and Anxiety Stephen R. Bokenkamp, 2007-08-02 This innovative work on Chinese concepts of the afterlife is the result of Stephen Bokenkamp's groundbreaking study of Chinese scripture and the incorporation of Indic concepts into the Chinese worldview. Here he explores how Chinese authors including Daoists and non-Buddhists received and deployed ideas about rebirth from the third to the sixth centuries C.E. In tracing the antecedents of these scriptures, Bokenkamp uncovers a stunning array of non-Buddhist accounts that provide detail on the realms of the dead, their denizens, and human interactions with them. Bokenkamp demonstrates that the motive for the Daoist acceptance of Buddhist notions of rebirth lay not so much in the power of these ideas as in the work they could be made to do. Sentimental Education in Chinese History Paolo Santangelo, 2021-10-11 This is the long-awaited first book from the result of the author's pioneering interdisciplinary research on a key problem for understanding Chinese texts and therewith China: its ways of expression of emotions and states of mind. Relying on his immense database on mostly Ming and Qing sources, the author here presents the first truly solid source-based survey on the subject. After analysing the methodological problems involved, the volume focuses on contradictions between official values on the one hand and practical compromises between individual appetitive energies and personal tendencies for wealth and gratification of desires on the other hand. It analyses the negotiating process between the rigid ethical codes and dynamic social changes as well as how social control influences the cognitive elements of emotions both in restraining personal passions and promoting the virtuous sentiments. Who's Who in Contemporary Women's Writing Jane Eldridge Miller, 2019-07-23 Unique in its breadth of coverage, Who's Who in Contemporary Women's Writing is a comprehensive authoritative and enjoyable guide to women's fiction, prose, poetry, and drama from around the world in the second half of the twentieth century. Over the course of 1000 entries by over 150 international contributors, a picture emerges of the incredible range of women's writing in our time, from Toni Morrison to Fleur Adcock; all are here. This book includes the established and well-loved but also opens up new worlds of modern literature which may be unfamiliar but are never less than fascinating. Tales of the Strange by a Korean Confucian Monk Dennis Wuerthner, 2020-04-30 One of the most important and celebrated works of premodern Korean prose fiction, K'mo sinhwa (New Tales of the Golden Turtle) is a collection of five tales of the strange, artfully written in literary Chinese by Kim Sis-p (1435-1493). Kim was a major intellectual and poet of the early Chosŏn dynasty (1392-1897), and this book is widely recognized as marking the beginning of classical fiction in Korea. The present volume features an extensive study of Kim and the K'mo sinhwa, followed by a copiously annotated complete English translation of the tales from the oldest extant edition. The translation captures the vivaciousness of the original while the annotations reveal the work's complexity, unraveling the deep and diverse intertextual connections between the K'mo sinhwa and preceding works of Chinese and Korean literature and philosophy. The K'mo sinhwa can thus be read and appreciated as a hybrid work that is both distinctly Korean and Sino-centric East Asian. A translator's introduction discusses this hybridity in detail as well as the unusual life and tumultuous times of Kim Sis-p and the K'mo sinhwa.
