Stories Of The Far North

John Buchan

Stories Of The Far North:

Far North & Other Dark Tales Sara Maitland, 2008 More modern traditional tales from an acknowledged master of the genre drawing on the author's deep knowledge of classical mythology and traditional stories from every continent Far North based on an Inuit myth is set among desperate women in the frozen north surviving against all odds Here is a new version of the Grimms tale of the seven swan brothers and their sister's vow of silence the Sirens justify the mayhem they wreak on the Greek sailors while a tribe struggles over the tattooing of babies in the Amazon Scheherazade is still trying to stay alive by telling stories and the Princess Kalito tries to free both her feet and her heart from their bindings All these stories formally bold and innovative emotionally edgy and deeply imbued with a sense of location address Sara Maitland's primary concerns about the links between beauty and terror modernity and ritual Intertwining the everyday and the inexplicable to witty and disquieting effect her wildest flights of fantasy are anchored in deep psychological understanding and vivid description overlaid with a wickedly ironic humor

Stories of the Far North Jon Tuska, 1998-01-01 The Northwestern story emerged full blown from the pen of Jack London and his The League of the Old Men is a fitting introduction to these rigorous action tales in which the inhospitable climate strips away civilized veneer and individuals must live or die by their cunning instinct and sometimes ruthlessness The bond between man and dog and the character flaws revealed under the stresses of extreme isolation are just two of the classic themes explored in these works The collection comes to a fitting climax of a century's worth of development with a new story by Tim Champlin commissioned for this volume Most of these stories were originally published in magazines and were heavily edited to meet space and style concerns Stories of the Far North restores each work to its original form uncut and as each author intended

Far North Tales Kira Van Deusen, 2011-01-18 This collection of tales represents and preserves the oral heritage of Arctic and Subarctic ethnic groups so that their stories are no longer in danger of becoming lost to future generations Far North Tales Stories from the Peoples of the Arctic Circle captures and preserves the wonderful tales of Siberia Scandinavia Greenland Alaska and Canada and offers readers glimpses into the cultures and customs of the people who created them Gathering more than 30 tales from the Arctic and Subarctic regions many of them unavailable in contemporary publications and thus virtually unknown to readers today the book provides a sampling of stories grouped by type or theme There are tales of daily life creation stories tales of tricksters and fools spirits shamans and shapeshifters animals and heroes and heroines The ethnic source and country of origin is provided for each tale as are notes on the tale itself Background on the geography history and cultures of the native peoples round out a book that is a perfect resource for educators and storytellers alike

Northern Neighbours: Stories of the Labrador People Wilfred T. Grenfell, 2022-08-16 In Northern Neighbours Stories of the Labrador People Wilfred T Grenfell presents a vivid tapestry of life in one of Canada's most remote regions Through a series of engaging narratives Grenfell explores the rich cultural landscape of the Labrador communities blending ethnographic insights with personal anecdotes The book's style is characterized by its immersive prose and nuanced character portrayals revealing both the resilience and the complexities of the Labrador people amidst the challenges of a harsh environment Grenfell's experiences as a medical missionary and his deep engagement with indigenous populations lend authenticity and emotional depth to these stories positioning them within the broader literary context of early 20th century Canadian literature that seeks to understand marginalised voices Wilfred T Grenfell a British physician and missionary dedicated much of his life to serving the communities of Labrador His work encompassed not only medical care but also advocacy for social reforms and community development The profound connections he formed with the Labrador people informed his writing giving readers an intimate glimpse into their struggles and triumphs Grenfell's firsthand experiences and commitment to the region are evident throughout the narratives offering an authoritative voice in the portrayal of northern life Northern Neighbours is an essential read for anyone interested in the intersection of culture and community in Canada's historical tapestry It captivates through its authentic storytelling while illuminating the spirit of resilience found in the Labrador people Readers seeking to understand the impacts of colonialism and the vibrant narratives that emerge from marginalized communities will find this collection both enlightening and profoundly moving

Limba Stories and Story-Telling Ruth Finnegan, 2018-05-16 The Limba are rice farmers living in the hills of northern Sierra Leone who have until recently been somewhat despised by their neighbours Yet they possess a subtle and fascinating literature as illustrated by this detailed study of their stories collected and translated by Dr Finnegan Their literary and artistic value emerges clearly when the significance of their oral character is realized The introductory chapters full consider such points as the importance of the actual delivery the part played by the story teller and the changing forms arising from the originality of individual narrators The book throws light on the general study of oral composition and performance as well as on the literary spirit of a previously unstudied West African people
