famous for its annual Royal Regatta and at the four neighbouring parishes of Bix Harpsden Rotherfield Greys and Rotherfield Peppard Henley began as a planned town probably in the late twelfth century and became a major inland port funnelling grain wood and later malt into London In the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries it developed as a coaching centre and from the nineteenth flourished as a fashionable resort and commuting area following the belated arrival of the railway and the self conscious promotion of the Regatta The adjoining parishes stretch from the river to the Chilterns uplands comprising a mixed landscape of wood pasture small hedged closes and in the Middle Ages small open fields Settlement is characteristically dispersed and as elsewhere in the Chilterns the balance between crops grazing and wood exploitation varied over time The area contains deserted or shrunken settlements including Bolney and the newly discovered site of Bix Gibwyn church its important buildings include Greys Court established probably in the eleventh century while Henley itself contains a richness of eighteenth century brick built houses alongside medieval timber framing several examples of which

Archaeological and Forensic Applications of Microfossils: A Deeper Understanding of Human History The Archaeological and Forensic Applications of Microfossils M. Williams, T. Hill, I. Boomer, I.P. Wilkinson, 2017-06-16 Microfossils are an abundant component of the sedimentary rock record Their analysis can reveal not only the environments in which the rocks were deposited but also their age When combined the spatial and temporal distribution patterns of microfossils offer enormous utility for archaeological and forensic investigations Their presence can act as a geological fingerprint and the tiniest source of the materials under investigation This book explores how microfossils are employed as tools to interpret human society and habitation throughout history Examples include microfossil evidence associated with Palaeolithic human occupation at Boxgrove in Sussex alongside investigations into human induced landscape change during the Holocene Further examples include the use of microfossils to provenance the source materials of Iron Age ceramics Roman mosaics and Minoan pottery in addition to their application to help solve modern murder cases highlighting the diverse applications
