The Stoa of Attalos II in Athens Homer A. Thompson,1992 Named after its donor the King of Pergamon the Stoa of Attalos was originally built around 150 B C Between 1953 and 1956 this long columned marble building was rebuilt by the American School of Classical Studies to store and display finds from the Agora excavations Using original materials and techniques the modern builders learned much about the construction and purpose of the stoa a ubiquitous classical building type This heavily illustrated account presents some of their findings The Stoa of Attalos II in Athens American School of Classical Studies at Athens,1959 The Stoa of Attalos II in Athens Homer A. of the Agora are thousands of terracotta pipes stone drainage channels and lead pressure lines These form a complex chain of waterworks constructed and repaired over many different periods This book discusses the complex engineering that channeled fresh water into the Agora and disposed of waste water and shows some of the ornate wells and fountain houses where ancient Athenians gathered to drink and bathe

Life, Death, and Litigation in the Athenian Agora Mabel L. Lang,1994

Athens was a famously litigious city in antiquity as the sheer quantity of evidence for legal activity found in the Agora makes clear Every kind of case from assault and battery to murder and from small debts to contested fortunes were heard in various buildings and spaces around the civic center and the speeches given in defense and prosecution remain some of the masterpieces of Greek literature As well as describing the spaces where judgments were made such as the Stoa Basileios office of the King Archon the author discusses the progress of some famous cases known from the speeches of orators like Demosthenes such as the patrimony suit of a woman named Plangon against the nobleman Mantias or the assault charge leveled by Ariston against Konon and his sons
