Stories My Grandmother Told Me Gabriela Maya Bernadett,2022-01-11 The illuminating and deeply personal debut from Gabriela Maya Bernadett Stories My Grandmother Told Me explores culture race and chosen family set against the backdrop of the twentieth century American Southwest In a hilly Southern California suburb in the late twentieth century Gabriela Maya Bernadett listens as her grandmother tells her a story It s the true story of Esther Small the great granddaughter of slaves who became one of the few Black students to graduate from NYU in the 1940s Having grown up in Harlem Esther couldn t imagine a better place to live especially not somewhere in the American Southwest But when she learns of a job teaching Native American children on a reservation Esther decides to take a chance She soon finds herself on a train to Fort Yuma Arizona unaware that each year the Bureau of Indian Affairs kidnaps the native Tohono O odham children from the reservation and forces them to be educated in the ways of the White man It doesn t take long for Esther to notice how Fort Yuma parallels her own grandmother s story as a slave in the South the native children constantly belittled by teachers and peers are forced to perform manual labor for local farmers One of two Black people in Fort Yuma Esther feels isolated never sure where she belongs in a community deeply divided between the White people and the Tohono O odhams John the school bus driver and Tohono O odham tribe member is one of the only people she connects with Friendship slowly grows into love and together Esther and John navigate a changing America Seamlessly weaving in the present day with the past Stories My Grandmother Told Me blends a woman s memory of her life and that woman s granddaughter s memories of how she heard these stories growing up Bernadett s captivating narrative explores themes of identity tradition and belonging showing what it really means to exist in a multicultural America

[With Plates.] Emilia Richards,1877 Grandma's miracles; or, Stories told at six o'clock in the evening, by Pansy Isabella Macdonald Alden,1887 The Virgin Spy: Stories Krista Bridge,2012-01-06 From a young atheist who hopes to catch the goodness of the Christian boy she dates to a girl who decides to have her first sexual experience with a much older man whom she finds both erotic and repellent the protagonists in Krista Bridge s subtle and resonant stories confront the elusiveness of true connection and the inevitability of restlessness and dissatisfaction These stories have at their centre the unsettling dynamics of family the tenderness and cruelty of romance and friendship and the troubling ties by which we are bound to each other Like the people who populate them these stories are by turns moody and introspective sad and funny and all are steeped in the longing that defines our search for that archetypal home Most importantly they reveal a writer with a beguiling sensibility uncommon insight and a voice of promise Grandma's Miracles, Or, Stories Told at Six O'clock in the Evening Pansy,1902 Horse Crazy Jean O'Malley Halley,2019-07-01 Horse Crazy explores the meaning behind the love between girls and horses Jean O Malley Halley a self professed horse girl contends that this relationship and its cultural signifiers influence the manner in which young girls define their identity when it comes to gender Halley examines how popular culture including the pony book genre uses horses to encourage conformity to gender norms but also insists that the loving relationship between a girl and a horse fundamentally challenges sexist and mainstream ideas of girlhood Horse Crazy looks at the relationships between girls and horses through the frameworks of Michel Foucault s concepts of normalization and biopower drawing conclusions about the way girls agency is both normalized and resistant to normalization Segments of Halley's own experiences with horses as a young girl as well as experiences from the perspective of other girls are sources for examination. Horsey girls as she calls them are girls who find a way to defy the expectations given to them by society: thinness obsession with makeup and beauty, frailty and gain the possibility of freedom in the process. Drawing on Nicole Shukin's uses of animal capital theories, Halley also explores the varied treatment of horses themselves as an example of the biopolitical use of nonhuman animals and the manipulation and exploitation of horse life. In so doing, she engages with common ways we think and feel about animals and with the technologies of speciesism.

Our Whole Gwich'in Way of Life Has Changed / Gwich'in K'yuu Gwiidandà' Tthak Ejuk Gòonlih Leslie McCartney, Gwich'in Tribal Council, 2021-02-20

Our Whole Gwich'in Way of Life Has Changed Gwich'in K'yuu Gwiidandà' Tthak Ejuk Gòonlih is an invaluable compilation of historical and cultural information based on a project originally conceived by the Gwich'in Social and Cultural Institute to document the biographies of the oldest Gwich'in Elders in the Gwich'in Settlement Region. Through their own stories, twenty-three Gwich'in Elders from the Northwest Territories communities of Fort McPherson, Tsiigehtshik, Inuvik, and Aklavik share their joy of living and travelling on the land. Their distinctive voices speak to their values, world views, and knowledge, while McCartney assists by providing context and background on the lives of the narrators and their communities. Scholars, students, and all those interested in Canadian Northern history, anthropology, Indigenous Studies, oral history, or cultural geography will benefit from this critical resource.

Writing Cyprus Bahriye Kemal, 2019-10-28

Bahriye Kemal's ground-breaking new work serves as the first study of the literatures of Cyprus from a postcolonial and partition perspective. Her book explores Anglophone, Hellenophone, and Turkophone writings from the 1920s to the present. Drawing on Yi-Fu Tuan's humanistic geography and Henri Lefebvre's Marxist philosophy, Kemal proposes a new interdisciplinary spatial model at once theoretical and empirical that demonstrates the power of space and place in postcolonial partition cases. The book shows the ways that place and space determine identity so as to create identifications; together, these places, spaces, and identifications are always in production. In analysing practices of writing, inventing, experiencing, reading, and construction, the book offers a distinct solidarity that captures the truth of space and place for the production of multiple, mutable Cypruses shaped by and for multiple, mutable selves ending in a differential Cyprus. Mediterranean and world.

Writing Cyprus offers not only a nuanced understanding of the actual and active production of colonialism, postcolonialism, and partition that dismantles the dominant binary legacy of historical, political, deadlock discourse, but a fruitful model for understanding other sites of conflict and division.
