Merrill, 1985 The Marrow of Human Experience William Albert Wilson, Jill Terry Rudy, 2006-09-30 Composed over several decades the essays here are remarkably fresh and relevant They offer instruction for the student just beginning the study of folklore as well as repeated value for the many established scholars who continue to wrestle with issues that Wilson has addressed As his work has long offered insight on critical matters nationalism genre belief the relationship of folklore to other disciplines in the humanities and arts the currency of legend the significance of humor as a cultural expression and so forth so his recent writing in its reflexive approach to narrative and storytelling illuminates today's paradigms Its notable autobiographical dimension long an element of Wilson's work employs family and local lore to draw conclusions of more universal significance Another way to think of it is that newer folklorists are catching up with Wilson and what he has been about for some time As a body Wilson's essays develop related topics and connected themes This collection organizes them in three coherent parts The first examines the importance of folklore what it is and its value in various contexts Part two drawing especially on the experience of Finland considers the role of folklore in national identity including both how it helps define and sustain identity and the less savory ways it may be used for the sake of nationalistic ideology Part three based in large part on Wilson s extensive work in Mormon folklore which is the most important in that area since that of Austin and Alta Fife looks at religious cultural expressions and outsider perceptions of them and again at how identity is shaped by religious belief experience and participation by the stories about them and by the many other expressive parts of life encountered daily in a culture Each essay is introduced by a well known folklorist who discusses the influence of Wilson s scholarship These include Richard Bauman Margaret Brady Simon Bronner Elliott Oring Henry Glassie David Hufford Michael Owen Jones and Beverly Stoeltje Writer's Craft, Teacher's Art Mimi Schwartz,1991 Catalogue of Title-entries of Books and Other Articles Entered in the Office of the Librarian of Congress, at Washington, Under the Copyright Law ...
