our culture This passionate and majestic compedium will leave you bathed in the gorgeous optics of light Elle The Medieval Clothier John S. Lee, 2018 A clear and accessibly written guide to the medieval cloth making trade in England Cloth making became England's leading industry in the late Middle Ages clothiers co-ordinated its different stages in some cases carrying out the processes themselves and found markets for their finished cloth selling to merchants drapers and other traders While many clothiers were of only modest status or jacks of all trades a handful of individuals amassed huge fortunes through the trade becoming the multi millionaires of their day This book offers the first recent survey of this hugely important and significant trade and its practitioners examining the whole range of clothiers across different areas of England and exploring their impact within the industry and in their wider communities Alongside the mechanics of the trade it considers clothiers as entrepreneurs and early capitalists employing workers and even establishing early factories it also looks at their family backgrounds and their roles as patrons of church rebuilding and charitable activities It is completed with extracts from clothiers wills and a gazetteer of places to visit making the book invaluable to academics students and local historians alike JOHN S LEE is a Research Associate at the Centre for Medieval Studies at the University of York

Medieval Textile Dyeing John Edmonds, 2012 This book is a review and explanation of some of the techniques available to commercial dyers in the Medieval period in Europe to 1600 This is based on contemporary accounts and practical experimentation in recreating coloured fabrics using the surviving recipes Back cover Chaucer's Other Works in Modern English Prose, 2006 This is a translation into modern English prose of Chaucer's works excluding the Canterbury Tales which have been published separately Also not included is the Treatise on the Astrolabe and the Equatorie of the Planetis This book allows the student of Chaucer to read and understand his writings without the obfuscation of obsolete Middle English words This should form an excellent introduction to Chaucer and his world of the 14th century Medieval Trim Michael Potterton, 2005 Trim Co Meath is one of Ireland's best known medieval towns and yet this is the first major work on the town for almost 150 years Drawing on documentary archaeological architectural and cartographic evidence the book pieces together a picture of Trim in the middle ages The origins and evolution of the town are traced and charted in detail as are its administration its trading and commercial functions its role as an ecclesiastical centre and its topographical layout The book puts the development of the town in the context of its pre Anglo Norman role and against the backdrop of the extensive Anglo Norman lordship of which it was the administrative judicial and financial centre As a case study this book is intended as a contribution to the understanding and interpretation of urban life in medieval Ireland Progress in Colour Studies Carole P. Biggam, Christian J. Kay, 2006-11-30 Along with its companion volume this book offers a fascinating glimpse into the current avenues of research into colour a phenomenon which daily affects all our lives in often surprising ways The majority of the papers originated in a 2004 conference entitled Progress in Colour Studies which was held in the University of Glasgow U K The contributions to this first volume which is principally linguistic and anthropological in content and to its companion on the psychological aspects of colour present either summaries of state of the art colour research in various disciplines or in depth accounts of certain aspects of such work This volume includes approaches such as Natural Semantic Metalanguage social network analysis quantitative analysis type modification vantage theory the centrality of social norms of inference place names and heraldry In the process new insights are offered into the following languages English French Portuguese Sorbian Burarra Cape Breton Gaelic Tzotzil and others

Madder Red Robert Chenciner, 2003-09-02 Madder red is an ancient dyestuff extracted from the root of the madder plant growing in many countries around the world The secret and devilishly complex Oriental dyeing process to obtain the lustrous colour known as Turkey Red was avidly sought by Europeans from the time before the fall of Ancient Rome It was finally cracked by the French about 1760 who were able to dye wool silk and cotton bright red After the lowlands of the Caspian Caucasus had been subdued by the Russians in the early 1800s madder was cultivated there and rapidly became the main crop The quest for Turkey Red went hand in hand with an avalanche of scientific research which not only improved the yield of dyestuff from the roots but led to its chemical synthesis and in 1870 the collapse of the world wide madder industry Many of the nascent dye companies grew into chemical giants of our time Further regional and cultural background may be found in Chenciner's Daghestan Tradition and Survival also published in the Caucasus World series

Colours, Commodities and the Birth of Globalization Carlos Marichal, David Pretel, 2024-08-22 This volume explores the global history of natural dyes from the Americas and asks how their production and trade have shaped globalisation since early modern times From their extraction and processing to their overseas trade it shows how this commodity contributed to the rise of the textile industry and consumption in Europe the United States and Latin America In doing so it sheds new light on the emergence of a global economy Spanning several centuries Colours Commodities and the Birth of Globalization takes the reader from 1500 through the industrial revolutions of Europe and the United States and culminates in the synthetic age of the late 19th and early 20th centuries Ranging from the indigo trade in the Atlantic to the secrets of the Indian production of cochineal the chapters in this collection transcend nationally bounded historical narratives and explore transoceanic dynamics imperial ambitions and the cross cultural exchange of knowledge and techniques to better understand the birth of globalization

The Dyer's Handbook Dominique Cardon, 2016-08-31 Persian blue pomegranate flower spiny lobster wine soup pale flesh dove breast golden wax grass green green sand rotten olive modest plum agate rich French gray gunpowder of the English just some of the color names of old fabric to fire the imagination Memoirs on Dyeing concerns a unique manuscript from the eighteenth century a dyers memoirs from Languedoc containing recipes for dyes with corresponding color samples It is an exceptional document hugely rare and of great significance not only to textile historians but dyers and colorists today as thanks to the information in the manuscript the colors can be reproduced exactly with the same ingredients or reproduced using modern techniques by matching the color samples To the English translation of the text together with facsimile pages reproduced in color from the original manuscript are added essays meant to situate it in its historical economic and technological contexts For those historians who have long been fascinated by the change in scale and the amount of innovation that occurred in woollen cloth production in Europe during the 17th and 18th centuries the Memoirs on Dyeing bring firsthand insight into the daily preoccupations and tasks of a key actor in the success story of the Languedocian broadcloth production specially devised for export to the Levant Even non specialists may be interested in understanding the clever management and technical organization that made it possible for the author to produce dye finish pack and export up to 1 375 pieces of superfine broadcloth per year representing nearly 51 km of cloth to color our clothes our food and ourselves With the snip of a genetic scissor we've harnessed bacteria to gift us with greener blue jeans and dazzling dashikis As the pigments march on into the future who knows what new and exciting inventions will emerge Mary Virginia Orna a world recognized expert on color will lead you through an illuminating journey exploring the science behind pigments Pausing for reflections en route to share stories around pigment use and discoveries informed by history religion sociology and human endeavour this book will have you absorbing science and regaling tales Jam packed with nuggets of information March of the Pigments will have the curiously minded and the expert scientist turning pages to discover more

A History Of Textiles Kax Wilson,2021-11-28 Originally published in 1979 this volume acts as a reference for the history textiles It asks questions on the effect of technology on textiles how did particular historical periods and locations expand or limit the possibilities for the manufacture of fabrics and how the textile history related to politics and economics sociology and psychology art and engineering anthropology and archaeology chemistry and physics Addressing these questions the author surveys the development of the technical components of fabrics and discusses the textiles of selected places and times She uses prose drawings and more than 130 photographs to show how each era of textile production reflects its age This book is designed to serve as a college text and as a reference work for museum researchers With sections including illustrations and diagrams key terminology spinning wool spinning and raw materials single ply and cord and fabric construction

Town and Countryside in Western Berkshire, C.1327-c.1600 Margaret Yates,2007 A fresh examination of how society and economy changed at the end of the middle ages comparing urban and rural experience The traditional boundary between the medieval and early modern periods is challenged in this new study of social and economic change that bridges the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries It addresses the large historical questions what changed when and why through a detailed case study of western Berkshire and Newbury integrating the experiences of both town and countryside Newbury is of particular interest being a rising cloth manufacturing centre that had contacts with London and overseas due to its specialist production of kerseys The evidence comes from original documentary research and the data are clearly presented in tables and graphs It is a book alive with the actions of people famous men such as the clothier John Winchcombe known as Jack of Newbury but more notably by the hundreds of individuals such as William Eyston or Isabella Bullford who acquired property cultivated their lands or in the case of Isabella managed the mill complex after her husband's death MARGARET YATES is Lecturer in History at the University of Reading

Chaucer in Modern English Prose The Canterbury Tales John Edmonds,2006-07-04 This book presents Chaucer's Canterbury Tales in modern English prose Already Middle English is sufficiently obscure to deter even those interested in English literature How many have read the whole of the Canterbury Tales Even fewer will have read his other works The purpose of this book is to allow the reader easy access to Chaucer's meaning apart from the poetic presentation This is to put more emphasis on what he says rather than the way he says it Chaucer's works are a commentary on 14th century life and literature much of it in prose There are then two reasons for reading Chaucer One is for social history and the other for his poetry To separate the two can only make his work more accessible Hopefully this will lead to a greater appreciation of medieval English literature in general Color Victoria Finlay,2002 Examining the physical materials that color the world a freelance journalist explores the social political and cultural implications of color throughout history
