Story And Discourse Narrative Structure In Fiction And Film:

Story and Discourse Seymour Benjamin Chatman, Seymour Chatman, 1980 An important American contribution to the study of narrative theory Choice This book is the first comprehensive approach in English to a general theory of narrative both in verbal and in visual media The primary question to which Professor Chatman addresses himself is what narrative is in itself Following such French structuralists as Roland Barthes Tzvetan Todorov and Gerard Genette he posits a what and a way The what of narrative he says I call its story the way I call its discourse Liberally illustrating his concepts with discussions of particular novels and films he effects a synthesis of the latest Continental critical thinking about narrative and the Anglo American tradition exemplified by Henry James Percy Lubbock Wayne Booth and others A judicious and well informed book Story and Discourse should become a standard guide to narrative and to modern thinking about narrative

The Novel Dorothy J. Hale, 2009-02-09 The Novel An Anthology of Criticism and Theory 1900 2000 is a collection of the most influential writings on the theory of the novel from the twentieth century Traces the rise of novel theory and the extension of its influence into other disciplines especially social cultural and political theory Broad in scope including sections on formalism the Chicago School structuralism and narratology deconstruction psychoanalysis Marxism social discourse gender post colonialism and more Includes whole essays or chapters wherever possible Headnotes introduce and link each piece enabling readers to draw connections between different schools of thought Encourages students to approach theoretical texts with confidence applying the same skills they bring to literary texts Includes a volume introduction a selected bibliography an index of topics and short author biographies to support study Routledge Encyclopedia of Narrative Theory David Herman, Manfred Jahn, Marie-Laure Ryan, 2010-06-10 The past several decades have seen an explosion of interest in narrative with this multifaceted object of inquiry becoming a central concern in a wide range of disciplinary fields and research contexts As accounts of what happened to particular people in particular circumstances and with specific consequences stories have come to be viewed as a basic human strategy for coming to terms with time process and change However the very predominance of narrative as a focus of interest across multiple disciplines makes it imperative for scholars teachers and students to have access to a comprehensive reference resource Beyond Classical Narration Jan Alber, Per Krogh Hansen, 2014-07-28 This collection of essays looks at two important manifestations of postclassical narratology namely transmedial narratology on the one hand and unnatural narratology on the other The articles deal with films graphic novels computer games web series the performing arts journalism reality games music musicals and the representation of impossibilities The essays demonstrate how new media and genres as well as unnatural narratives challenge classical forms of narration in ways that call for the development of analytical tools and modelling systems that move beyond classical structuralist narratology The articles thus contribute to the further development of both transmedial and unnatural narrative theory two of the most important manifestations of postclassical narratology

Cinema of Anxiety Vincent F. Rocchio, 2010-07-22 The new realism of Italian cinema after World War II represented and in many ways attempted to contain the turmoil of a society struggling to rid itself of Fascism while fighting off the threat of radical egalitarianism at the same time In this boldly revisionist book Vincent F Rocchio combines Lacanian psychoanalysis with narratology and Marxist critical theory to examine the previously neglected relationship between Neorealist films and the historical spectators they address Rocchio builds his analysis around case studies of the films Rome Open City Bicycle Thieves La Terra Trema Bitter Rice and Senso Through the lens of psychoanalysis he challenges the traditional understanding of Neorealism as a progressive cinema and instead reveals the anxieties it encodes a society in political turmoil an economic system in collapse and a national cinema in ruins while war occupation collaboration and retaliation remain a part of everyday life These case studies demonstrate how Lacanian psychoanalysis can play a key role in analyzing the structure of cinematic discourse and its strategies of containment As one of the first books outside of feminist film theory to bring the ideas of Lacan to theories of cinema this book offers innovative methods that reinvigorate film analysis Clear and detailed insights into both Italian culture and the films under investigation will make this engaging reading for anyone interested in film and cultural studies

Optional-Narrator Theory Sylvie Patron, 2021-02 Twentieth century narratology fostered the assumption which distinguishes narratology from previous narrative theories that all narratives have a narrator Since the first formulations of this assumption however voices have come forward to denounce oversimplifications and dangerous confusions of issues Optional Narrator Theory is the first collection of essays to focus exclusively on the narrator from the perspective of optional narrator theories Sylvie Patron is a prominent advocate of optional narrator theories and her collection boasts essays by many prominent scholars including Jonathan Culler and John Brenkman and covers a breadth of genres from biblical narrative to poetry to comics This volume bolsters the dialogue among optional narrator and pan narrator theorists across multiple fields of research These essays make a strong intervention in narratology pushing back against the widespread belief among narrative theorists in general and theorists of the novel in particular that the presence of a fictional narrator is a defining feature of fictional narratives This topic is an important one for narrative theory and thus also for literary practice Optional Narrator Theory advances a range of arguments for dispensing with the narrator except when it can be said that the author actually created a fictional narrator

Light in the Dark Björn Norðfjörð, 2025 Light in the Dark tells the dramatic history of Icelandic cinema from its modest origin in the early twentieth century to the heterogeneous and complex national cinema of today. In tracing this wide-ranging history, author Björn Norðfjörð describes the constant tug between local and national cultural forces and the transnational and global pull of world cinema. Norðfjörð starts by casting light on the earliest films made in the country, expanding outward to survey Scandinavians' adaptations of Icelandic literature filmed during the late silent period, documentaries of the interwar period, and the first narrative features following the end of World War II and national independence. He traces the emergence of national cinema proper to the 1980s with the foundation of the Icelandic Film Fund, explores the subsequent impact of first European art cinema and then Hollywood genre cinema, and finally considers the remarkable international success of Icelandic cinema in the twentieth-first century. Along the way, Norðfjörð draws attention to many additional issues and topics regarding Icelandic cinema, including depictions of nature and animals, the aesthetics of fire and ice, the role of film adaptation, the impact of Nordic noir and crime fiction, Hollywood runaway productions, and the question of women's cinema in Icelandic filmmaking. Throughout the book, films from all periods of Icelandic filmmaking are analysed in detail with equal emphasis on content and form, including both lesser-known titles and key films like The Outlaw and His Wife (Victor Sjöström, 1917), Salka Valka (Arne Mattsson, 1954), Land and Sons (Sigstú Guðmundsson, 1980), When the Raven Flies (Hrafn Gunnlaugsson, 1984), Cold Fever (Friðrik Friðriksson, 1995), 101 Reykjavík (Baltasar Kormákur, 2015), Rams (Grímur Hkonarson, 2015), and Godland (Hlynur Pálmason, 2022).

Transmedial Narration Lars Elleström, 2018-12-11 This open access book is a methodical treatise on narration in different types of media. A theoretical rather than a historical study, Transmedial Narration is relevant for an understanding of narration in all times, including our own. By reconstructing the theoretical framework of transmedial narration, this book enables the inclusion of all kinds of communicative media forms on their own terms. The treatise is divided into three parts. Part I presents established and newly developed concepts that are vital for formulating a nuanced theoretical model of transmedial narration. Part II investigates the specific transmedial media characteristics that are most central for realizing narratives in a plenitude of different media types. Finally, Part III contains brief studies in which the narrative potentials of painting, instrumental music, mathematical equations, and guided tours are illuminated with the aid of the theoretical framework developed throughout the book. Suitable for advanced students and scholars, this book provides tools to disentangle the narrative potential of any form of communication.

Narratology beyond Literary Criticism Jan Christoph Meister, 2008-08-22 This anthology presents the results of the Second International Colloquium of the Narratology Research Group, Hamburg University. It engages in the exploration of approaches that broaden Narratology's realm. The contributions illustrate the transcendence of traditional models common to Narratology. They also reflect on the relevance of such a going beyond, as seen in more general terms. What interrelation can be observed between re-definition of object domain and re-definition of method? What potential interfaces with other methods and disciplines does the proposed innovation offer Finally what are the repercussions of the proposed innovation in terms of Narratology's self definition The innovative volume facilitates the inter methodological debate between Narratology and other disciplines enabling the conceptualization of a Narratology beyond traditional Literary Criticism
