The House Of Si Abd Allah The Oral History Of A Moroccan Family:

The House of Si Abd Allah Muhammad (al-Hajj.), Henry Munson, Fatima Zohra, 1991-03-01      The House of Si Abd Allah Henry Munson, 1984      The House of Si Abd Allah Henry Munson, 1991      The Voice of the Past Paul Thompson, Joanna Bornat, 2017 Oral history gives history back to the people in their own words And in giving a past it also helps them towards a future of their own making Oral history and life stories help to create a truer picture of the past and the changing present documenting the lives and feelings of all kinds of people many otherwise hidden from history It explores personal and family relationships and uncovers the secret cultures of work It connects public and private experience and it highlights the experiences of migrating between cultures At the same time it can bring courage to the old meaning to communities and contact between generations Sometimes it can offer a path for healing divided communities and those with traumatic memories Without it the history and sociology of our time would be poor and narrow In this fourth edition of his pioneering work fully revised with Joanna Bornat Paul Thompson challenges the accepted myths of historical scholarship He discusses the reliability of oral evidence in comparison with other sources and considers the social context of its development He looks at the relationship between memory the self and identity He traces oral history through its own past and weighs up the recent achievements of a movement which has become international with notably strong developments in North America Europe Australia Latin America South Africa and the Far East despite resistance from more conservative academics This new edition combines the classic text of The Voice of the Past with many new sections including especially the worldwide development of different forms of oral history and the parallel memory boom as well as discussions of theory in oral history and of memory trauma and reconciliation It offers a deep social and historical interpretation along with succinct practical advice on designing and carrying out a project The Voice of the Past remains an invaluable tool for anyone setting out to use oral history and life stories to construct a more authentic and balanced record of the past and the present      Death and Bereavement Across Cultures Pittu Laungani, William Young, 2003-09-02 All societies have their own customs and beliefs surrounding death In the West traditional ways of mourning are disappearing and though science has had a major impact on views of death it has taught us little about the way to die or to grieve Many who come into contact with the dying and the bereaved from other cultures are at a loss to know how to offer appropriate and sensitive support Death and Bereavement Across Cultures provides a handbook with which to meet the needs of doctors nurses social workers counsellors and others involved in the care of the dying and bereaved Written by international authorities in the field this important text describes the rituals and beliefs of major world religions explains their psychological and historical context shows how customs change on contact with the West considers the implications for the future This book explores the richness of mourning traditions around the world with the aim of increasing the understanding which we all bring to the issue of death      Sacred Performances M. E. Combs-Schilling, 1989 With penetrating insight Combs Schilling illuminates the remarkable survival of one of the world's oldest monarchies still ruling after 1200 years The author unravels the paradox of this ancient yet progressive institution that has weathered invasion economic collapse and colonial assault The pillars of stability for which political analysts typically search military strength bureaucratic control and commercial prosperity have often been absent in Morocco sometimes for centuries How then has the monarchy stood firm In this remarkable book Combs Schilling argues that the answer is to be found in the distinctive forms of ritual practice developed during times of great crises Unique among Islamic governments the Moroccan monarchy became central to the popular celebrations of the most sacred rituals of Islam cloaking itself in their sanctity Combs Schilling breaks new ground in thinking about ritual The author explores the consequences of the replication and reinforcement of Morocco's national ceremonies in villages and homes and the metaphorical equivalence thereby built The author outlines how ritual metaphors simultaneously fuse the monarchy with the hallowed prophets of Islam and the mundane structures of family life In elucidating the forcefulness of ritual embodiment the book challenges anthropological theory It demonstrates that rituals created realities by inscribing them deeply within the individual's body and mind Rituals use eros and physical substance to build imaginative abstractions Performances of exquisite beauty and grace make the monarchy intrinsic to definitions of male and female to experience of birth intercourse death and to the ultimate longing to break death's bonds Combs Schilling creates a model for national political analysis that takes meaning as well as strategic power into account The author applies the anthropological analysis of rituals to new arenas the nation state and the world political economy without ever losing sight of the individual and the flow of daily life The book clarifies a distinctive form of nationalism that expands the boundaries articulated by Anderson in Imagined Territories Rituals rather than territory or administration came to define the Moroccan monarchy and the Moroccan nation under Western assault and enabled them to survive For the novice the book provides an unusual and compelling entry into Islamic culture and history Yet it is provocative for the expert in its reinterpretation of the strategic dimensions of Muhammad's marriages and the political potency of the rituals of Islam where power sacrifice and sexual identity converge By revealing the link between national ceremony and individual identity the author calls into question the popular view that sharply divides East and West and suggests commonalities in the structures of political sexual power that are built into societies that operate within the cultural contexts of the world's three monotheistic faiths Islam Judaism and Christianity
