Garval, 2004 With democratization of fame in the wake of the French Revolution writers enjoyed ever greater celebrity status But in nineteenth century France the availability and perceived impermanence of such renown cheapened it and prompted longing for enduring fame exemplified by monuments commemorative sculptural or architectural works helping a nation in flux define itself its past and anticipated future Within this cultural climate there evolved an ideal of great writers and their work as immortal that envisioned literary greatness through the metaphor of monuments and monumentality study draws upon wide ranging evidence from journalism to poetry caricature to statuary Focusing on the lives work and fame of Honore de Balzac George Sand and Victor Hugo it uncovers the salient features and traces the rise and fall of this monumentalizing vision of literary greatness largely forgotten today yet so central to nineteenth century French culture North Carolina State University The Broad Stone of Honour Kenelm Henry Digby, 1876 Stone Mountain Lucian Lamar Knight, 1923 Stone on Stone Imogen Corrigan, 2018-12-31 Standing in the nave of a cathedral it is hard not to wonder how ordinary human beings could have created sky scraping dizzyingly high buildings on which even the top most parts were delicately decorated in an age before even the simplest of power tools Stone on Stone presents the full story of the men who built the cathedrals of the medieval era who they were

how they lived and how with the simplest of hand tools they created the astonishing buildings that hundreds of years later still stand as monuments to their ingenuity and skill Topics covered include the context for building such huge places of worship the men who built who they were and the challenges they had to face finding the materials construction techniques building control and finally who paid for it all
