Essays in the Earlier History of American Corporations: Number IV Joseph Stancliffe Davis,2006 A Ruinous and Unhappy War James H. Ellis,2009 An entertaining well researched study details naval battles and coastal incursions through diaries and regional news articles on the War of 1812 New England was hard hit by the War of 1812 with Great Britain The war severely injured the maritime and commercial economy and inflamed the difference in interests between the Northeast and the rest of the country where agriculture was the mainstay The author has combed sources near and far bringing to life a drama that was international in scope but so local in impact Essays in the Earlier History of American Corporations: Eighteenth century business corporations in the United States Joseph Stancliffe Davis,1917 Two Centuries of Maine Shipbuilding Nathan Lipfert,2021-11-15 From the moment colonists at Popham launched the first ship constructed in the New World in 1608 Maine has been a shipbuilding powerhouse Celebrating the bicentennial of Maine historian Nathan Lipfert in cooperation with the Maine Maritime Museum explores the rich history of Maine shipbuilding Though concentrating primarily on shipbuilding activity in the two centuries since statehood the book begins with pre 1820 activity including native canoe making the oldest known birchbark canoe is in a Maine museum and colonial period shipbuilding Covering the entire coast this rich visual history focuses on the industry and the vessels produced highlighting Maine s national and international importance in shipbuilding over the past two centuries and its continuing relevance to national security the fisheries yachting and harbor craft Proceedings of the Maine Historical Society Maine Historical Society,1902 Essays in the Earlier History of American Corporations Joseph Stancliffe Davis,1917 The Murder of Helen Jewett Patricia Cline Cohen,1999-06-29 In 1836 the murder of a young prostitute made headlines in New York City and around the country inaugurating a sex and death sensationalism in news reporting that haunts us today Patricia Cline Cohen goes behind these first lurid accounts to reconstruct the story of the mysterious victim Helen Jewett From her beginnings as a servant girl in Maine Helen Jewett refashioned herself using four successive aliases into a highly paid courtesan She invented life stories for herself that helped her build a sympathetic clientele among New York City s elite and she further captivated her customers through her seductive letters which mixed elements of traditional feminine demureness with sexual boldness But she was to meet her match and her nemesis in a youth called Richard Robinson He was one of an unprecedented number of young men who flooded into America s burgeoning cities in the 1830s to satisfy the new business society s seemingly infinite need for clerks The son of an established Connecticut family he was intense arrogant and given to posturing He became Helen Jewett s lover in a tempestuous affair and ten months later was arrested for her murder He stood trial in a five day courtroom drama that ended with his acquittal amid the cheers of hundreds of fellow clerks and other spectators With no conviction for murder nor closure of any sort the case continued to tantalize the public even though Richard Robinson disappeared from view Through the Erie Canal down the Ohio and the Mississippi and by way of New Orleans he reached the wilds of Texas and a new life under a new name Through her meticulous and ingenious research Patricia Cline Cohen traces his life there and the many twists and turns of the lingering mystery of the murder Her stunning portrayals of Helen Jewett Robinson and their raffish colorful nineteenth century world make vivid a frenetic city life and sexual morality whose complexities contradictions and concerns resonate with those of our own time The History of Augusta Charles Elventon Nash,1904
