in Islam Tjitze J. de Boer,1903-01-01 In olden time the Arabian desert was as it is at this day the roaming ground of independent Bedouin tribes With free and healthy minds they contemplated their monotonous world whose highest charm was the raid and whose intellectual treasure was the tribal tradition Neither the achievements of social labour nor the accomplishments of elegant leisure were known to them Only on the borders of the desert in regularly constituted communities which often had to suffer from the incursions of those Bedouins a higher degree of civilization had been attained This was the case in the South where the ancient kingdom of the Queen of Sheba continued its existence in Christian times under Abyssinian or Persian overlordship On the West lay Mecca and Medina Yathrib by an old caravan route and Mecca in particular with its market safe guarded by a temple was the centre of a brisk traffic Lastly on the North two semi sovereign States had been formed under Arab princes towards Persia the kingdom of the Lakhmids in Hira and towards Byzantium the dominion of the Gassanids in Syria In speech and poetry however the unity of the Arab nation was set forth to some extent even before Mohammed s time The poets were the men of knowledge for their people Their incantations held good as oracles first of all for their several tribes but no doubt extending their influence often beyond their own particular septs Mohammed and his immediate successors Abu Bekr Omar Othman and Ali 622 661 succeeded in inspiring the free sons of the desert together with the more civilized inhabitants of the coast lands with enthusiasm for a joint enterprise To this circumstance Islam owes its world position for Allah showed himself great and the world was quite small for those who surrendered themselves to him Muslims In a short time the whole of Persia was conquered and the East Roman empire lost its fairest provinces Syria and Egypt Medina was the seat of the first Caliphs or representatives of the prophet Then Mohammed s brave son in law Ali and Ali s sons fell before Moawiya the able governor of Syria From that time dates the existence of the party of Ali Shi ites which in the course of diverse vicissitudes now reduced to subjection now in detached places attaining power lives on in history until it finally incorporates itself with the Persian kingdom in definite opposition to Sunnite Islam The History of Philosophy in Islam de B. J. D. Gurdjeff,2022-07-19 The History of Philosophy in Islam is a complete summary of the flowering of Islamic philosophy in the late middle ages Medieval Islamic civilization at its height was a centre of learning and its philosophers were no exception Islamic philosophers grappled with issues such as free will causality and the nature of reality Some of these figures are still well known such as Ibn Sina Avicenna Ibn Roshd Averroes philosophical summas in the work of Fakhr al-Din al-Razi. Griffel's examination of the different methods of kalam and hikma demonstrate both the coherence and ambiguity of a Muslim post-classical philosopher's oeuvre. A work of extraordinary breadth and depth, The Formation of Post-Classical Philosophy in Islam will be essential reading for anyone interested in the history of Philosophy or the history of Islam.
