Lived Theology for the Whole of Life Lydia F. Johnson, 2024-06-27 This book is an invitation to envision an experiential theology that interconnects the personal, the interpersonal, the communal, the societal and the creational, held together by a God who is not removed from creation but who is infused in the very life of all beings and things of the created world. Since God has created and continues to create life that is good, this prompts us to apply a consistently for life ethic to the issues which confront them in the present day. Our for life faith commitments include our personal challenges with alienation, fear and forgiveness; how we can live a consistently for life ethic in the face of social challenges such as poverty, abortion, violence, racism and the othering of those who are different; the climate crisis and the dangers posed today by imperialism, war and contemporary forms of colonialism. This attempt to weave together a for life ethic for the whole of life is especially influenced by non-Western and indigenous theologies, in particular the relational theology that has emerged from Pacific Islander theologians.

Making Sense of Madness Jim Geekie, John Read, 2009-05-06 This book argues that the experience of madness is an integral part of what it is to be human and that greater focus on subjective experiences can contribute to professional understandings and ways of helping those troubled by these experiences.

The Dynamics of Cultural Counterpoint in Asian Studies David Jones, Michele Marion, 2014-03-01 Essays on a wide range of areas and topics in Asian studies for scholars looking to incorporate Asia into their worldview and teaching Contributors give contemporary presence to Asian studies through a variety of themes and topics in this multidisciplinary and interdisciplinary volume In an era of globalization scholars trained in Western traditions increasingly see the need to add materials and perspectives that have been lacking in the past. Accessibly written and void of jargon, this work provides an adaptable entrée to Asia for the integration of topics into courses in the humanities, social sciences, cultural studies, and global studies. Guiding principles developed at the East West Center include noting uncommon differences, the interplay among Asian societies and traditions, the erosion of authenticity and cultural tradition as an Asian phenomenon as well as a Western one, and the possibilities Asian concepts offer for conceiving culture outside Asian contexts. The work ranges from South to Southeast to East Asia. Essays deal with art, aesthetics, popular culture, religion, geopolitical realities, geography, history, and contemporary times. This volume truly lies at the intersection of scholarship and teaching. Each essay has the potential to help rethink approaches to scholarly issues, and there is a great deal of material for classroom discussion and examples. The book's breadth, covering India, China, Korea, the Sea of Malay, Bhutan, and other locations, is impressive. Robert Andr LaFleur, Beloit College.
