

A Brief History
The first settlement in Montgomery County was founded in 1763 by John H. Johnson, a Quaker, who purchased a large tract of land from the State of Maryland. He named the settlement "Montgomery" in honor of Richard Montgomery, a hero of the American Revolution. The settlement grew rapidly, and by 1780 it was one of the largest in the county. In 1791, the county was divided into two parts, and the western part was named "Montgomery County." The county has since been a center of industry and commerce, and it has played a significant role in the history of the State of Maryland.
