The Human Enterprise A Christian Perspective On Work:

The Human Enterprise Richard W. Gillett, 1985 The Human Enterprise Richard W. Gillett, 1985 A Critical Realist's Theological Method Douglas W. Kennard, 2013-02-21 A Critical Realist's Theological Method explores a systematic theology method grounded in critical realism in the wake of Alister McGrath Imre Lakatos Nancey Murphy N T Wright and Dale Allison Kennard surveys philosophical and traditional theological approaches for contributions and limitations in order to set out a method for theology and science Kennard extends this method to a Thiselton Ricoeur hermeneutic that can fund insightful exegesis and Biblical theology in the wake of Ladd Dunn Vos and Goldingay This Biblical theology method is illustrated by wisdom literature the traditional reef of the discipline and then developed for the contributions toward systematic theology as Gabler had originally envisioned With contextualized Scripture sourcing most of the content for systematic theology the trajectory is shown in the subtitle Returning the Bible and Biblical Theology to be the Framer for Theology and Science The method is exemplified in exegesis of creation texts which frame possibilities for science Likewise Biblical theology frames a bio ethics integration of psychology and theology setting out a transactional model for psychological recovery with University of Chicago professor Paul Holmes A theology for peer review and work is also framed

The Fabric of This World Lee Hardy, 1990-05-04 This is an historical philosophical theological and practical exploration of work from an evangelical perspective highlighting the Christian concept of vocation as articulated by Luther and Calvin and making relevant applications for today Learning to Lead James R. Davis, 2003-02-28 Leadership is an activity that not only manifests itself in formal positions but also bubbles up in various places within an organization Perhaps given the importance of leadership to any endeavor the literature on this topic has burgeoned Yet among these titles Learning to Lead stands out as one of the best texts available on leadership for college and university administrators Critical skills such as managing people resolving conflict and making rational and legal decisions are explored within the context of the campus The book also addresses the needs of those who facilitate leadership workshops serve as mentors to potential leaders and teach courses on higher education leadership and administration While presenting all sides of key issues the author calls for the reader to define his or her own position through a series of provocative reflection questions in each chapter Thus the book invites interaction and teaches administrators not what to think about leadership but how to think about it God the Economist M. Douglas Meeks, God does not appear in the modern market For most economists this is as it should be It is in no way necessary according to modern economic theory to consider God when thinking about economy Indeed the absence of God in economic matters is viewed as necessary to the great advances in modern economy The difficulty with modern market economies however is that human livelihood is also left out of the theory and practice of the market economy I propose to bring the church's teaching about God the doctrine of the Trinity to bear on the masked connections between God and economy I will treat the Trinity as the way of understanding what the Bible calls the economy of God The Witness , 1986
