The History of the World's Warships Christopher Chant, 2001      History of the World's Warships Christopher Chant, 2000-10-01 Fighting ships have always held our fascination This book presents the complete historical spectrum from the most primitive fighting vessels to the most sophisticated mammoths in use today with full technical specifications and building histories An excellent reference for marine warfare through the ages      Warships of the World to 1900 Lincoln P. Paine, 2000 Lincoln P Paine s SHIPS OF THE WORLD AN HISTORICAL HISTORICAL ENCYCLOPEDIA was honored as one of the best reference books of the year by the New York Public Library and Library Journal described it as clearly the most fascinating book of the year Now in two equally fascinating new books Paine focuses on two of the most interesting areas of maritime history WARSHIPS OF THE WORLD TO 1900 and SHIPS OF DISCOVERY AND EXPLORATION WARSHIPS OF THE WORLD TO 1900 traces the history of naval warfare through the stories of more than two hundred of the most famous and important fighting ships from the earliest triremes and Viking longships to the Mary Rose Wasa Bonhomme Richard HMS Victory USS Constitution USS Monitor and Mikasa Each ship is described in a vivid short essay that captures its personality as well as its physical characteristics construction and history from the drawing board to the scrap yard or museum Paintings and photographs show the grandeur and grace of these vessels that helped shape world events An introductory essay maps and a chronology offer the reader a global perspective on the course of naval history from antiquity to the present      The History of the World Hans Ferdinand Helmolt (1865- ed), 1902      The History of the World; a Survey of a Man's Record Hans Ferdinand Helmolt, 1902      A Complete History of the World War William Dunseath Eaton, Harry C. Read, 1919

Warships Mark Dartford, 2003 Profiles some of the different warships used by the United States Navy and other navies around the world describing their design weapons and uses      King's Complete History of the World War ... William C. King, 1922      Warships of the Ancient World Adrian K. Wood, 2013-01-20 The world s first war machines were ships built two millennia before the dawn of the Classical world Their influence on the course of history cannot be overstated A wide variety of galleys and other types of warships were built by successive civilisations each with their own distinctive appearance capability and utility The earliest of these were the Punt ships and the war galleys of Egypt which defeated the Sea People in the first known naval battle Following the fall of these civilisations the Phoenicians built biremes and other vessels while in Greece the ships described in detail in the Trojan epics established a tradition of warship building culminating in the pentekonteres and triakonteres The warships of the period are abundantly illustrated on pottery and carved seals and depicted in inscriptions and on bas reliefs The subject has been intensively studied for two and a half millennia culminating in the contemporary works of authoritative scholars such as Morrison Wallinga Rodgers and Casson To date there are no works covering the subject which are accessible and available to non academics      The Routledge Companion to Marine and Maritime Worlds 1400-1800 Claire Jowitt, Craig Lambert, Steve Mentz, 2020-05-21 This book has been nominated for The Mountbatten Award for Best Book in the Maritime Media Awards 2021 The Routledge Companion to Marine and Maritime Worlds 1400 1800 explores early modern maritime history culture and the current state of the research and approaches taken by experts in the field Ranging from cartography to poetry and decorative design to naval warfare the book shows how once traditional and often Euro chauvinistic depictions of oceanic mastery during the early modern period have been replaced by newer global ideas This comprehensive volume challenges underlying assumptions by balancing its assessment of the consequences and accomplishments of European navigators in the era of Columbus da Gama and Magellan with an awareness of the sophistication and maritime expertise in Asia the Arab world and the Americas By imparting riveting new stories and global perceptions of maritime history and culture the contributors provide readers with fresh insights concerning early modern entanglements between humans and the vast unpredictable ocean With maritime studies growing and the ocean s health in decline this volume is essential reading for academics and students interested in the historicization of the ocean and the ways early modern cultures both conceptualized and utilized seas History of the Worlds Warships , design development and deployment of the world's combat ships. Featuring a broad range of articles from a select panel of distinguished international contributors, Warship combines original research, new book reviews, warship notes, an image gallery, and much more, maintaining the impressive standards of scholarship and research with which the annual has become synonymous. Detailed and accurate information is the hallmark of all the articles, which are fully supported by plans, data tables, and stunning photographs. This year's Warship includes features on France's first destroyers, the turn of the century 300-tonne type, Denmark's H-class submarines of World War II, Italy's proposed battlecruiser designs, the Imperial Japanese Navy's Chikuma-class protected cruisers, Soviet S-class submarines, and the first of a series on Imperial Germany's torpedo boats and destroyers.

Kaigun David C. Evans, David Peattie, 2012-09-15 One of the great spectacles of modern naval history is the Imperial Japanese Navy's instrumental role in Japan's rise from an isolationist feudal kingdom to a potent military empire, stridently confronting in 1941 the world's most powerful nation. Years of painstaking research and analysis of previously untapped Japanese language resources have produced this remarkable study of the Navy's dizzying development, tactical triumphs, and humiliating defeat. Unrivalled in its breadth of coverage and attention to detail, this important new history explores the foreign and indigenous influences on the Navy's thinking about naval warfare and how to plan for it. Focusing primarily on the much neglected period between the world wars, two widely esteemed historians persuasively explain how the Japanese failed to prepare properly for the war in the Pacific despite an arguable advantage in capability. Maintaining the highest literary standards and supplemented by a dazzling array of charts, diagrams, drawings, and photographs, this landmark work provides much important information not available in any other English language source. Consciously avoiding the Eurocentric bias of conventional military scholarship, David Evans and Mark Peattie make a unique contribution to naval historiography that will be prized by serious historians and casual readers alike, and that promises to spark debate within the academic community.

Seaforth World Naval Review 2017 Conrad Waters, 2016-10-30 This fascinating book examines trends in maritime strategy and geopolitics, including technological advances and significant new ships. Nautilus Telegraph This annual has an established reputation as an authoritative but affordable summary of all that has happened in the naval world in the previous twelve months. It combines regional surveys with one-off major articles on noteworthy new ships and other important developments. Besides the latest warship projects, it also looks at wider issues of importance to navies, such as aviation and electronics, and calls on expertise from around the globe to give a balanced picture of what is going on and to interpret its significance. Features of this edition include an in-depth analysis of the Royal Netherlands Navy, while Significant Ships will cover the USN's radical new Zumwalt-class destroyers, the Republic of Korea's amphibious assault ship Dokdo, and the JMSDF's Akizuki-class destroyers, among others. There are also technological reviews dealing with naval aviation by David Hobbs, with a focus on the present state of the RN's Fleet Air Arm, while Norman Friedman surveys naval surface-to-surface missiles. The World Naval Review is intended to make interesting reading as well.

as providing authoritative reference so there is a strong visual emphasis including specially commissioned drawings and the most up to date photographs and artists impressions For anyone with an interest in contemporary naval affairs whether an enthusiast or a defense professional this annual has become required reading An extraordinarily useful annual from the point of view of a comprehensive update on the world's navies a key resource for keeping up whether in cabin or armchair

Seaweed World Trade Since 1431 Peter J. Huggill, 1993 In 1431 the Portuguese navigator Velho set sail into the Atlantic establishing a trade route to the Azores and marking the beginning of commerce with the West as we know it today Equipped with reliable maps and instruments for open ocean navigation and highly seaworthy three masted cannon armed ships

Portugal soon dominated the Atlantic trade routes until the diffusion of Portuguese technologies to wealthier polities made Holland the eventual successor owing to its geographic position and its immense commercial fleet Rising Sun, Falling

Skies Jeffrey Cox, 2014-03-20 Following the attack on Pearl Harbor the Japanese offensive in the Far East seemed unstoppable Allied forces engaged in a futile attempt to halt their rapid advance culminating in the massed fleet of American British Dutch and Australian forces ABDA clashing with the Japanese at the battle of the Java Sea the first major sea battle of World War II in the Pacific But in a campaign crippled by poor leadership and disastrous decisions the Allied response was catastrophic losing their largest warships and their tenuous toe hold in the south Pacific within the first 72 hours of the battle This defeat left ground troops cut off from reinforcement and supply with obsolete equipment no defense against endless Japanese air attacks and with no chance of retreat However although command decisions were to condemn the Allies to defeat the Allied goal was never an outright victory simply a delaying action Facing a relentless and thoroughly vicious enemy the combined forces responded not by running or surrendering but by defiantly holding on in a struggle that was as much a test of character bravery and determination as it was a test of arms ultimately costing the Allies ten vessels and the lives of 2 100 brave sailors In Rising Sun Falling Skies Jeffrey Cox examines the events and evidence surrounding the Java Sea Campaign reconstructing battles that in hindsight were all but hopeless and revealing where fatal mistakes and missed opportunities condemned the Allied forces in an insightful and compelling study of the largely overlooked clash in the Java Sea The World's Work, 1918 A history of our time Railway Employees Magazine, 1913
