The New Expatriates Anne-Meike Fechter,Katie Walsh,2013-09-13 While scholarship on migration has been thriving for decades little attention has been paid to professionals from Europe and America who move temporarily to destinations beyond the West Such migrants are marginalised and depoliticised by debates on immigration policy and thus there is an urgent need to develop nuanced understanding of these more privileged movements In many ways

these are the modern day equivalents of colonial settlers and expatriates yet the continuities in their migration practices have rarely been considered The New Expatriates advances our understanding of contemporary mobile professionals by engaging with postcolonial theories of race culture and identity The volume brings together authors and research from across a wide range of disciplines seeking to evaluate the significance of the past in shaping contemporary expatriate mobilities and highlighting postcolonial continuities in relation to people practices and imaginations Acknowledging the resonances across a range of geographical sites in Asia Africa and the Middle East the chapters consider the particularity of postcolonial contexts while enabling comparative perspectives A focus on race and culture is often obscured by assumptions about class occupation and skill but this volume explicitly examines the way in which whiteness and imperial relationships continue to shape the migration experiences of Euro American skilled migrants as they seek out new places to live and work This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Ethnic and Migration Studies

Expatriate Sarah Kunz, 2023-01-10 Who are expatriates How do they differ from other migrants And why should we care about such distinctions Expatriate interrogates the contested category of the expatriate to explore its history and politics its making and lived experience Drawing on ethnographic and archival research the book offers a critical reading of International Human Resource Management literature explores the work and history of the Expatriate Archive Centre in The Hague and studies the usage and significance of the category in Kenyan history and present day expat Nairobi Doing so the book traces the figure of the expatriate from the mid twentieth century era of decolonisation to today s heated debates about migration The expatriate emerges as a malleable and contested category of shifting meaning and changing membership and as passionately embraced by some as it is rejected by others The book situates the changing usage of the term in the context of social political and economic struggle and explores the material and discursive work the expatriate performs in negotiating social inequalities and power relations Migration the book argues is a key terrain on which colonial power relations have been reproduced and translated and migration categories are at the heart of the insidious ways that intersecting material and symbolic inequalities are enacted today Any project for social justice needs to dissect and interrogate categories like the expatriate and this book offers analytical and methodical strategies to advance this project

International Success: Selecting, Developing, and Supporting Expatriate Managers Meena S. Wilson, Maxine A. Dalton, 1998-08-24 The selection development support framework described in this report not only identifies the important factors to consider when working overseas but also specifies ways to develop a talent pool of effective expatriates

The South African Short Story in English, 1920-2010 Marta Fossati, 2024-09-05 Through detailed close readings alongside investigations into the history of print culture Marta Fossati traces the development of the South African short story in English from the late 1920s to the first decade of the twenty first century She examines a selection of short stories by important Black South African writers Rolfes and Herbert Dhlomo Peter Abrahams Can Themba Alex La Guma Mtutuzeli Matshoba Ahmed Essop and Zo Wicomb with an alertness to the dialogue between ethics and aesthetics performed by these texts This new history of Black short fiction problematises and interrogates the often polarised readings of Black literature in South Africa that can be torn between notions of literariness protest and journalism Due to material constraints short fiction in South Africa circulated first and foremost through local print media which Fossati analyses in detail to show the cross fertilisation between journalism and the short story While rooted in the South African context the short stories considered also hold a translocal dimension allowing us to explore the ethical and aesthetic practice of intertextuality These are writings that complicate the aesthetics ethics binary generic classifications and the categories of the literary and the political Theoretically eclectic in its approach although largely underpinned by a narratological analysis The South African Short Story in English 1920-2010 When Aesthetics Meets Ethics offers a fresh perspective on the South African short story in English spotlighting several hitherto marginalised figures in South African literary studies The Cambridge Companion to F. Scott Fitzgerald Michael Nowlin, 2023-11-09 This book provides an authoritative overview of F Scott Fitzgerald's fiction and career featuring essays by leading Fitzgerald specialists The Cambridge History of Australian Literature Peter Pierce, 2009-09-17 Draws on scholarship from leading figures in the field and spans Australian literary history from colonial origins indigenous and migrant literatures as well as representations of Asia and the Pacific and the role of literary culture in modern Australian society Searching for Normal in the Wake of the Liberian War Sharon Alane Abramowitz, 2014-07-03 At the end of Liberia's thirteen year civil war the devastated population struggled to rebuild their country and come to terms with their experiences of violence During the first decade of postwar reconstruction hundreds of humanitarian organizations created programs that were intended to heal trauma prevent gendered violence rehabilitate former soldiers and provide psychosocial care to the transitioning populace But the implementation of these programs was not always suited to the specific mental health needs of the population or easily reconciled with the broader aims of reconstruction and humanitarian peacekeeping and psychiatric treatment was sometimes ignored or unevenly integrated into postconflict humanitarian health care delivery Searching for Normal in the Wake of the Liberian War explores the human experience of the massive apparatus of trauma healing and psychosocial interventions during the first five years of postwar reconstruction Sharon Alane Abramowitz draws on extensive fieldwork among the government officials humanitarian leaders and an often overlooked population of Liberian NGO employees to examine the structure and impact of the mental health care interventions in particular the ways they were promised to work with peacekeeping and reconstruction and how the reach and effectiveness of these promises can be measured From this courageous ethnography emerges a geography of trauma and the ways it shapes the lives of those who give and receive care in postwar Liberia Global Collaboration: Intercultural Experiences and Learning Martine Cardel Gertsen, 2012-05-15 Offers qualitative studies of collaboration processes conducted in globalising companies based in Denmark and with subsidiaries in Asia It addresses the specific contexts of collaboration and studies how people with different cultural backgrounds work together both face to face and in the virtual workplace Going First Class? Vered Amit, 2007-05-01 People travel as never before However anthropological research has tended to focus primarily on either labor migration or on tourism In contrast this collection of essays explores a diversity of circumstances and impetuses towards contemporary mobility It ranges from expatriates to peripatetic professionals to middle class migrants in search of extended educational and career opportunities to people seeking self development through travel either by moving after retirement or visiting educational retreats These situations however converge in the significant resources variously of finances time credentials or skills which these voyagers are able to call on in embarking on their respective journeys Accordingly this volume seeks to tease out the scope and implications of the relatively privileged circumstances under which these voyages are being undertaken

Travel, Tourism and Identity Gabriel R. Ricci, 2015-06-01 Travel Tourism and Identity addresses the psychological and social adjustments that occur when people make contact with others outside their social cultural or linguistic groups Whether such contact is the result of tourism seeking exile or relocating abroad the volume s contributors demonstrate how one s identity cultural assumptions and worldview can be brought into question In some cases the traveler finds that bridging the social and cultural gap between himself and the new society is fairly easy In other cases the traveler discovers that reorienting himself requires absorbing a new cultural history and traditions The contributors argue that making these adjustments will surely enhance the traveler s or tourist s experience otherwise the traveler or tourist will be at risk of becoming a marginalized figure one disconnected from the society that surrounds him This latest volume in the Culture Civilization series features a collection of essays on travel and tourism The essays cover a range of topics from historical travels to modern social identities They discuss ancient travels contemporary travels in Europe Africa and sustainable eco tourism and the politics of tourism Essays also address experiences of Grenada s Spice Island identity and the effects of globalization and migrations on personal identity

South Pacific Handbook David Stanley, 1996 Whether it s the legends about breadfruit trees or ghosts inhabiting inland Tahiti the endangered delicacies to avoid or the gift giving protocol when invited to a local s home how to tour a vanilla plantation on Raiatea or when to find the Noum a flame trees catch fire in hues of red and orange South Pacific Handbook covers everything about this region of boundless ocean and scarce land Drawing on two decades of editions and incorporating the comments of countless previous readers this user friendly guide extends beyond the hot spots and steers readers off the beaten path throughout Polynesia and Melanesia

Expatriates in China I. Boncori, 2013-08-08 Focuses on the individual experiences of Western expatriates in China by merging academic knowledge and real life testimonials given by interviewees The author also draws on her own experience of living and working in China to explore a range of challenges and opportunities met by Western expatriates

A New Vision, a New Heart, a Renewed Call David Claydon, 2005 Managing Expatriates Yvonne McNulty, 2013-07-10 Expatriation is a big topic and is getting bigger Over 200 million people worldwide now live and work in a country other than their country of origin Tens of billions of dollars are spent annually by organizations that move expatriates around the world Yet despite the substantial costs involved expatriation frequently results in an unsatisfactory return on investment ROI with little or no knowledge as to how to improve it Why is this so Drawing on more than a decade of expertise research and publications in top journals the authors provide you real solutions to achieve more than a satisfactory ROI from expatriates with rule number one being Understand expatriates themselves This book provides a practical insider s guide that reveals why expatriates seek and accept international assignments how they feel impacted by new forms of remuneration and other working conditions how international assignments fit in with their longer term career aspirations and what complications arise in terms of their families Whether you re a manager or consultant inside you ll learn what modern day global mobility is like based on the authors decade long study with nearly four hundred expatriates and their managers as well as over a hundred who were interviewed personally how it is changing and why now more than ever a hard nosed ROI approach is necessary
