original nature of Italian filmmaking that is particularly indebted to Pirandello's interpretation of humour After the New Criticism Frank Lentricchia, 2018-12-14 This work is the first history and evaluation of contemporary American critical theory within its European philosophical contexts In the first part Frank Lentricchia analyzes the impact on our critical thought of Frye Stevens Kermode Sartre Poulet Heidegger Sussure Barthes L vi Strauss Derrida and Foucault among other less central figures In a second part Lentricchia turns to four exemplary theorists on the American scene Murray Krieger E D Hirsch Jr Paul de Man and Harold Bloom and an analysis of their careers within the lineage established in part one Lentricchia's critical intention is in evidence in his sustained attack on the more or less hidden formalist premises inherited from the New Critical fathers Even in the name of historical consciousness he contends contemporary theorists have often cut literature off from social and temporal processes By so doing he believes that they have deprived literature of its relevant values and turned the teaching of both literature and theory into a rarefied activity. All along the way with the help of such diverse thinkers as Saussure, Barthes, Foucault, Derrida, and Bloom, Lentricchia indicates a strategy by which future critical theorists may resist the mandarin attitudes of their fathers. Castañeda and his Guises Adriano Palma, 2014-08-25. This volume responds to and reassesses the work of Hector Neri Castañeda 1924-1991. The essays collected here, written by his students, followers, and opponents, examine Castañeda's seminal views on deontic logic, metaethics, indexicality, practical fictions, and metaphysics, utilizing the critical viewpoint afforded by time as well as new data to offer insights on his theories and methodology. The Future of Post-Human Semantics Peter Baofu, 2012-03-15. This seminal project aims to fundamentally change the way we think about semantics from the combined perspectives of the mind, nature, society, and culture, with enormous implications for the human future and what the author originally called its post-human fate. Imagining Irreality Nicholas Rescher, 2003. Nicholas Rescher surveys and analyzes the different kinds of unreal possibilities and nonexistent objects, tying together all the diverse ways in which this area has been approached by philosophers. As he surveys the field and clarifies the kinds of unreality, he also makes a sustained argument against the philosophical fashion for dealing with nonexistent possible worlds as though they were authentic objects. The author holds that while we may discuss possibilities, we ought not to accord them ontological status. The possibility of existence of a certain sort of world is not the existence of a possible world of a certain sort. While we may reasonably discuss possibilities at the generic level, such as a world where dogs have horns, this does not require a commitment to a possible world where they do. The work that theorists of logic and language want to accomplish with possible worlds and individuals can be managed with propositional manifolds, stories, or scenarios, while the modalities of necessity and possibility that modal logicians want to analyze in terms of realization in possible worlds can be handled by turning instead to figuring in stories or scenarios.
